A Letter from the President

Nick Pesina

Dear SCBA
Members,

February is here, and with it comes a reminder that even in this short month, we have plenty to focus on—whether it's professional development, community involvement, or just trying to keep your New Year's resolutions alive (we won't judge if they've already slipped), we hope you'll take a moment to plug into the great events we have coming up.

Mark Your Calendars – Upcoming Events

There's a lot happening in the coming months, and I encourage you to get involved:

- Federal Practice CLE – February 21 In just two weeks, we will be hosting our biannual Federal Practice CLE. Earn 5 hours of CLE (including 2.5 ethics hours)! If you didn't receive the email with registration details, please see Beth. Space at the federal courthouse is limited, so register soon!

- International Women's Day Celebration & CLE – March 6 The Women in the Law Section of the State Bar and the Women's Section of the Smith County Bar Association will be hosting a celebration and CLE at Pop's Wine Bar on Old Jacksonville. If you'd like to get involved, reach out to Leigh Hunt Goodson.

- 3rd Annual People's Law School – April 5 The Smith County Bar Foundation is hosting its People's Law School, an incredible opportunity to educate the public about their legal rights. Help spread the word! If you'd like to participate, contact Danny Noteware.

- East Texas Giving Day – April Support our Bar Foundation, our local legal nonprofit, during this annual day of giving. Every contribution helps expand access to legal resources in our community.

Law Day Celebration – May 12 Save the date! Law Day is a chance to reflect on the role of law in our society. More details coming soon!

With Valentine's Day around the corner, I want to take a moment to express my gratitude for each of you. The Smith County Bar Association is strong because of the commitment, passion, and professionalism of its members. Whether you're mentoring a young attorney, advocating for your clients, or giving back to the community, your contributions matter. Thank you for making SCBA an organization we can all be proud of.

Wishing you all a fantastic February!

THE SMITH COUNTY BAR FOUNDATION PROUDLY PRESENTS THE 2025 JUSTINIAN AWARD HONOREE

HON. DIANE DEVASTO

The Justinian Award is given annually to an outstanding Smith County attorney for their community service, legal ethics, and professionalism. Recipients of the Justinian Award exemplify, by conduct and by character, the morale conduct and professional traits others seek to emulate and which all admire.

This year's award highlights Justice DeVasto's groundbreaking work in the Texas judiciary, which has had a profound impact on our legal community and society at large. For more than 50 years, Ms. DeVasto has dedicated her life to the legal profession and is one of only three people to have served as a judge at four different levels of the state's court system. After graduating from Baylor Law School in 1974 and developing a successful practice, Ms. DeVasto entered the judicial side of law at a time when few other women did. She began her judicial career as an associate municipal court judge in 1981 and became the first full-time judge at the Tyler Municipal Court in 1983. She served as Presiding Judge until 1994, when she was elected to the Smith County Court at Law, where she served until her appointment to the 241st District Court. In 2003, then-Governor Rick Perry appointed her to the Twelfth Court of Appeals, the first woman to hold that honor.

"We are thrilled to recognize the incredible career and selflessness of the Honorable Justice Diane DeVasto with the Justinian Award," said Mandy Nelson, president of the Smith County Bar Foundation. "Her dedication to our community and to the practice of law is awe-inspiring. Justice DeVasto is the embodiment of what this award means and is the personification of the values we all strive to uphold in our community. Justice DeVasto is an inspiration."

UPDATE ON THE BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP INFORMATION REPORTING REQUIREMENT UNDER THE CORPORATE TRANSPARENCY ACT

Beginning January 1, 2024, the federal government began requiring certain business entities to provide identifying information about the persons who own and control the entity by filing a beneficial ownership information report (“BOI Report”).

The BOI Report is a measure required by the United States Department of the Treasury as part of its Corporate Transparency Act (“CTA”). Pursuant to the CTA, the information disclosed in the BOI Report will be stored in a secure, non-public database, available only to government officials for national security, intelligence, and law enforcement purposes.

