Love the Sinner - Yes
Love the Sin? - Absolutely Not!

There is a false mercy that is rapidly gaining ground in our Holy Catholic Church. This fake mercy is truly horrible because it leaves a person in the state of sin. When Catholics begin to tolerate and accept sin as okay, something is very wrong. Satan is getting a foothold in the hearts of good meaning people, and they are unaware of their dangerous situation.

Sin is very serious. Under no circumstances can we accept sin. The sinner, yes, but not the sin. How serious is sin? Just take a look at a crucifix. Look at Jesus dying on the cross. Jesus died for sinners out of love for us. He did not die for our sins - no. He died to take away our sins. Let us not make the mistake of accepting that which Jesus died to take away. I cannot think of a single Saint in our Church that would say sin is okay (the sinner, yes, but not the sin). Unfortunately, I can think of several leaders in our Church (some who are very prominent leaders) who do say that sin is okay, and they are couching their misguided theology under a blanket of mercy (which is really a false mercy).

If I yell at a young child, who is about to touch a stove that is extremely hot, am I being mean? No. I am being compassionate. Yet, it seems to be the case these days that if I say to a person, “Let me help you get rid of the sin in your life (which is a danger to the soul),” I am labeled as not having compassion; even though sin is vastly more detrimental to a person than a hot stove. It is a difficult teaching, but we must remember that only true compassion should exist in the heart of a follower of Jesus Christ. True compassion never (and I mean never!) accepts sin as okay. Again love the sinner, but make sure you love them enough to help them out of their sin. If you accept a person’s sin, you are not helping their soul. Actually, if you start accepting sin as okay, you are not on the path of Jesus Christ; and if your path is not following Christ, you may want to take a spiritual inventory.

Let us be true compassionate followers of Jesus Christ. Love the sinner, but hate (and I mean hate!) the sin. If you really want to help someone spiritually, you have to love them enough to help them out of their sin. Be very careful if you find yourself accepting sin. A follower of Satan accepts sin as okay; a follower of Jesus can never (and I mean never!) say sin is okay. Again, Jesus died to take away our sins. Please do not follow anyone who makes excuses for sin, or tries to tell you that sin is okay in certain circumstances. I really do not think Jesus died to take away only certain sins. He died to take away all sin. Let us not willingly take back what Jesus died to get rid of in our human nature.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. George

PEOPLE OF HOPE

Throughout this Easter season the readings have drawn us into the experience of the early church. We have tasted the excitement and zeal of the first Christians. Now, with them, we listen to the words of Saint Peter, who reminds us that when people notice that we are people of hope, we should be ready to explain why. This challenges us. Do others even notice that we are people of hope? In a world often marked by cynicism and hopelessness, do we stand out as people who offer hope and reassurance to others? In today's Gospel Jesus promises that when he leaves the earth he will not leave us orphaned. Today he promises to send his Advocate, the Spirit of truth who will be with us always. Let us acknowledge the presence of the Holy Spirit and ask the Spirit to make us people of hope.

PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL MEETING
Tuesday, May 23 - 7:00 pm
Rectory Lower Level

There will be an Open Forum beginning at 7:00 pm and lasting one-half hour. Parishioners are welcome to attend.

Prayer with Scripture

We invite you to an encounter of prayer where you can stop from the hurry of the moment and listen to God through God's Word, in silence, meditation, adoration and contemplation. In this short but intense time, we listen to a talk that introduces us into the understanding of the Word of God, which later, we reflect on and meditate in an attitude of faith, discovering what God is trying to reveal to us. The prayer is accompanied by the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament with songs to help the faithful enter more into prayer.

MAY CROWNING - MAY 12, 2017

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

The custom of genuflection is not found everywhere in the Catholic Church. In fact, it is a bit of breach of etiquette to genuflect in most Eastern Catholic Churches. If you're visiting an Eastern Catholic or an Orthodox church, the "when in Rome" rule should be adopted. Watch what the home team is doing! Usually, Eastern Catholics and Orthodox reserve a small portion of the eucharistic bread for the dying in a cupboard or eucharistic dove, but it is not a center of attention or devotion. The rule is to make a profound bow, called a "metasis," toward the altar—bowing deeply while making the sign of the cross.

East and West split years before we Westerners began to reserve the Blessed Sacrament prominently in our churches. Thus, the East never changed the original custom of bowing toward the altar. Increasingly, as tabernacles became more widespread in the West and moved into prominent placement within churches, we replaced the bow toward the altar with a genuflection toward the Blessed Sacrament when its place of reservation is visible.

In a church where the Blessed Sacrament is reserved in a special chapel or off the main axis of the building, normally you should bow toward the altar when you enter your pew, because the eucharistic table is the principal sign of Christ's presence in the church building. If you have ever participated in the liturgy of Dedication of a Church and Altar, there is no mistaking the altar's significance: it is first slathered with chrism and then adorned with a brazier billowing clouds of incense that fill the whole church as a sign of prayer and presence!

System check

Have you ever noticed how faith is like a computer? Consider how people relate to their computers. Some breeze through the most difficult program, while others can't seem to turn on their monitor with serious fuss. Just like our faith: some people walk with God in the most difficult of circumstances and others make mountains out of molehills. Yet, no matter which picture we fall into, today's reading tells us God is here to stay (rather like those unavoidable computers). Even better though, God wants to make His home us. Yes, yes, we all say, I already know that. But sometimes that "data" doesn't always transfer from our hard drive to the screen on which we live our lives. Perhaps what we need is a good "reboot" to look at our faith with a clear screen so that we might integrate it. Take today's reading as an invitation and a promise. An invitation to walk with God, to let God make a home with us. And a promise that the Spirit of that same God will instruct us in everything we need to know. (Except of course those pesky Microsoft upgrades)

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission as Catholics united in faith at St. Eugene Parish is to help bring God to people and people to God. Through evangelization, education and being of service to each other, we strive to make our parish community a holistic community in body, mind and spirit. It is our goal to develop, support, encourage and empower one another in our parish ministries, so that each person can reach their human and Christian potential. We are enthused about the future of St. Eugene and the whole Catholic Church and we pledge our participation in that future. We seek dialogue and open communication with all parishioners in fulfilling the needs of our parish. While recognizing the cultural diversities in our community, we will strive to bring all people together in Christ under a common bond of faith, hope and love.
