PASTOR'S CORNER

The Sacrament of Reconciliation Differs From Spiritual Direction

Reconciliation is a wonderful sacrament of grace. I hope more people make use of the healing and strength that is found in the confessional. God is more powerful than our sins. St. John says in his letter: "If we acknowledge our sins, He who is just can be trusted to forgive our sins and cleanse us from every wrong." (John 1:9)

Reconciliation can really help a person's spiritual journey. However, I must point out that while some spiritual direction takes place in the confessional, it is not meant to be a spiritual direction session. Confession is about the forgiveness of sin. On a Saturday afternoon, for example, it is not appropriate to want to talk for fifteen minutes when there is a line of people waiting for the sacrament. If a longer time is desired, an individual appointment should be made. Also, it is not necessary to explain sins. If a priest wants clarification, he will ask the penitent. What is necessary in the Sacrament of Reconciliation is the confession of sins.

My intention for writing this article is not to do away with all conversation in the sacrament. I am writing this article to point out that there are often a number of people waiting to go to confession, and it is important that a penitent remembers that spiritual direction differs from confession. In the seminary, a student's confessor and spiritual director was not the same person. A confessor is bound by the seal of confession and is not free to dialogue about what was said in the sacrament of reconciliation at a later time. In spiritual direction, previous conversations are often brought up to help a person on the spiritual journey. This was the very reason that the seminary did not allow a student's confessor and spiritual director to be the same person. Confession has an element of spiritual direction in it, but it is not meant to be spiritual direction.

Finally, I must remind parishioners that confessions take place from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. It has come to my attention that many penitents arrive for confession five minutes before confessions are supposed to end. Please plan to come a little earlier to make use of the sacrament so we avoid having a half dozen penitents waiting at 5:00 p.m.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. George

LISTEN TO YOUR DREAMS

God visits Solomon in a dream, and the scripture story nowhere tells us that Solomon awoke to have this conversation with God! So, still in his dream, Solomon answers God's question about what he desires most, and God grants his request for wisdom in abundance.

In our waking hours, we are much distracted by work, home, family, traffic, entertainment, and many worries. When we try to think about what we really want out of life, we have trouble even imagining what that might be. But deep inside, our real longings dwell, known to God and to the Holy Spirit. Our dreams, unencumbered by defenses, may hold clues to what our deepest needs are, or what bothers us most. They could be God speaking.

DOORS OPEN AT 6:00 PM

In the past we have celebrated the German, Italian, and Polish cultures.
This year it is our privilege to join with members of the St. Kateri Center in honoring the Native American people and their culture.
On Saturday night, July 29th, we will begin the evening at our Saturday 5:30 Mass.
Our music director, Lydia Hilado, will be joined by a Native flutist, Bill Bucholtz.
After Mass, Father George (who is part Blackfoot Indian) will lead a procession to the St. Kateri Altar at the Shaunessy Center.
Prayers and rituals to our first Native American Saint, Kateri Tekakwitha, will be followed by drumming, singing, and dancing, and traditional Pow Wow food available for purchase.
Our menu includes:
Corn soup (a secret hundred-year-old recipe),
fry bread tacos, blanket dogs, chicken tenders, savory wild rice,

You'll be invited to learn to follow your heartbeat and pray on your feet during the Inter-tribal dance.
Grand Entry of dancers into the Shaunessy Center will be at 7 PM, so plan on joining us.

PEOPLE OF THE CROSS UNITED

We are all members of the Body of Christ.
If one member suffers, all members suffer.
(1 COR: 12:26)

Please pray for our brothers and sisters who suffer persecution in many countries throughout the world because of their Christian faith.

NEW EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS

Would you like to be a Eucharistic Minister at the week-end Masses at St. Eugene? You must be a parishioner of the parish and have made your confirmation. There would be one class for you to attend before being mandated. If you are interested, please call the rectory and leave your name and phone number. Someone from the rectory will return your call.

