Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Hello Friends,

One of the traditional themes for the month of September in the Catholic Church is recollecting Mary as the Mother of Sorrows. You may have even heard of the Latin name for this Marian title, Mater Dolorosa.

Within our Diocese we honor the Sorrowful Mother with a chapel at Put-In-Bay and also the Precious Blood community overseas the Sorrowful Mother Shrine in Bellevue (Fr. Scott Kramer in Ottawa was previously the Rector of that Shrine). Also, one of my previous assignments was in New Washington (St. Bernard) and Willard (St. Francis Xavier). And while I was assigned to the two parishes, my predecessor said to me, “We also have a Chapel of Ease, Mother of Sorrows.” (It is a church that no longer has the Blessed Sacrament in it and it no longer functions as a parish.)

Mother of Sorrows, in North Auburn (Tiro), was once a small country parish. It was erected to alleviate the commute to New Washington (Crawford County) in the days before the conveniences of modern roads and vehicles. Small, it had a rich history, that included vocations to the priesthood and religious life. Over the course of time, ease of travel changed and so did demographics. First, the parish school closed. Then, when the numbers no longer justified keeping Mother of Sorrows as an autonomous parish, it was merged with St. Bernard. Yet, the Diocese permitted the ongoing use of the church building for occasional Masses (including funerals and weddings) and liturgical celebrations (we’d celebrate Stations of the Cross there); and every year in October, community members organize a highly successful Fall Festival. People adjusted to the changes to both actively practice their faith and to stay connected with their original Catholic roots. Mother of Sorrows in North Auburn holds a place near and dear to the hearts of many.

The theme of Mary, as the Mother of Sorrows, reminds us that no one is exempt from the hardships and sorrows of life. Mary was warned “a sword will pierce your heart” in regard to the fate of her son. It was something she probably knew was coming, for all mothers have instincts. She also had the sorrow of not being in control and not having a home. Having to pack up and leave, in the “Flight to Egypt” (see pic) to protect the child from an evil decree was not easy. And we all know that children will at times escape our notice and may even disappear. “Losing Jesus” in the Temple must have made her heart race something terrible. Then, later, the most intense sorrow. She did not try to change the course of events for her son, because she trusted him and trusted God; but still it must have been unbearably hard to “Meet her Son” when he was carrying his cross. Then, she, with a few others, “Stood at the Foot of the Cross” to be there for his final breaths. And she felt it her responsibility more than anyone (for we remember Jesus was never married and never had a family of his own other than his spiritual family) to “Hold Him and Prepare him for Burial”. This is the famous image of the Pieta, an icon of our faith. And lastly, to “Lay him in the Tomb.” It was all very hard.

As so many say, “Faith and God’s grace” have saved and sustained us through our greatest challenges. This is why Mary, Mother of Sorrows, is so important to us. She kept the faith and made it through the hard times. And as she lives with her Son forever in Heaven to help us as our Mother she will certainly help us in any of our sorrows, because she understands. There is always someone who has been through what we have been through. Spiritually, with Mary as our Mother, we are not alone. —Fr. George Mahas—
