PATIENT ACTIVATION AND ENGAGEMENT

Impact Life Group (ILG) aims to activate and engage patients to coordinate care to facilitate their own health and wellness. One in three patients are not engaged in managing and controlling the negative health outcomes that are a result of their chronic condition.

Patient activation is the willingness and the ability of the patient to take independent actions to manage one's own health and health care. It entails 'understanding one's role in the care process, and having the knowledge, skill, and confidence' to do so.
