Mayor Gray gave the floor to citizen Bobby Heitzman who asked to be on the agenda to raise his concern about the Dog Ordinance and what were we going to do about the dogs running around town in particular a beagle and a chihuahua. Mayor Gray responded by stating that at least 11 dogs had been called on and picked up by Animal Control according to Ordinance. By order we only respond by complaints that are formally filed. That is done online or in person at the city hall. Upon asking Mr. Heitzman if that was all, he proceeded to ask why he received warning tags about the stacked wood on property that he had assisted previously in cleaning up when there had been a building on said property that had been about to fall down for the 18 years that he had lived here. Mayor Gray said that he was in the process of addressing that situation as well however, the warning tags that were given were for the other debris on the property not the neatly stacked wood. Complaints had been received. Councilman Garold Price spoke to Mr. Heitzman to explain that he had received two separate complaints personally.

Mayor Gray asked Chelsey to read have the First Reading of 2025-03 Ordinance- An Ordinance Imposing an Ad Valorem Tax using the Compensation Rate-No action needed
