

SHAPE THE FUTURE AS AN FWA MENTOR

The FWA invites you to become a mentor for one of its three FWA one-to-one mentoring programs, one high school, one at a public college, one at a private college. Mentees are young women headed for business careers.

FINANCIAL WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Advancing All Women
in the Financial Community

Mentoring a student can be the most powerful influence on her professional future. FWA mentors are paired with talented young women, economically, culturally, and ethnically diverse, to help define their dreams – and discover the ways and means to achieve them.

FWA Mentoring Programs

- High School of Economics and Finance
- Baruch College
- Seton Hall University

How You Benefit

Impact

Help a talented young woman to succeed in the unfamiliar corporate world, by sharing your experience

Learning

Learn about your mentee's culture, life experience and tech/social media wizardry

Flexibility

You and your mentee set your schedule and ways of communicating within our "connect regularly" guideline

Friendship

Many of our mentors and mentees develop long-term relationships

To learn more about becoming a mentor contact:

Michael Taylor
FWA Associate Director of Educational Programs

mtaylor@fwa.org

"Being a mentor is an incredible opportunity and the FWA creates the perfect program for professionals to engage in mentoring. I am able to give back to others who value my experience." - FWA Mentor