THE DIARIES OF EMILY THE STRANGE: STRANGER AND STRANGER

Written & Illustrated by Rob Reger

It's double trouble when Emily accidentally duplicates herself! What at first looks like the best thing to ever happen to her—two Emilys means half the time in school for each, and twice the mischief, right?—soon turns sinister. Are the two Emilys experiencing growing pains, or are they fundamentally... different from each other?

Internationally known, and instantly recognizable, thirteen-year-old Emily is a mad scientist, a cat lover, and a rock guitarist whose unequivocal message is that your greatest strength lies in being yourself. Told in Emily's inimitable first-person narrative, this quirky and irresistible tale is as satisfying as it is unique.

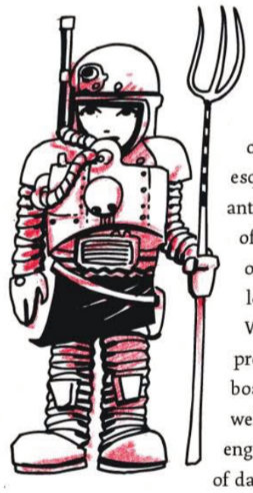
Have instructed Raven to pack up all the boxes. I really don't expect much on that front. Nevertheless, am heading outside for blessed prankery and general neighborhood goodbyes.

Later

Cats and I are sprawled out on the steps of City Hall, pretending to be protesting something. We'd probably be attracting a lot of attention if it weren't the middle of the night.

Am glad that Blandindulle's population has an early bedtime. Am future-nostalgic for that aspect of this place. Am afraid we may end up in a town that prides itself on having a "thriving nightlife." BLLLLLLEAARG*%HHH!!!!!

OK, am moving on to pranktime. Am planning a little revenge on Drew and Sherry—these ridiculous lowballs down the block who like to drive around town in the middle of the night with their car absolutely full of smoke, narrowly missing feline pedestrians. Will show them what fear tastes like!!!



Spent the next couple of hours slogging through tunnels and mapping them. Was pleased to see that they are only ankle-deep in filth, with nice picturesque crumbling walls, horribly/delightfully antique valves and manholes, and no sign of infiltration by other people. If there's one thing that really spoils an otherwise lovely sewer system for me, it's other people. Well. OK. I guess you could say that about pretty much everything I enjoy in life: skateboarding, ROCK AND ROLL, thrift stores, weird science, arts & crafts, muscle cars with engines forged in the speed-loving dungeons of darkness . . . cats . . . prankery . . . nighttime loitering . . . the outdoors . . . the indoors . . . SOLITUDE . . .

Am making a new addition to my general philosophy of life. It goes a little something like this:

> If there's one thing that really spoils [fill in blank with anything good], it's OTHER PEOPLE.

OK—enough philosophy for one night. Am now back at my original manhole and about to return to the surface. (Note: Original Manhole would be a great name for a band, if no other

Later

Have just recovered from long fit of intense belly-busting laughter at Drew and Sherry's expense. It was PERFECT!!! I'd made a special batch of invisible ink that only shows up when it's exposed to smoke. Then I used it to paint sinister faces on their car windows. Then I followed them on my skateboard so I wouldn't miss any of the action. As soon as the air inside the car got foul enough, POP, the spooky faces appeared on all the windows; and then AIEEEEE, Drew and Sherry freaked out, as expected; and then CRASH, they promptly banged into a phone pole. I called in an anonymous tip to the police and bailed.

Life is good here!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! I do not want to move.

Later—back in my disaster of a bedroom

Returned to find that Raven had packed all the empty boxes inside one another like Russian nesting dolls.

Man, Raven truly is the Amelia Bedelia of the golem world. Am irked at self for not giving better instructions.

phrases were available.) Excellent progress for one night! Cannot wait to come back!

On the downside, there are no sidewalks in this town. Everyone parks their cars halfway up the lawns. Streets are too narrow and pavement too uneven for good street skating. Will have to keep an eye out for other skateable surfaces! Maybe a nice, smooth parking lot or empty swimming pool will turn up.

Later

On the upside, there is a tolerable junk shop in Silifordville, and as a little bonus it is next door to (and shares a Dumpster with) a hardware store! They may not keep late hours like Zenith did, but a Dumpster's doors are always open to a kid with lock-picking skills.

Later

May need to get Raven back in the cage after all!!!!

I think she must have overheard me telling Mom that I was going out to get to know the neighborhood. Anyway, when I got OtherMe felt this should be enough on our part, but I reminded her of Mom's screaming hysterics, and we agreed that we will take turns leaving the bedroom, in the interest of family harmony.

We have also agreed to take turns on the Oddisee, since sitting in the same chair and trying to work on it simultaneously was NOT quite as harmonious as you might think it would be. OtherMe may be an exact duplicate of me, but she doesn't necessarily want to type the right-hand letters for me while we code.

Later

We have not been able to duplicate Raven, or tapeworms, or balled-up spiderwebs, or anything else. Looks like circuits took some heat damage during last duplication. Not to worry. We will work out the kinks and get Raven duplicated some other night.

Oddisee–Cam shot of Me and OtherMe!!

Later

Sun is coming up, but neither of us really wants to go to bed because we are having so much fun discussing fascinating topics like:

1. Do we have the same thoughts? (Pretty much.)

Thirty seconds later

Oh no. What if Raven was at the ribbon-cutting ceremony and has been turned into a gibbering loony? I mean . . . more of a gibbering loony.

Am waking Mom up right now.

Later

Just had a little straight talk with Mom. This is what I found out:

1. First off, we are blattering LUCKY that MOM didn't go to the stupid ribbon-cutting ceremony!
2. She says it has been practically impossible to buy groceries, catch a bus, or get a TV repairman out to the house.
3. Looting and vandalism are way up, and the police are too busy rounding up loonies to do much about it.
4. Mom has already taken it upon herself to check up on Raven. Let us be mightily thankful that on the evening of the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Raven was safe at home with Bebe, who was feeling poorly.
5. Gigi, however, is another story. Mom located her in a dark corner of the psych ward, where she was finger-painting with . . . well, something no one should finger-paint with, and singing mellow love songs from the 1970s. Mom says the image will be burned into her mind for all eternity.

