Environmental Division

The Environmental Division enforces State Sanitary and Environmental Codes, Massachusetts General Laws, and local regulations with the authority of the local elected Boards of Health in the sixteen towns of Nashoba's region. The staff of the Environmental Division work directly with the elected Boards of Health, and with the general public to ensure environmental and public health concerns are addressed. They consult with, advise and carry out the day-to-day work on behalf of the local Boards of Health. Additionally, the staff is available in the Town Hall of member communities and at the office in Ayer to assist the public with questions or concerns they may have.
