MATCHING CIRCLE CHALLENGE

Securing music in care for the next generation.

Every new gift to the Legacy Fund is matched dollar for dollar until December 31.

Your gift goes twice as far

$100	+$100	$200
YOU GIVE	MATCHED	INTO THE FUND

The match is on now. Our Matching Circle has committed $300,000 to match every new gift, dollar for dollar, until the matching funds are used up.

What your gift secures.

In memory care	A person living with dementia, met with a familiar song instead of silence.
At the bedside	A family gathered around music in a hard moment.
On every shift	A personal support worker who feels confident using music in everyday care.

A permanent fund that's already making a difference.

The Room 217 Legacy Fund was built over several years by people who believe music belongs in care, for good. It isn't tied to one program or one year. It's an investment in the organization that makes all of our work possible. A permanent fund grows and earns income every year. That income covers the essentials, so gifts to our programs go straight to music care. Spending every dollar today would leave us fragile. A permanent fund makes us durable.

This is a gift you make now. It is not a bequest.

$850,000
in the Legacy Fund today, and growing

"When a familiar song reaches someone who can no longer be reached any other way, you see what music care really means."

Why now.

We're growing this fund from a position of strength. Our approach is backed by almost two decades of frontline experience and peer-reviewed research, and caregivers across Canada use music care every day. Some ask whether a growing charity should build a permanent fund rather than spend on today's needs. Our honest answer: the Legacy Fund is the mission. It keeps music care going for the next generation of people in care, their families, and the caregivers who walk beside them.