THE SHAPING OF MIDDLE-EARTH

Written by J. R. R. Tolkien

The Shaping Of Middle-Earth is the fourth volume that contains the early myths and legends which led to the writing of J.R.R. Tolkien's epic tale of war, The Silmarillion.

In this fourth volume of The History of Middle-earth, the shaping of the chronological and geographical structure of the legends of Middle-earth and Valinor is spread before us.

We are introduced to the hitherto unknown Ambarkanta or "Shape of the World", the only account ever given of the nature of the imagined Universe, accompanied by maps and diagrams of the world before and after the cataclyusms of The War of the Gods and the Downfall of Numenor. The first map of Beleriend is also reproduced and discussed.

In The Annals of Valinor and The Annals of Beleriend we are shown how the chronology of the First Age was moulded: and the tale is told of Aelfwine, the Englishman who voyaged into the True West and came to Tol Eressea, Lonely Isle, where he learned the ancient history of Elves and Men.

TITLE TREE AND LEAF

Written by J.R.R. Tolkien
Illustrated by Pauline Baynes

A new edition of Tolkien's Tree and Leaf, illustrated for the first time by Pauline Baynes, which includes his famous essay, "On Fairy-stories," and the story that exemplifies this, "Leaf by Niggle," together with the poem "Mythopoeia" and the verse drama, "The Homecoming of Beorhtnoth," which tells of events following the disastrous Battle of Maldon.

Fairy-stories are not just for children, as anyone who has read Tolkien will know. In his essay "On Fairy-stories," Tolkien discusses the nature of fairytales and fantasy, and rescues the genre from those who would relegate it to juvenilia. The haunting short story, "Leaf by Niggle," recounts the story of the artist, Niggle, who has "a long journey to make" and is seen as an allegory of Tolkien's life.

The poem "Mythopoeia" relates an argument between two unforgettable characters as they discuss the making of myths. Lastly, we are treated to "The Homecoming of Beorthnoth" which considers the wastefulness of war following the disastrous Battle of Maldon in 991.

Tree and Leaf is an eclectic, amusing, provocative and entertaining collection of works which reveals the diversity of J.R.R. Tolkien's imagination, the depth of his knowledge of English history, and the breadth of his talent as a creator of fantastic fiction.

DARK SHADOWS NOIR

An extensive art book featuring hundreds of never-before-published behind the scenes photographs from the classic TV vampire/gothic romance Dark Shadows; Over 250 full size photographs, many never seen before giving fans a behind the scenes look at this iconic television series.

Hermes Press continues its long association with the original Gothic suspense television series "Dark Shadows" with the publication of the first-ever photographic art book devoted to the cult favorite which made sympathetic vampire Barnabas Collins a household name.

Dark Shadows debuted June 27, 1966 on ABC-TV as the first daytime drama styled in the tradition of a Gothic novel. The show was the dream of producer Dan Curtis, who brought an exciting new format to the weekday schedule of standard fare soap operas.
The pages in the volume feature images shot in black-and-white, spanning the series' earliest days – before ghosts and vampires, when Dark Shadows most closely resembled a 1940s noir film – through its final episodes. As the series took a more fanciful direction, many of the plots retained an underlying tension and tone faithful to its origins, serving up a special hybrid... Dark Shadows NOIR.

Featuring 256 pages, DARK SHADOWS NOIR features stunning full-page mono-chromatic images from the legendary television program, including dozens of previously unseen images from the archive of "Dark Shadows" creator Dan Curtis Productions.

For 1,225 episodes, "Dark Shadows" thrilled over 20 million viewers during its five-year run with imaginative stories devoted to hidden mysteries, lost loves, time travel and supernatural characters. Late creator-executive producer Dan Curtis drew upon classic mystery, horror and romance tales ranging from "Jane Eyre" and "The Crucible" to "Wuthering Heights" to "Turn of the Screw" to enthrall captivated audiences.

The ground-break sets, elaborate costumes and atmospheric lighting depicted on the series will be on stunning display in DARK SHADOWS NOIR with all images scanned in high resolution from original 35mm negatives and vintage fiber prints for rich CMYK reproduction of superior quality.

DARK SHADOWS NOIR will serve as the ultimate souvenir for the 60th anniversary of "Dark Shadows" which continues to remain extremely popular via streaming services, televised reruns, DVD and BluRay releases, new merchandising and fan conventions.

Sixteen years ago, civilization collapsed. The world has reset itself into a dystopian landscape where only the law of the strongest rules. A man from a now decimated humanity and a young girl with no past, two unlikely companions, united by chance and a bond they do not yet recognize, are hunted through the cruel and ruthless expanses of the Territory, racing toward a common destiny neither of them could have anticipate. It's Lone Wolf and Cub meets The Road in this all-too-possible near future tale of redemption and revenge. From Eisner Award winner JOE PRUETT (VIKING MOON, KILROY IS HERE, Cable), and legendary French artist PHILIPPE XAVIER (Tango, Conquistador, and The Serpent and the Coyote trilogy).

