

LARSON'S HOME IMPROVEMENT OF AIKEN

Quality Work, Honest Pricing, & Family Values

When it comes to home improvement, finding a trustworthy contractor who delivers quality work at a fair price can be a challenge. That's exactly what Leith Larson set out to change when he started Larson's Home Improvement. With a strong work ethic, a passion for helping others, and a personal journey that has shaped his business philosophy, Leith is dedicated to serving homeowners in Aiken and beyond with reliability and care.

From Massachusetts to South Carolina: A Journey of Determination

Leith Larson grew up in Worcester, Massachusetts, and made the move to South Carolina in July 2024. His journey into the home improvement industry was driven by frustration—he noticed how many contractors overcharged for basic services, leaving homeowners with inflated bills and unsatisfactory results. Instead of accepting the norm, he took matters into his own hands, launching his own company during the COVID-19 pandemic to provide quality services at reasonable prices.

However, Leith's path wasn't without obstacles. After being diagnosed with Crohn's disease and spending eight months in the hospital, he emerged with a renewed drive to succeed. Once he recovered from surgery, he poured his energy into growing his business, determined to offer a service that homeowners could trust. In August 2023, he partnered with a friend who flips houses and began establishing his reputation in Aiken. With a strong network of friends and a supportive community, he hit the ground running—and hasn't stopped since.

Affordable, Reliable, and Comprehensive Home Improvement Services

Larson's Home Improvement specializes in a wide range of home improvement services, with a primary focus on window and door installations. The company also offers storm doors, laminated manufactured flooring, wood and composite decks, and finishing services such as interior trim work and awnings. Whether homeowners need a full-scale renovation or simple handyman services—like hanging pictures, mounting TVs, or installing trim—Larson's Home Improvement does it all.

What sets Larson's Home Improvement apart from the competition is not just the quality of work but the customer experience. Unlike many contractors who fail to return calls or follow through on estimates, Leith prides himself on reliability. "Ninety percent of the work I do comes from homeowners who have been left hanging by other contractors," he shares. "I will always return a call, send an estimate, and follow through." His commitment to treating every customer like family is reflected in his company's motto: "Doing it right the first time and treating you like family."

Expert Advice for Homeowners

When it comes to hiring a contractor, Leith has some important advice for homeowners: never settle for just one estimate and don't automatically choose the cheapest option. While affordability is important, quality workmanship and reliability should be top priorities when investing in home improvements.

A Commitment to the Community

Leith loves being part of the Aiken community, where he's had the opportunity to work with local contractors, real estate agents, and homeowners to bring their visions to life. Beyond just business, he values the connections he makes with customers, enjoying the personal interactions, shared stories, and sense of fellowship. His dedication to excellence hasn't gone unnoticed—before moving to South Carolina, Larson's Home Improvement was awarded "The Best Window Installation in Worcester for 2024." Now, he's bringing that same award-winning service to homeowners in Aiken.
