Twenty-Third Sunday In Ordinary Time

Hello Friends,

This weekend is the much-anticipated Canonization Mass for Carlo Acutis and Pier Giorgio Frassati. This Mass will take place Sunday morning (September 7th), at St. Peter's Basilica. This is a joyful and happy occasion for the entire Church. It is particularly meaningful to children and young adults and to any families that have suffered through terminal illnesses and maintained their hope. Both of these saints, prayerful and charitable, were called to Heaven at a very young age. They always will be wonderful and holy role models.

The children of VBS (July 2025) learned a lot about St. Carlo. One of Carlo's most well-known statements was: "We are all born originals, but many end up dying as photocopies." Carlo, like most of us, wanted to find happiness. He pursued his true loves: a devotion to the Holy Eucharist and Catholic evangelization. He shared the Good News in special ways. While smartphones were not yet available, the Internet was and so Carlo shared global testimonies about the wonders of Eucharistic Miracles. We all have to decide to be the "originals" that God made us to be. The Church and the world needs holy people conformed to Christ rather than conformed to the crowd. "Follow God's goodness for you; share it and find your happiness and change lives" seemed to be a motto of the young saint's life.

And St. Pier Giorgio was famous for saying, "To the heights!" He was not just talking about his beloved mountain climbing; he was talking about following the higher Gospel standards of prayer, good morality, and charitable generosity. Pier Giorgio lived a longer life than Carlo, but not by much. He also passed away from a terminal illness (for him it was shortly after entering into young adulthood). As painful as sickness and dying are, he tried to encourage those close to him to not feel too bad. He had faith that Heaven, the greatest heights, awaited him. "What could be better," he said. St. Pier Giorgio's funeral shocked his family. So many "strangers" came to honor the young man. Turns out Pier Giorgio paid their bills, gave them groceries, and secretly helped out so many of the "abandoned" of this world.

Among the impacts of both these saints was that their goodness and purity and faith radiated from them. A true saint (especially a modern saint) is not "pushy" or "judgy" but lives a life with a glow that warms souls. They both (not through pressure, but by their saintly authenticity) converted members of their non-believing (non-religious) family members. St. Carlo Acutis' mother was a lapsed Catholic when Carlo was born and she only went through the motions to make sure he received the Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Holy Communion, Confirmation). But those Sacraments had an amazing impact because they were planted in the rich soil of young Carlo's soul. Her son's faithfulness and goodness and the grace of God converted her. Since then, supported by Carlo's father and siblings, she has carried on the work of evangelization. She's scheduled to be there for what will no doubt be one of the most moving canonizations (and Pope Leo XIV's first) in modern Church history! —Fr. George Mahas—

"The more Eucharist we receive, the more we become like Jesus, so that on this earth we will have a foretaste of heaven." - Saint Carlo Acutis

As you may have noticed, the rectory acquired some greenery! New plants, shrubs and trees, along with new landscaping stone were added a couple of week's ago. Fr. George's directive was to ensure the new landscaping was a bit unique and low maintenance. Thank you to all who helped plan and plant!

Planted on the south side of the rectory:

"Spilled Wine" Weigela—this is a compact shrub that has purple foliage and sports hot pink flowers in the Spring. They also attract hummingbirds!

Frankie Boy Chinese Oriental Arborvitae—slow growing tear drop shaped shrub that will turn orange/bronze in winter.

Planted on the north side of the rectory:

Hakonechloa Grass—This is also known as Japanese forest grass. This is a variegated grass native to Japan and is prized for its foliage.

Blue Berry Muffin Hosta—blue leaves that change to green later in the season

Stained Glass Hosta—earned its name for the light reflecting off the yellow/gold center and the green margins.

Planted on the Front/East facing side of rectory: (south to north)

Soft Serve False Cypress (Chamaecyparis pisifera)—a compact conical falsecypress with graceful and soft fern like branches with green and blue coloring.

Hetz Midget Arborvitae—a natural rounded shrub with bluish/green foliage.

Low Scape Hedge Chokeberry—versatile native shrub that is covered with white flowers in spring. In the Fall, the foliage shows off its red and orange colors.

Hetz Midget Arborvitae—a natural rounded shrub with bluish/green foliage.

Bobo Hydrangea (Hydrangea paniculata)—hydrangea that is compact and produces large white flowers for the Summer and then turn pink in the Fall.

Sting Arborvitae (Thuja Occidentalis)—a compact, narrow evergreen that adds vertical structure to landscapes.

Planted on West side by garage:

Spirea (Double Play Big Bang)—the spirea foliage glows orange in the spring with new growth and early summer it shows its pink flowers.

Planted on West side by patio:

Daub's Frosted Juniper (Juniperus chinensis)—a low growing conifer with yellow to green and blue/green foliage.

Japanese Umbrella Pine (Sciadopitys verticillata)—A rare dwarf Japanese pine, slow growing in nature. It is able to tolerate snow loads better due to the structure of the branches.

Ann Magnolia—In late March, Ann produces purple to red tulip shaped blossoms.

Dwarf Korean Lilac Tree (Syringa Meyeri Palibin)—a deciduous shrub with fragrant pale purple flowers in the Spring.

Spirea (Double Play Big Bang)—the spirea foliage glows orange in the spring with new growth and early summer it shows its pink flowers.
