

Montessori Center School Financial Aid Guidelines Effective 2024-2025

Paying for your child/children's education at Montessori Center School is an investment in their future and also a significant financial commitment for a family. MCS recognizes this and aims to provide educational opportunity for students, by bridging the gap between what a family can afford to pay and the full cost of an MCS education. It is important for you to know that MCS does not have an endowment to support financial aid. Every year we designate a small part of our operational budget to support financial aid. Therefore, the amounts of funds we offer are largely dependent on enrollment and donations to the school.

MCS does not offer merit or academic scholarships, reserving all financial aid for those families with a demonstrated need, and for strategic enrollment needs.

For families wishing to apply for financial aid, MCS uses an online software called Blackbaud Financial Aid Management (BFAM), to analyze financial data and make recommendations to the Financial Aid Committee. BFAM charges a processing fee of $35 per family. Parents complete the web-based application and submit it to BFAM, along with their 2023 Federal and State tax returns and other financial documentation. BFAM uses a formula to calculate a financial award recommendation based on the family's ability to pay. The MCS Financial Aid Committee then reviews the applications without the families' names for anonymity to determine financial aid awards. The amount of the award will be based on the BFAM recommendation, the Financial Aid Committee, as well as the enrollment needs of the school. MCS will send out award letters to families who completed the application and uploaded required documentation by the priority deadline in late March, early April to assist families in making tuition plans for the upcoming school year. Families who applied for Financial Aid are not bound by the enrollment contract they signed until they have been notified regarding Financial Aid. Montessori Center School maintains strict confidentiality over financial aid information.

Awards are given for one year and must be renewed annually based on financial need. Families must submit a financial aid application along with supporting documents each year. The priority deadline is March 11, 2024. Applications after the priority deadline will continue to be processed, as long as there are funds available to award.
