Administrator's Accents

Brian Reader, Administrator

With the arrival of November, we look forward to a month filled with togetherness & seasonal warmth—and now that football season is in full swing, keep cheering on the Buffalo Bills – they play 5 games this month based on how the calendar falls!

As the holiday season approaches, we look forward to festive activities, shared traditions, and meaningful moments together. We invite families to join us whenever possible and to watch for upcoming event details and reminders. This month, we also pause to honor the courage and service of our veterans on Veterans Day.

As the weather grows cooler and the days become shorter, please remember to dress warmly and take extra care when going outdoors.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Personality Profiles

Roger and Corrina Haskins

Roger and Corinna Haskins were both born a few months apart in 1935. He celebrates his day April 22nd, and she celebrates hers on November 29th.

Roger was born to Robert and Elizabeth Haskins in Batavia while Corinna was born to Harrie and Jeanette Kelley near Fredonia, NY. Both grew up with siblings totaling eight, four boys and four girls. Both were very middle children. Roger lived his young life in Allegany County. Dad was an auto mechanic and farmer and Mom raised the kids. Corinna spent her younger years living as a child of produce farmers near Villenova, NY.

There were similar educational experiences as each attended one-room schoolhouses for a few years. Roger graduated from Filmore Central High School and Corinna received her diploma from Pine Valley High School. Roger went on to Alfred Ag Tech, now known as Alfred State College, specializing in heating and air conditioning.

The couple has been married seventy-two years. They met at a church youth convention. Corinna's best friend, Betsy, had moved away and, as providence would have it, moved right next door to Roger. They were introduced at the convention and went about their respective duties. When Roger returned home, he asked Betsy, "Where does that girl Corinna live?" They dated for two years then married. Their honeymoon was rustic, spending their first few nights together in a very local cabin in the woods with no amenities and then it was off to a camp in the Adirondacks.

Roger's work history is all-encompassing. He did a little bit of this and a little bit of that. He ultimately retired from the W. Seneca Developmental Center as plant superintendent. While her children were still young, Corinna took care of other children. Once they were grown, she worked at Brockport College as a secretary and audio-visual assistant.

The Haskins' had five children. Roger Jr. was a bishop of the Free Methodist church. He now lives in Florida. Douglas is a missionary to the Navajo Reservation and lives in Arizona. Andrew is a Free Methodist minister in Allegany County. Deborah is a nurse and adjunct professor in Williamsville. Susan, the youngest, recently passed from cancer. They have fourteen grandchildren and stopped counting great-grandchildren at fifty-two.

After retirement, the couple travelled extensively. They volunteered at various Christian camps doing whatever was needed.

They owned their own construction business, so Roger pitched in with the heating and air-conditioning and Corinna helped with various kitchen duties. They loved camping and Florida was a much-favored destination. Roger is especially proud of receiving the Energy Conservation Award from Brockport College. He reconfigured several mechanisms to save the college money.

A treasured memory for the pair was a trip to Hungary. They spent a month in Budapest helping to build a library for the Oriental Missionary Society, now known as OMS. Their lives and legacy point to a mission of service.