In a BOI Report, entities are required to disclose information about the entity itself, the individuals that substantially control the entity or own more than 25% of the entity, and the individual that filed the entity’s formation documents with the Secretary of State. By requiring these individuals to reveal their identities, the federal government hopes to deter financial crimes. Accordingly, the agency tasked with collecting the BOI Reports is the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network of the Department of the Treasury (“FinCEN”).

Since the institution of the BOI Report, lawsuits have been filed around the country challenging the constitutionality of the CTA regulations that give rise to the reporting requirement and seeking injunctive relief to prevent the enforcement of the reporting requirement. In most cases, injunctive relief was either denied outright or limited to the plaintiffs in the lawsuit.[1]

In December of 2024, the first nationwide injunction was issued out of the Sherman Division of the Eastern District of Texas, beginning a chain of events that renders the future of the BOI Report uncertain.

Natalie Drott

WILSON, ROBERTSON & VANDEVENTER, P.C.
ATTORNEYS & COUNSELORS

December 3, 2024 – Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. injunction granted

The Sherman Division of the Eastern District of Texas grants a nationwide preliminary injunction against the enforcement of the CTA and its accompanying reporting requirements, on the basis that the CTA and its reporting requirements are likely unconstitutional as outside of Congress's power.

December 5, 2024 – Department of Justice files notice of appeal in Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. case

In addition to filing a notice of appeal, the governmental defendants in the underlying Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. case filed two separate motions to stay the preliminary injunction pending appeal—one on December 11, 2024 in the District Court, and the other on December 13, 2024 with the Fifth Circuit.

December 17, 2024 – District Court denies government's motion to stay the injunction pending appeal of the Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. case

The District Court stands by its initial decision to issue the preliminary injunction and denies the government's motion to stay.

December 23, 2024 – Fifth Circuit grants government's motion to stay the injunction pending appeal

A motions panel of the Fifth Circuit grants the government's motion to stay the preliminary injunction pending resolution of the appeal by a merits panel of the Fifth Circuit.

December 26, 2024 – Fifth Circuit vacates its order granting a stay of the Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. injunction

The merits panel of the Fifth Circuit vacates the motions panel's order granting the motion to stay the preliminary injunction, citing the need to preserve the constitutional status quo until the appeal can be decided on the merits.

January 7, 2025 – Smith v. U.S. Dep't of the Treasury injunction granted

The Tyler Division of the Eastern District of Texas grants a preliminary injunction enjoining the enforcement of the CTA against the particular plaintiffs and enjoining the enforcement of the reporting requirements on a national scale.

January 23, 2025 – Supreme Court of the United States stays Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. injunction pending appeal

The Supreme Court of the United States granted the government's application for stay of the Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc. injunction not only while the appeal is pending before the Fifth Circuit, but until any subsequent appeals are disposed of by the Supreme Court of the United States.

February 5, 2025 – Department of Justice files notice of appeal in Smith v. U.S. Dep't of the Treasury case

At this point, because of the injunction in the Smith case, BOI Reports are not currently due for any reporting entities. However, FinCEN has stated on its webpage for filing BOI Reports that, if the Smith order is stayed, it intends to extend the reporting deadline for all reporting companies 30 days from the date the stay is granted. Practitioners should keep a close eye on how the Smith case progresses. Our firm has taken the conservative approach of encouraging clients to continue to file their BOI Reports, even though filing is presently on a voluntary basis.

United v. Yellen*, No. 5:22-cv-01448 (N.D. Ala., March 1, 2024), granting relief as to the plaintiffs in the lawsuit only.

SCBA, SCBF, SCYLA Composite Board Meeting

We had a great Smith County Bar meeting and planning session in January! Board members from the Association, Foundation, and Young Lawyers came together to get to know each other better and to learn more about each of the three Smith County Bar groups! Facilitated by Brian Brandt, the session was a great start to more collaborative and cross-organizational work in the near future. Want to find out more? Ask away!