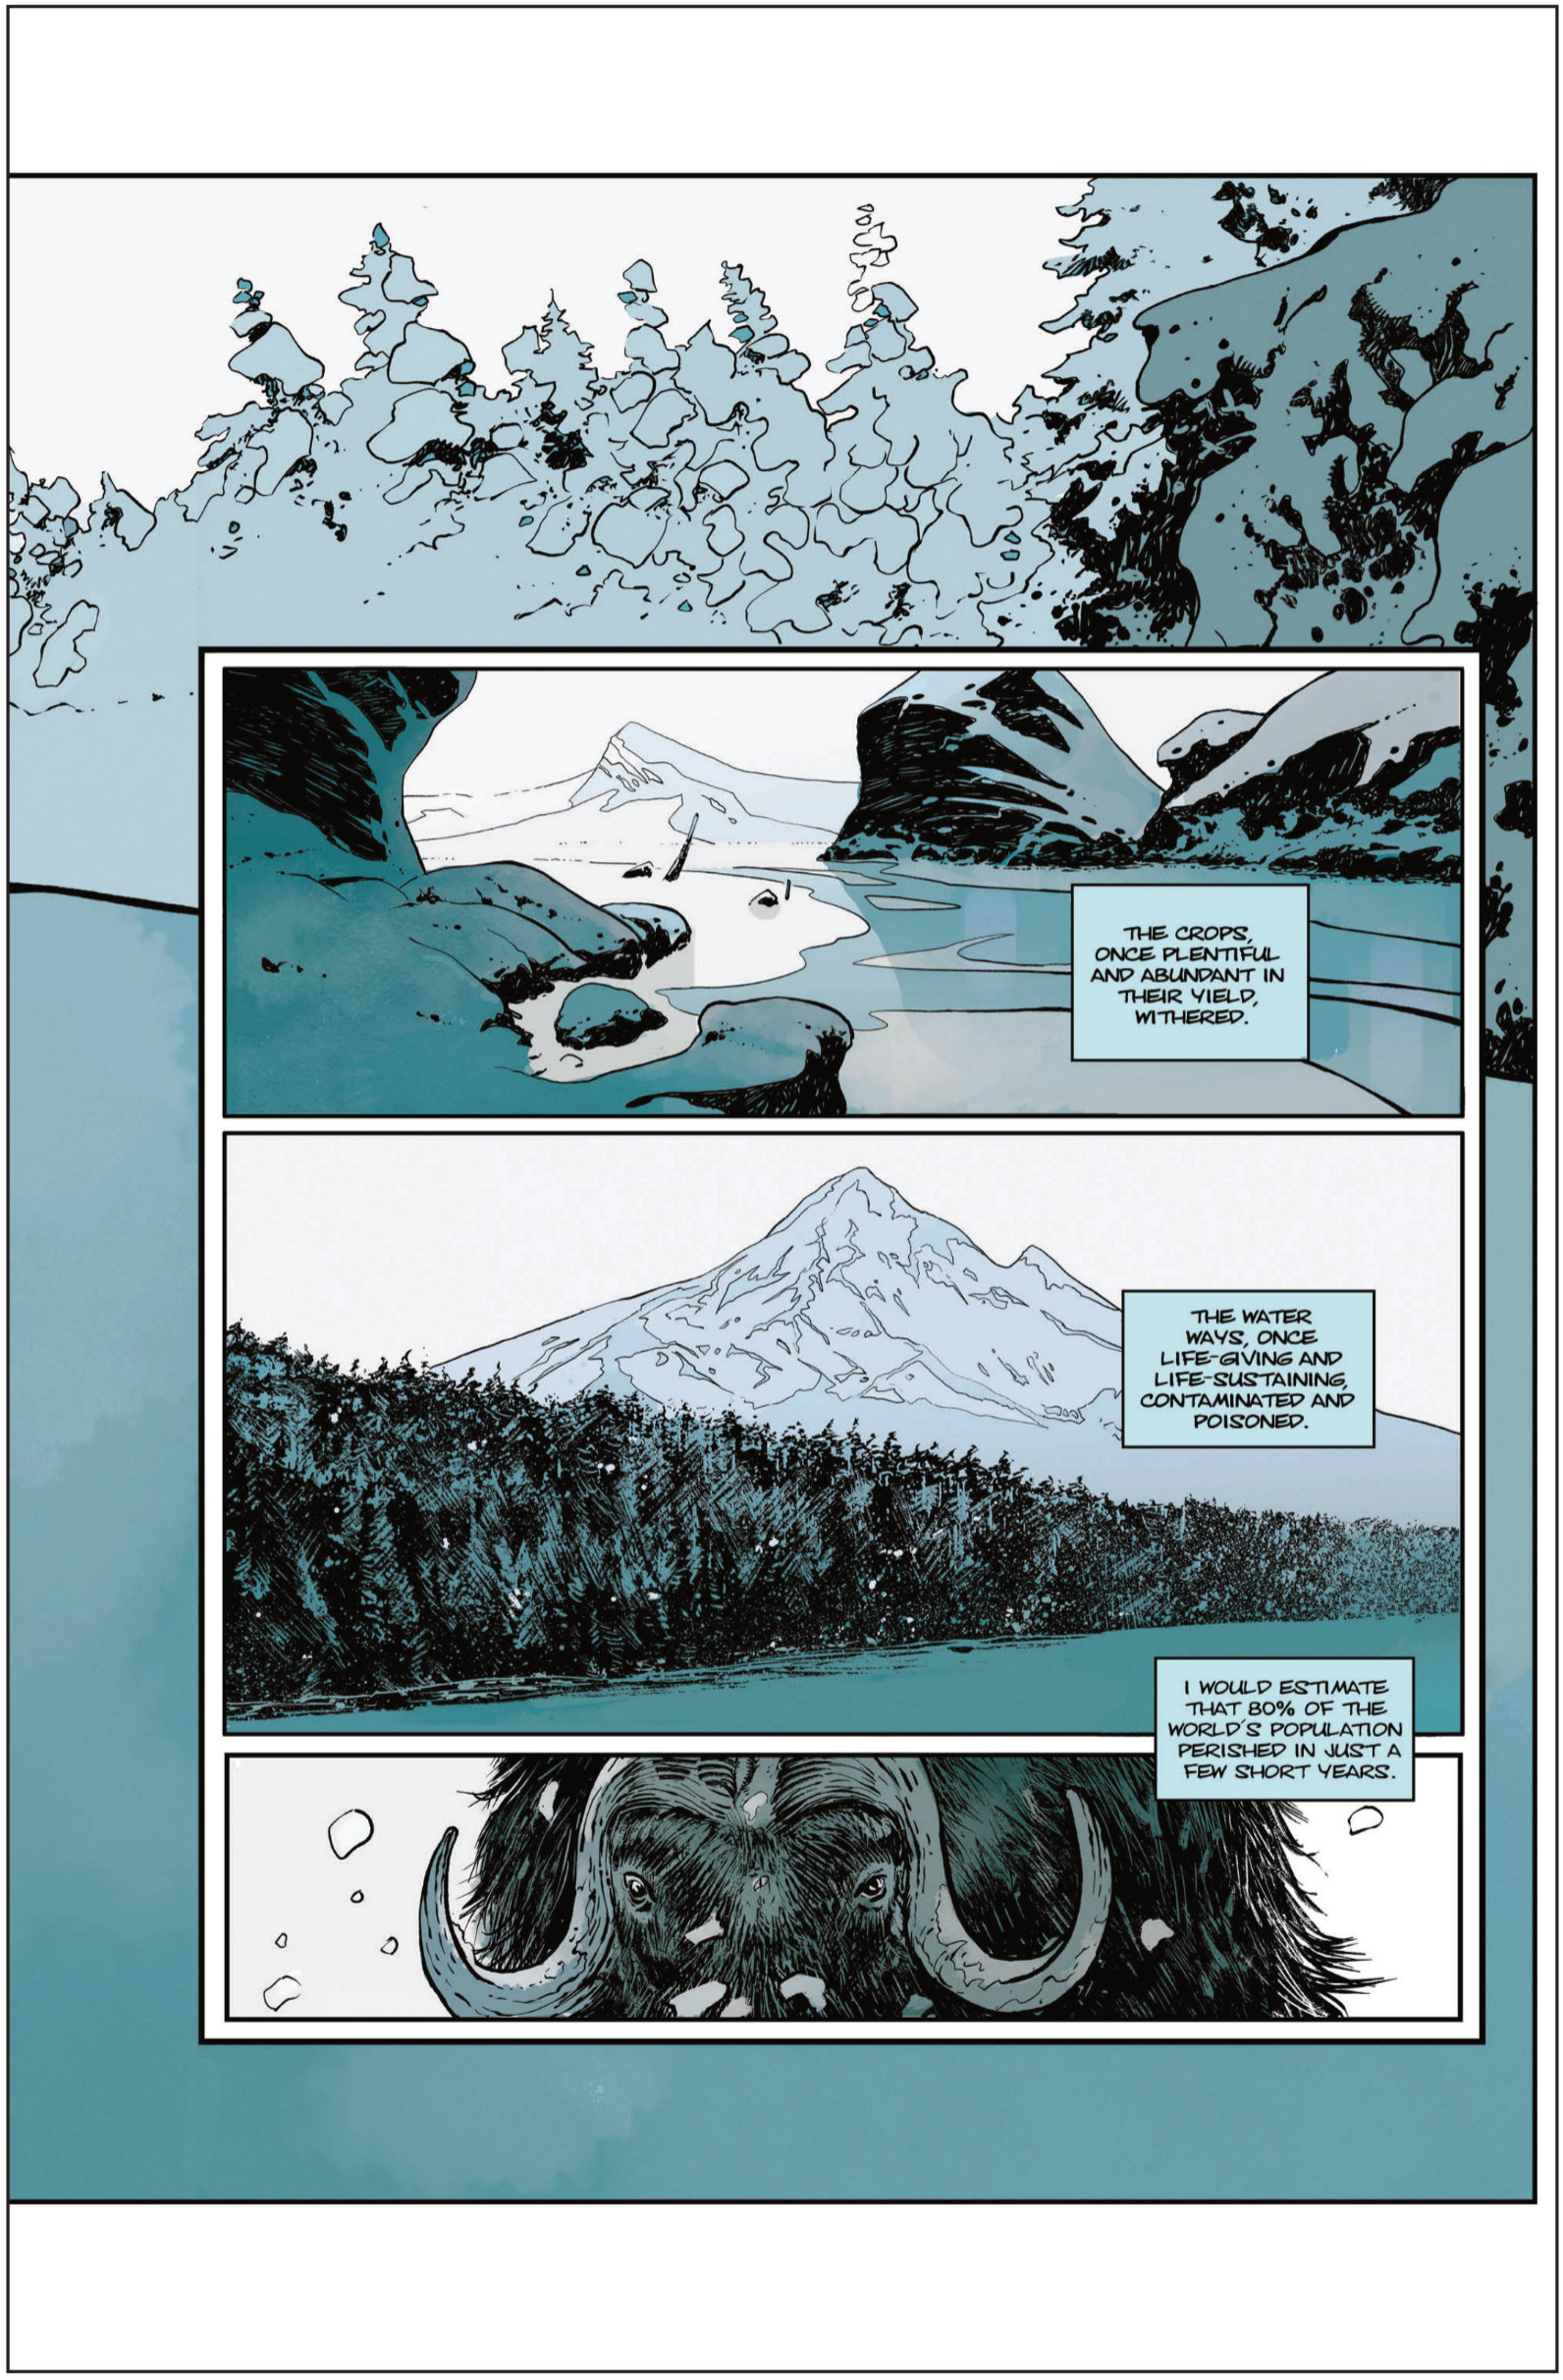
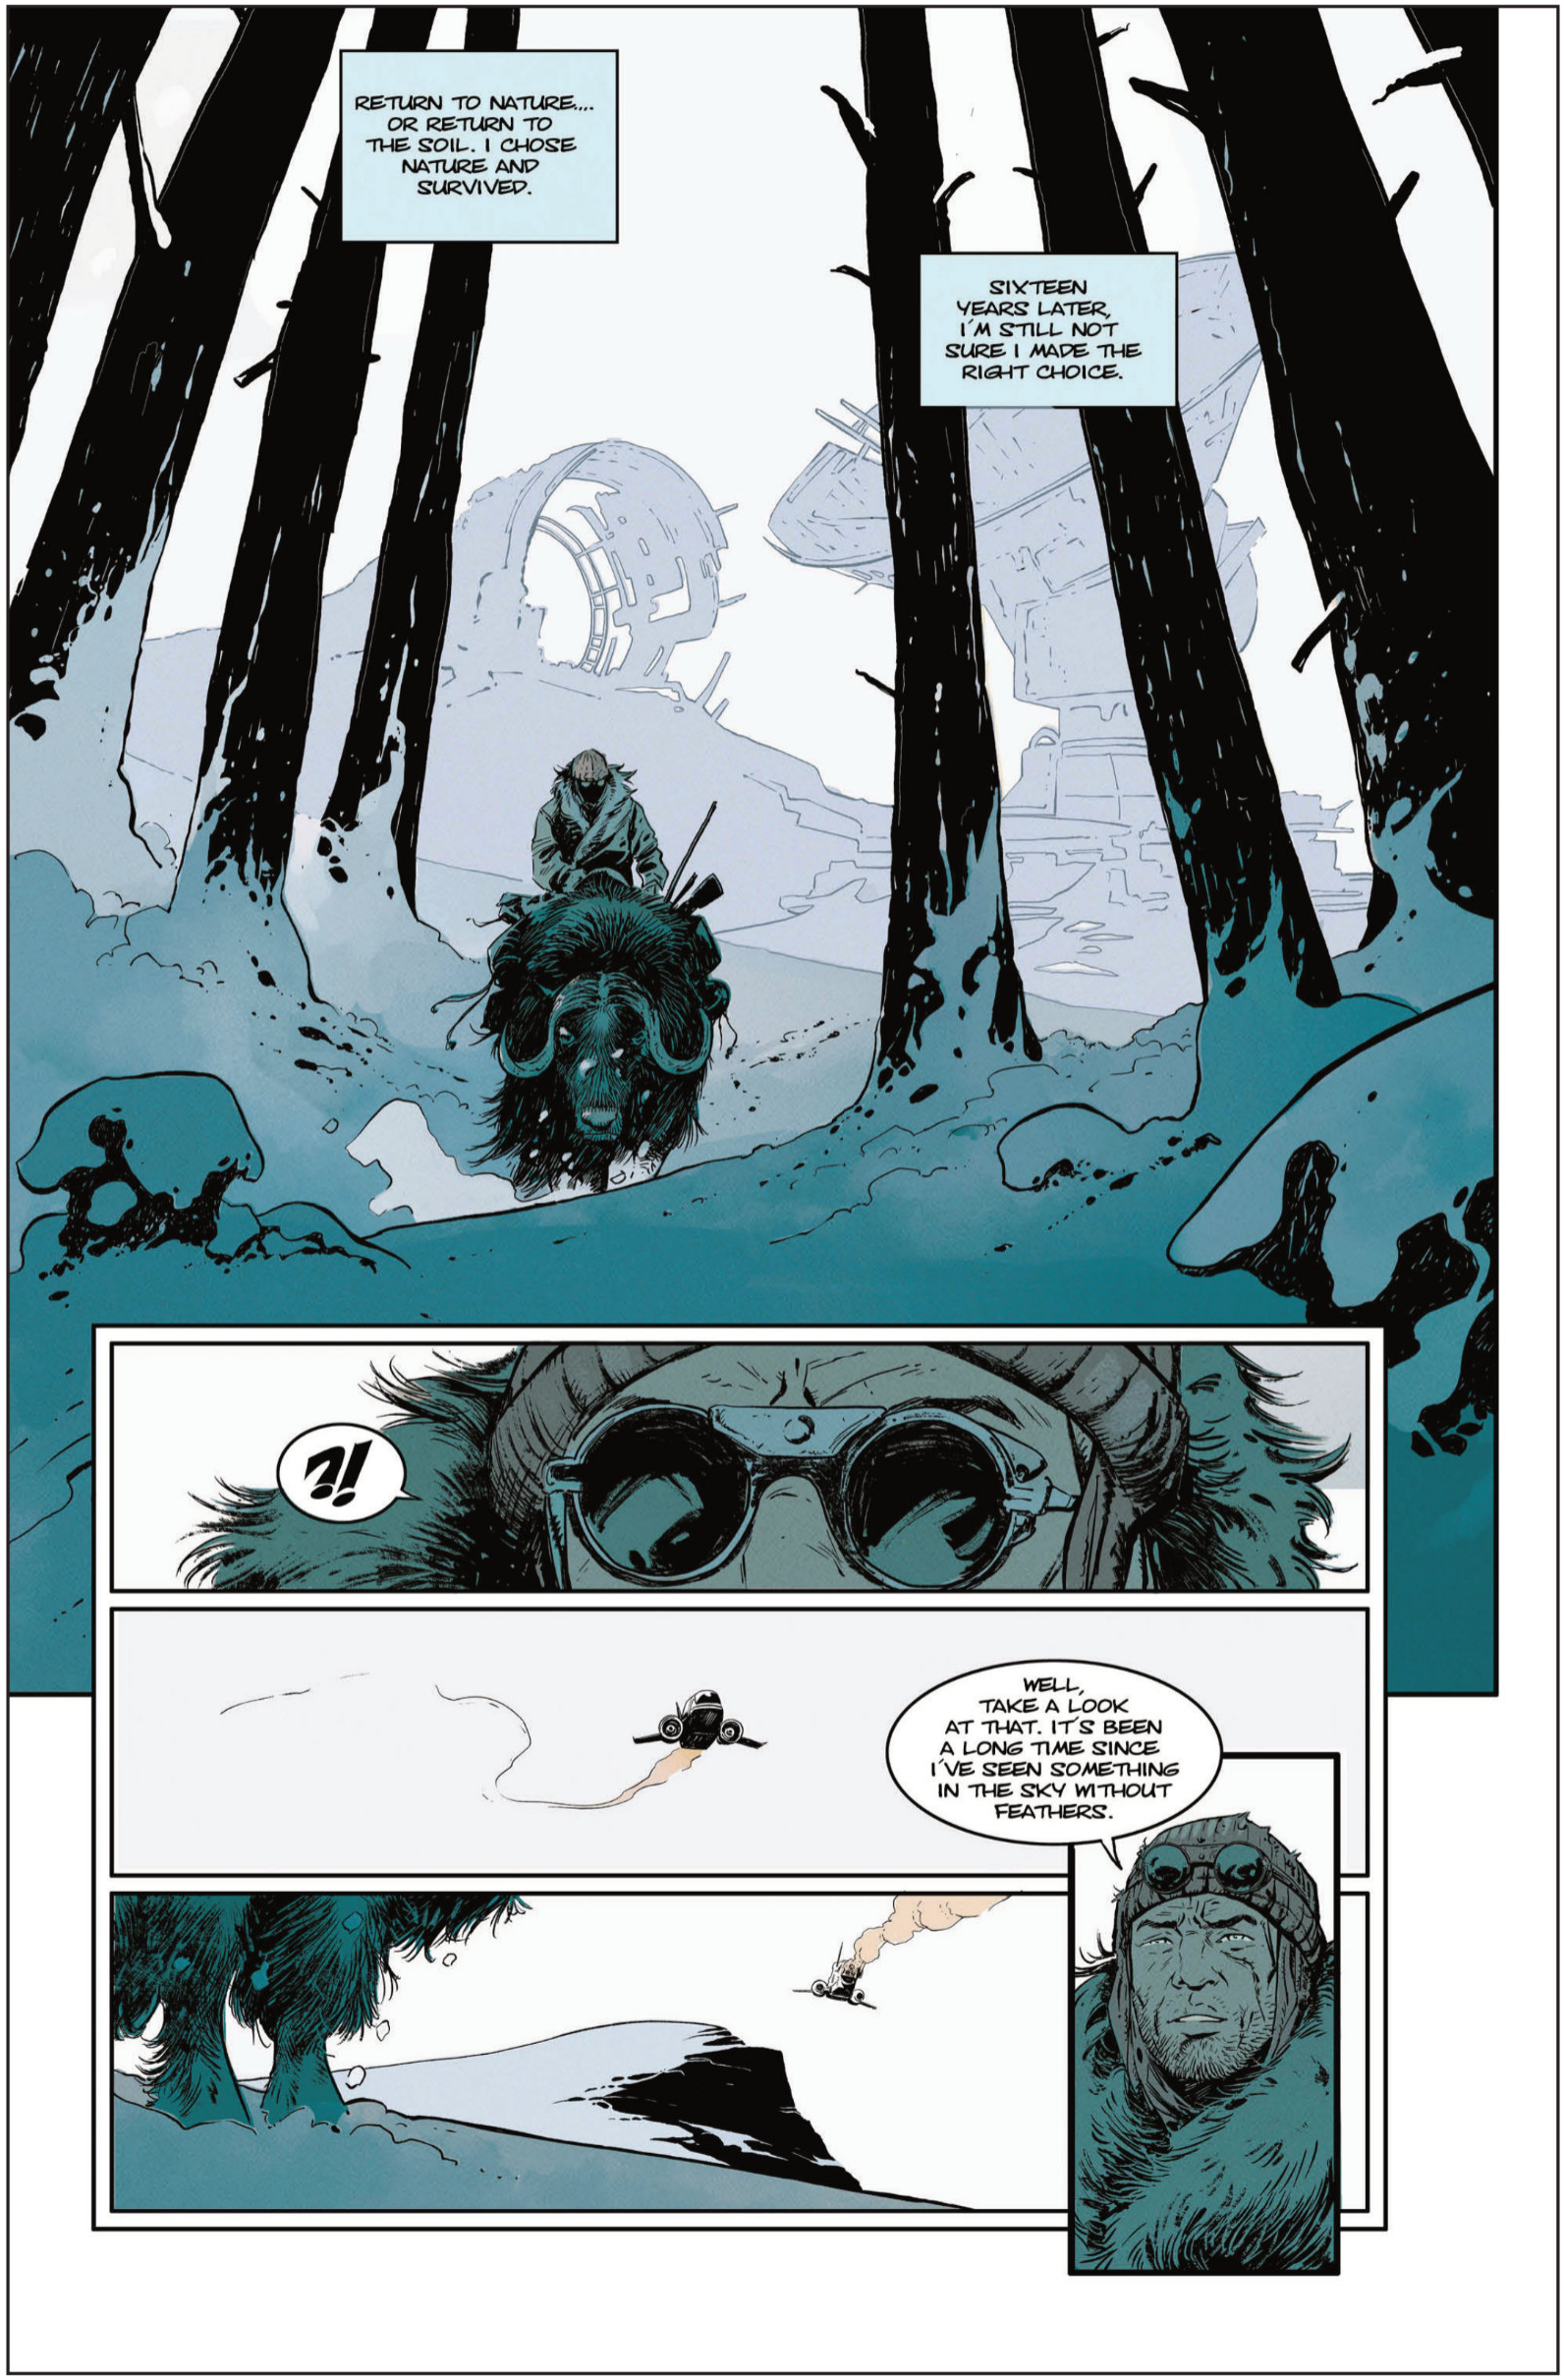
THE WORLD ENDED IN 2038.
WELL, NOT LITERALLY, BUT, FOR ALL INTENTS AND PURPOSES, IT MIGHT AS WELL HAVE.
NO ONE REALLY KNOWS WHAT HAPPENED, WHY SOCIETY COLLAPSED. IT JUST DID.
CIVILIZATION, AS WE KNEW IT, ENDED.
THE CITIES, ONCE MAGNIFICENT IN THEIR CONSTRUCT, SEEMINGLY REACHING UPWARD TOWARD THE HEAVENS, BURNED.



