Put your campfire out - the right way!

With Summer being bushfire season - putting out your campfire properly is even more important than normal (and it's always important).

Remember to ALWAYS check if fire bans are in place.

1. Allow the fire to burn down to ashes
2. Slowly sprinkle the fire with water. If there's a lot of smoke, wait a while before trying again.
3. Continue to add more water til the hissing stops.
4. Stir the ashes so that everything in the fire is damp
5. If it's cool to touch you're good to go, if it's still hot repeat the above steps again.

note: if you don't have enough water you can use dirt/sand.
Don't just bury the fire, as it can reignite - stir the in dirt/sand