Prayer with Scripture

We invite you to an encounter of prayer where you can stop from the hurry of the moment and listen to God through God's Word, in silence, meditation, adoration and contemplation. In this short but intense time, we listen to a talk that introduces us into the understanding of the Word of God, which later, we reflect on and meditate in an attitude of faith, discovering what God is trying to reveal to us. The prayer is accompanied by the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament with songs to help the faithful enter more into prayer.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

The achievement of the late 1960s and early 1970s in enriching the "euchology" or "words of thanksgiving" available in the Church's prayer is important on many levels. Ecumenically, it means that the Latin Rite now reflects the wealth of the East in having more than one prayer available to the Church. Pastorally, it actually acknowledges the place of the assembly in prayer, which is particularly clear in the Masses with Children. In fact, the traditional prayers of the Eastern Church served as models for our new prayers.

In the East, what we call the Eucharistic Prayer is called the anaphora, and there are three main families of anaphora. Each family has a different "recipe" for arranging the usual parts of these prayers. All anaphora have "intercessions" included, but the Churches of Antioch place them toward the end of the prayer, Alexandria prefers them at the beginning before the "Holy, Holy," and Syria puts them at the very end. One branch of the Syrian family is unique in not mentioning the words of Jesus at the Last Supper. The Roman Canon we once prayed exclusively has some connection with the Alexandrian family, but once the signal for creativity was given, all the wealth of every prayer tradition was on the table, and our Sunday Mass has been greatly enriched.

DRESS APPROPRIATELY FOR MASS

As warm weather is here, we would like to remind everyone that Sunday Mass is the most important and solemn event of the week. It is not an "informal occasion." As a consequence, the appropriate attire for Mass should be characterized by modesty, dignity, and elegance. Clothing suitable for a picnic, or for the beach, can indicate a lack of respect for the Eucharistic Sacrifice.

New frontiers

In today's world where the globe has shrunk and explorer's eyes scan the universe instead of the oceans, our children are still born with a love of discovery. Whether we're casually participating in scavenger hunts and Easter egg searches or we're researching the causes and cures of disease, humans are addicted to that sense of exploration. We thrill to the feeling of hunting until we find, seeking new horizons even in our own backyards.

God's word tells us we should seek the Kingdom of heaven with that same ardor. In His parable Jesus likens the Kingdom to buried treasure that believers diligently seek. And then, when we have found that golden reward, we joyously sell all that we have to make the treasure our own. To satisfy our explorer's hearts He daily gives us a new frontier: the Kingdom of Heaven. May we learn to rise each day in eager anticipation of discovering His treasure and making it part of our lives. And may we pass this mission of holy exploration on to each new generation

Grief Support Group at St. Paul of the Cross

The Grief Share program features biblical, Christ-centered teaching that focuses on grief topics associated with the death of a loved one. The DVD seminar features nationally respected grief experts and real-life stories of people, followed by a small group discussion about what was viewed. Past participants have related how helpful the information and follow-up discussions were to them.

Many grieving people find they are only beginning the work of healing when friends or family have returned to their daily life routines. Too often people, including Christians, tend to stuff their grief instead of allowing it to do the God-given work for which it is intended. Don't allow fear of what others may think to keep you from what could help you. Confidentiality is very much a part of this program.

Your bereavement experience may be recent or not so recent. You will find encouragement, comfort and help in grieving the death of a spouse, child, parent, sibling, other family member, or friend. No matter what the cause of your loved one's death, this is an opportunity to be around people who understand what you are feeling. You will learn how to recognize the symptoms of being stuck in grief and that you do not need to live in bondage to certain emotions. You will learn valuable information about facing your new normal in life and renewing your hope for the future.

Love in Action

"Too many people sit in front of warm hearths and full tables, asking God to teach them to love their neighbor. It takes no teaching to carry food to the needy or give shelter to the homeless. Do not sit and ask to be given love, get out and act love first and you will be given all you need."

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission as Catholics united in faith at St. Eugene Parish is to help bring God to people and people to God. Through evangelization, education and being of service to each other, we strive to make our parish community a holistic community in body, mind and spirit. It is our goal to develop, support, encourage and empower one another in our parish ministries, so that each person can reach their human and Christian potential. We are enthused about the future of St. Eugene and the whole Catholic Church and we pledge our participation in that future. We seek dialogue and open communication with all parishioners in fulfilling the needs of our parish. While recognizing the cultural diversities in our community, we will strive to bring all people together in Christ under a common bond of faith, hope and love.
