St. Eugene School

In the past few weeks, some of our nearby schools have been in the news. The discussions have centered on the consolidation of six schools. The schools mentioned are: St. Cornelius, St. Constance, Our Lady of Victory, St. Pascal, St. Tarcissus, and St. Thecla. As of today, I believe that St. Constance and St. Thecla have pulled out of the plan of consolidation.

I am not involved in the discussions with the four remaining schools. The reason for this is that St. Eugene Parish is financially healthy and can support the school. I believe that all the schools mentioned in the consolidation are good catholic schools. Unfortunately, the parishes involved do not have the resources to continue to assist the schools. As a community of faith, we should pray for our neighbors. I hope the consolidation plan works well for all those who will be affected. Parents, students, parishioners, teachers, and school staff members should all be in our prayers.

With regards to St. Eugene School, I would again like to emphasize that we have a wonderful, vibrant school that is doing very well. Our enrollment is stable; our buildings are in fine shape; we have excellent teachers and dedicated school staff members; we also have a school and religious education endowment that has generated more than $250,000 since being started in 2007. Today, our endowment has grown to more than a half a million ($521,000). I want to emphasize our endowment because the Archdiocese is very concerned with the financial health of parishes and schools. St. Eugene School is very healthy. Also, with the changing demographics in the area, I am very hopeful that we will begin to see an increase in our enrollment in the next several years. I am fully committed to Catholic Education and I know the people of St. Eugene Parish believe in our school. Dr. Patricia Brown and the entire school staff are very committed to Catholic Education, as are many dedicated parents who are making sacrifices to send their children to our wonderful school.

On a closing note, I want to point out that Dr. Brown's upcoming retirement is not a reflection on the stability of our school, but a personal decision. Dr. Brown has served as principal for 24 years, and has been in education for 45 years. It is normal that she would want to enjoy retirement. However, she has informed me that she will continue to support and help St. Eugene School in her retirement. She loves our parish and school and wants it to thrive. I am grateful for her support and the support of all our parishioners. We truly do have a wonderful school.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. George

THE MEANING OF OUR BAPTISM

Lent is the time of year that we devote to scrutinizing our lives in the light of our baptism into the death and resurrection of Jesus. Today's readings are a nice shorthand catechism of what our baptized lives mean. As Noah passed through the waters of the flood to a covenant with God, so did we enter into a covenant, a promised relationship with God through our baptism. The psalm reminds us that if we truly keep the covenant, the way of life God expects us to follow will not be a burden, but a source of love and truth. Peter's letter gives one explanation of what our baptism means: it is an appeal that we make to God for a clear conscience. How do we obtain this clear conscience? The words that Jesus proclaims immediately following his temptation show us the way: "Repent and believe in the gospel." It might be a good spiritual exercise to keep these readings before us throughout the entire season of Lent, a means to help us return to a life lived in our baptismal promises.

Prayer with Scripture

We invite you to an encounter of prayer where you can stop from the hurry of the moment and listen to God through God's Word, in silence, meditation, adoration and contemplation. In this short but intense time, we listen to a talk that introduces us into the understanding of the Word of God, which later, we reflect on and meditate in an attitude of faith, discovering what God is trying to reveal to us. The prayer is accompanied by the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament with songs to help the faithful enter more into prayer.

As the deer longs for streams of water, so my soul longs for you, O God. Psalm 42,2

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Fasting may be a priority in your Lenten spring-cleaning regimen. Almost every religious tradition recognizes that fasting is a key to heightened spiritual awareness. You know this from your own experience. When you are engaged in a hobby, painting a room, keeping vigil near a delivery room, or standing watch at a sickbed, you may simply forget to eat. What you are doing so fills you that the intensity of the action is itself nourishing. In fasting from food, or drink, or habitual behaviors, you make room for what is truly important.

Even though Lenten Sundays stand apart from the Lenten fast, you will notice traces of fasting in our liturgy. We fast from singing the Gloria and Alleluia, we fast from flowers bedecking the altar, and there may be a noticeable drop in the number of infant baptisms as parents elect to wait until Easter. This hints that fasting is a prelude to feasting, and the vigor of our Easter alleluias is rich fare after a long silence. In the same way, even a small fast—no cream in the coffee, no pepper in the soup, no radio in the car—can not only point to deeper hungers, but help us rejoice more fully in the feast when we break our fast together.

Repair

In the Sacrament of Penance, the priest offers what is called a "penance," usually a prayer or action. It is nothing severe or difficult to do. But don't think that it is of little importance. In fact, it's very important.

The penance is a small way to begin to repair the damage of sin. We confess our sins, and we receive absolution, the forgiveness of those sins. Still, the residue or consequences of sin remain. If we have been unjust or unkind, we need to repair the damage. If we have succumbed to habits that diminish us, we need to repair the damage. If we have ignored the needs of others, we need to repair the damage. The penance reminds us that a converted and forgiven heart will claim responsibility and then move forward. The penance may be a short prayer or a small action, but do not underestimate its value.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission as Catholics united in faith at St. Eugene Parish is to help bring God to people and people to God. Through evangelization, education and being of service to each other, we strive to make our parish community a holistic community in body, mind and spirit. It is our goal to develop, support, encourage and empower one another in our parish ministries, so that each person can reach their human and Christian potential. We are enthused about the future of St. Eugene and the whole Catholic Church and we pledge our participation in that future. We seek dialogue and open communication with all parishioners in fulfilling the needs of our parish. While recognizing the cultural diversities in our community, we will strive to bring all people together in Christ under a common bond of faith, hope and love.
