TONIGHT!

5:30 PM
GYM (FAAB)

Our General Parent Meeting/Open Classroom Visits will take place with childcare available for your convenience. It is a great opportunity to meet our staff and hear from our Providence Board members to learn how you can be involved and engaged with our school.

Following the meeting, you are invited to visit your child(ren)'s classroom for a glimpse of what it looks like, now that school is in full swing. Teachers will be available for a short Q&A in classrooms. During that time, children will remain with the childcare providers so parents and teachers can speak freely. Our annual open house will occur in October, and students can proudly show parents all around their classrooms at that time.

Peace Day Prep

This month, our art teacher, Ms. Martin, has been guiding students through dot-inspired art style for their Peace Day doves - a tribute to the late Yayoi Kusama, the celebrated Japanese artist known worldwide for her signature polka-dot patterns, who passed away this August at age 97. Kusama once said her dots represented a way of finding connection and healing within a vast, sometimes overwhelming world. This is a fitting inspiration for a Peace Day project centered on unity and hope.

The children have poured so much care into these doves, and we know they'll be proud to use them in our Peace Day ceremony, carry them home, and share the story behind them with their families.
