

GHSP INC. — Going PRO Talent Fund

Through a partnership with Michigan Works! West Central, GHSP received Going PRO Talent Fund award in the amount of $5,580. With these funds the company has been able to provide crucial training to their team, which has significantly enhanced their employees' skills, particularly in lean manufacturing and automation. This training has empowered GHSP employees to strengthen problem-solving capabilities, develop leadership in lean principles and master technical expertise in operating and programming Fanuc robots.

This training sharpens problem-solving skills and fosters leadership in lean practices. By developing future lean leaders, GHSP enhances efficiency, strengthens their workforce, and drives continuous improvement. These efforts boost their appeal as a top supplier, support growth, and ensure customer satisfaction and operational excellence.

Fanuc robot training has enhanced their team's technical skills, enabling efficient programming and maintenance of automation equipment. This reduces downtime, ensures timely deliveries, supports new product launches, and strengthens GHSP's position in a competitive market while bolstering their reputation as a reliable supplier.

While this training may not immediately increase wages, it enhances resumes, opening doors to future promotions. As they grow and expand product lines, staffing needs will rise, and the training will help address workforce challenges, including retirements and leadership transitions.

GHSP on training: "Michigan Works! West Central has been an exceptional partner in helping us navigate the application process for the Growing PRO Talent Fund. Their dedication to supporting our organization has been invaluable—from promptly answering questions to visiting our facility and introducing new team members. This partnership has allowed us to stay competitive, especially as a smaller company in a field dominated by larger manufacturers."
