Experiences of a Principal Hydrologist

I have worked at Envireau Water for over 16 years and throughout this time my professional development has been supported and nurtured. My wish to advance my skills in expert witness work was encouraged and I went on to attain the Cardiff University Law School/Bond Solon Expert Witness Certificate. This, along with other professional development that I have undertaken, including chartership, has enabled me to develop a successful and satisfying career. Even at principal level, Envireau Water is there to offer support and foster self-directed development.

I have a varied and interesting workload, working with clients across the quarrying and mining, oil and gas and agricultural sectors. My role is now predominantly desk based; however, I get out and about meeting clients old and new, which is always a pleasure!

The flexible working environment and the people are what make Envireau Water so special. Whether they be suppliers, clients or colleagues, it is a pleasure to work with them all, and I am still enjoying my job, even after 16 years!