THE CROPS, ONCE PLENTIFUL AND ABUNDANT IN THEIR YIELD, WITHERED.
THE WATER WAYS, ONCE LIFE-GIVING AND LIFE-SUSTAINING, CONTAMINATED AND POISONED.
I WOULD ESTIMATE THAT 80% OF THE WORLD'S POPULATION PERISHED IN JUST A FEW SHORT YEARS.



RETURN TO NATURE.... OR RETURN TO THE SOIL. I CHOSE NATURE AND SURVIVED.
SIXTEEN YEARS LATER, I'M STILL NOT SURE I MADE THE RIGHT CHOICE.
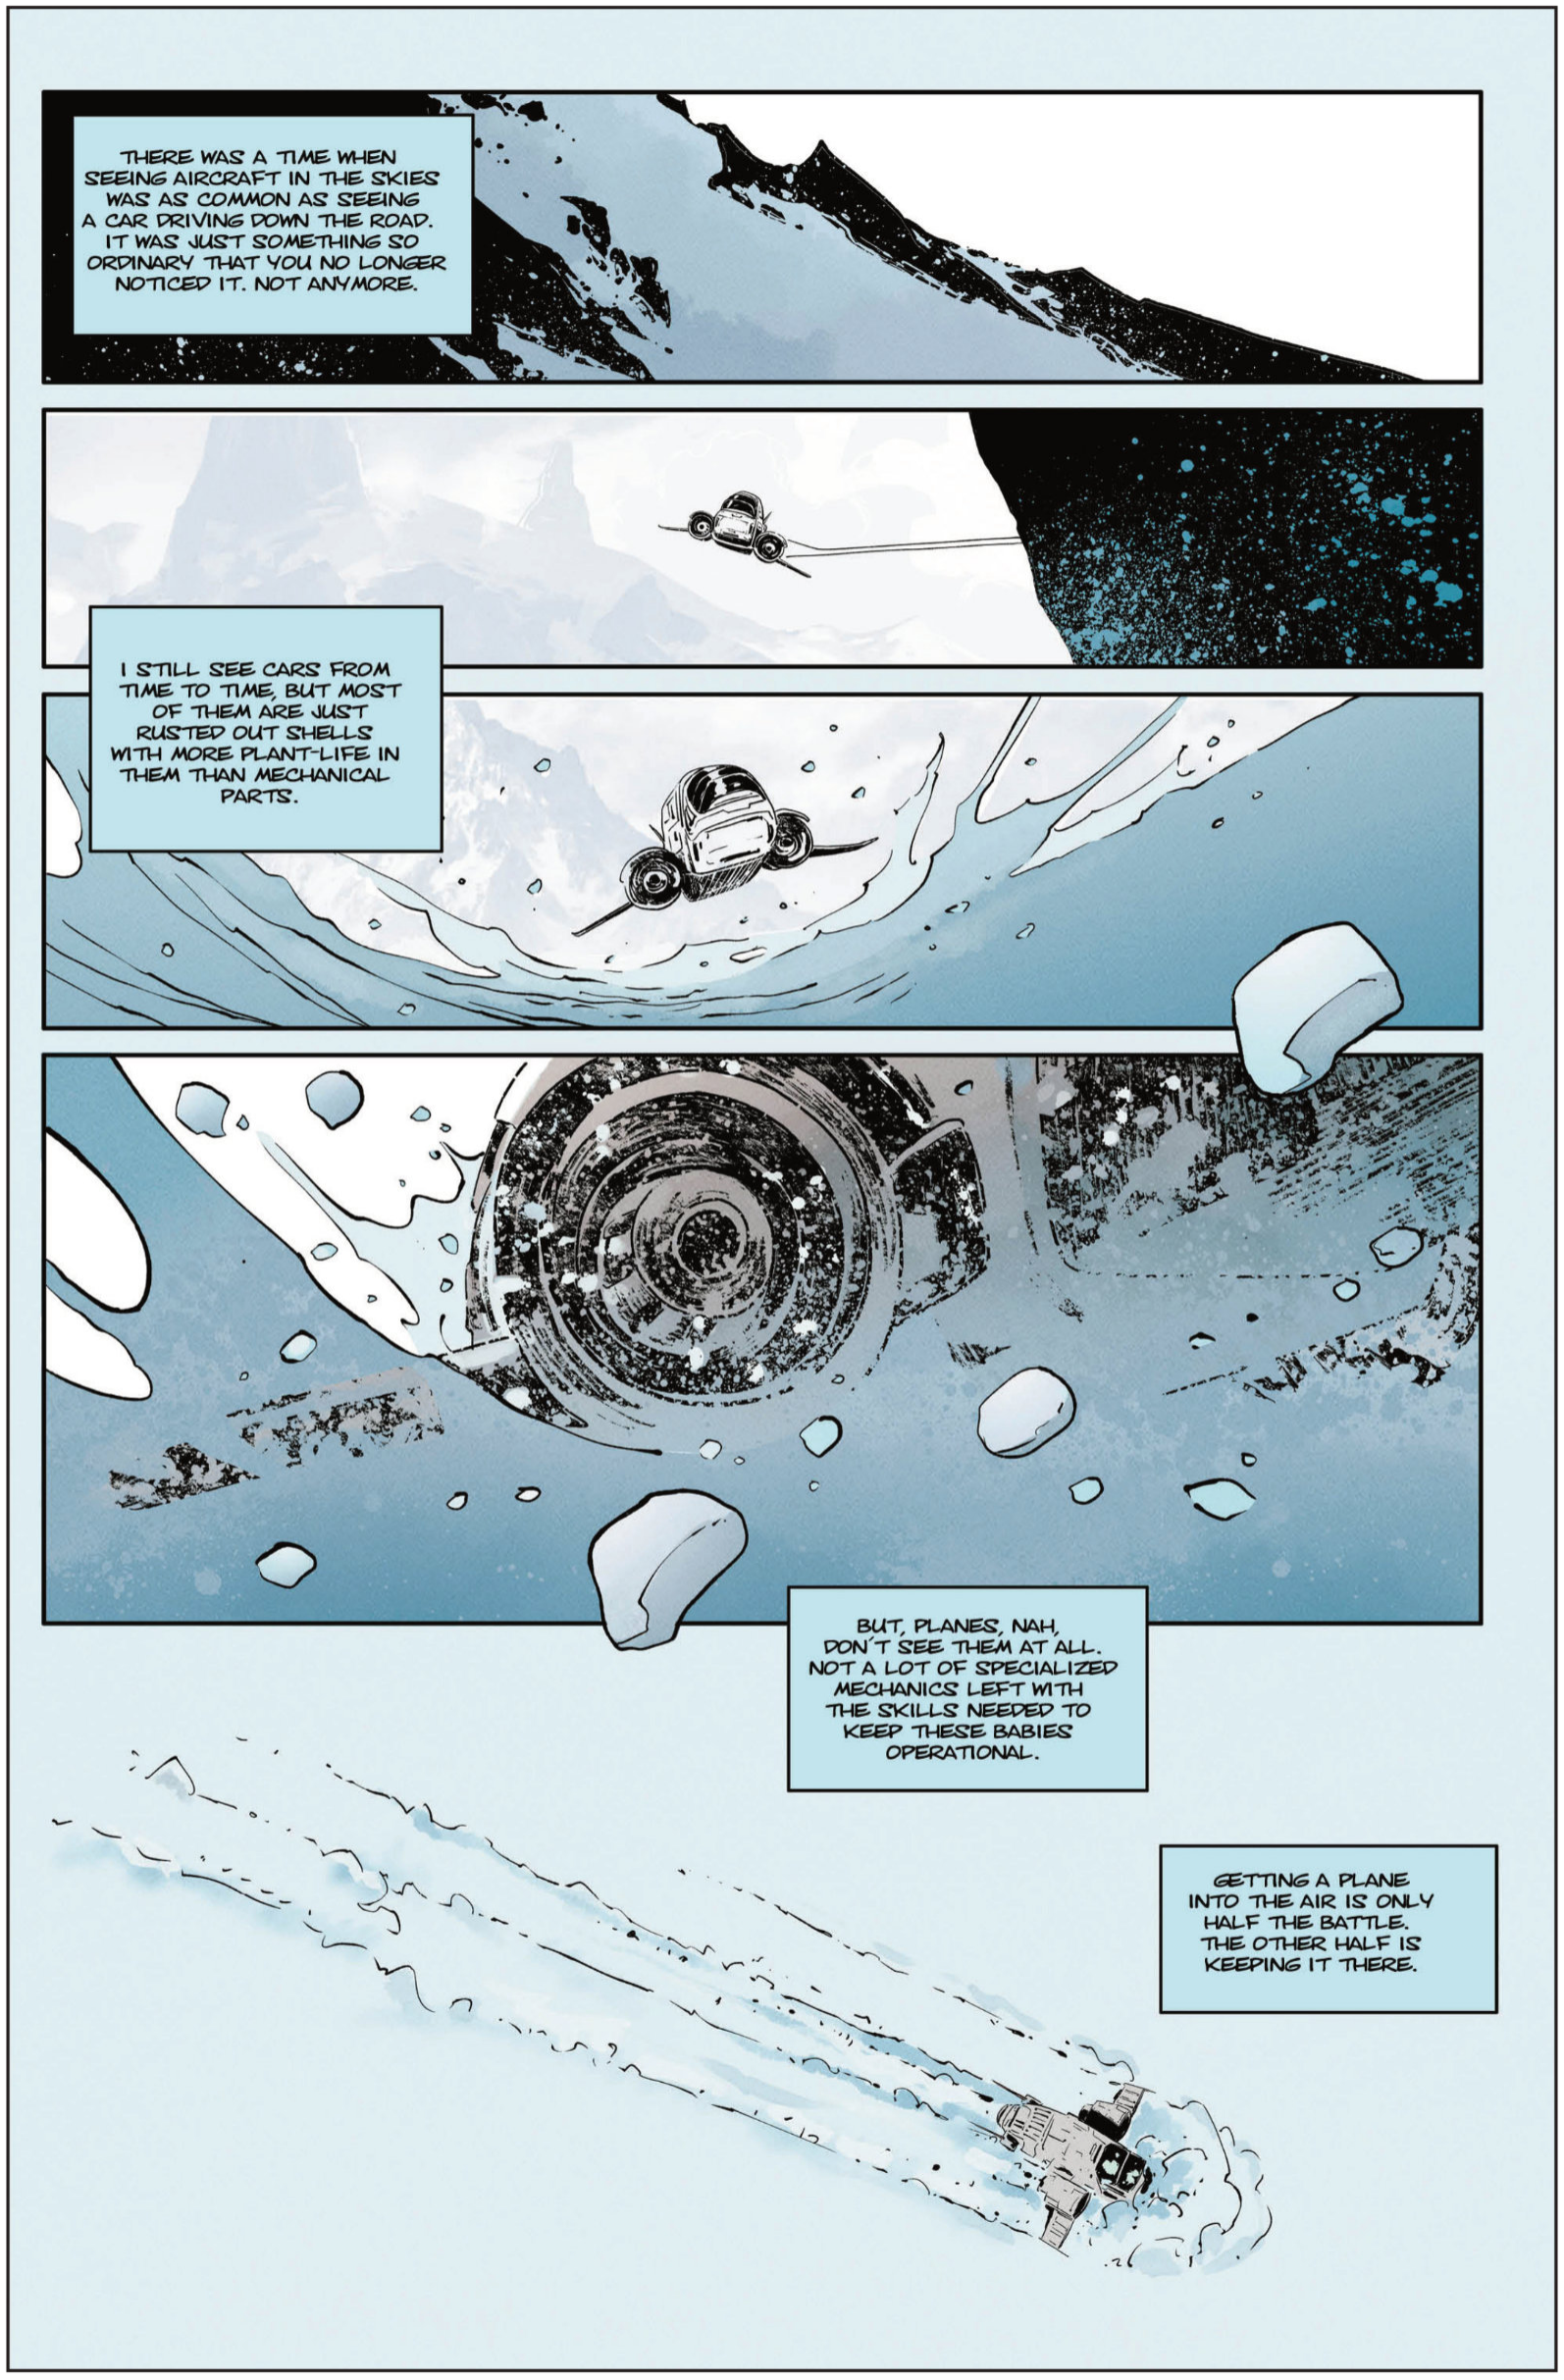
WELL, TAKE A LOOK AT THAT. IT'S BEEN A LONG TIME SINCE I'VE SEEN SOMETHING IN THE SKY WITHOUT FEATHERS.



THERE WAS A TIME WHEN SEEING AIRCRAFT IN THE SKIES WAS AS COMMON AS SEEING A CAR DRIVING DOWN THE ROAD. IT WAS JUST SOMETHING SO ORDINARY THAT YOU NO LONGER NOTICED IT. NOT ANYMORE.
I STILL SEE CARS FROM TIME TO TIME, BUT MOST OF THEM ARE JUST RUSTED OUT SHELLS WITH MORE PLANT-LIFE IN THEM THAN MECHANICAL PARTS.
BUT, PLANES, NAH, DON'T SEE THEM AT ALL. NOT A LOT OF SPECIALIZED MECHANICS LEFT WITH THE SKILLS NEEDED TO KEEP THESE BABIES OPERATIONAL.
GETTING A PLANE INTO THE AIR IS ONLY HALF THE BATTLE. THE OTHER HALF IS KEEPING IT THERE.

SECRET AGENT X-9
CLASSIC COLLECTION HC VOL.1

AUTHOR: ARCHIE GOODWIN

ARTIST: AL WILLIAMSON

LETTERER: AL WILLIAMSON

In 1934, Dashiell Hammett and Alex Raymond were at the height of their careers. Dashiell was enjoying the success of his influential 1930 novel The Maltese Falcon, and Raymond had just launched Flash Gordon, the newspaper strip that would be the highlight of his legacy. Together, they created Secret Agent X-9, starring an unnamed agent who worked for a shadowy anonymous agency—and once again, defined a genre.

Thirty years later, Hammett and Raymond's creation would find new life with the dynamic team of Al Williamson and Archie Goodwin, who rechristened the strip Secret Agent Corrigan and explored a new style of spy and adventure stories. This hardcover collection from Mad Cave Studios contains the first two years of Goodwin and Williamson's extraordinary run.
