Sunday, October 11 Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Matthew 22:1-14

In another rebuke to the chief priests and the elders, Jesus recounts a parable in which the owner of a vineyard leases his vineyard to tenant farmers. When the owner sends his servants and even his son to claim his rightful share of the crops, the tenants kill all of them. With some bitterness, Jesus warns the chief priests that “the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to people that will yield a rich harvest.”

Prayer for Religious Vocations

Priest: Let us pray for vocations.

All: O God, we earnestly beseech you to bless the Church with many priests, deacons, seminarians and religious who will love you with their whole strength, be faithful to their vocation and gladly spend their entire lives to teach your truths, serve your Church and make you known and loved.

Priest: Bless our families, bless our children.

All: Choose from our homes those who are needed for your work.

Priest: O Mary, Queen of the clergy,

All: Pray for us. Pray for our priests, deacons, seminarians and religious. Obtain for us many more. Amen.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise You. We bless You. We adore you. We glorify You. We give You thanks for Your great glory. Lord God, heavenly King, O God almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only-begotten Son. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father: you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us. You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, You alone are the Lord, You alone, are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

First Reading – Isaiah 25:6-10a

On this mountain the LORD of hosts will provide for all peoples, a feast of rich food and choice wines, juicy, rich food and pure, choice wines. On this mountain he will destroy the veil that veils all peoples, the web that is woven over all nations; he will destroy death forever. The Lord GOD will wipe away the tears from every face; the reproach of his people he will remove from the whole earth; for the LORD has spoken. On that day it will be said: "Behold our God, to whom we looked to save us! This is the LORD for whom we looked; let us rejoice and be glad that he has saved us!" For the hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain.

Responsorial Psalm – Psalm 23:1-3a, 3b-4, 5, 6 –

I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

Second Reading – Philippians 4:12-14, 19-20

Brothers and sisters: I know how to live in humble circumstances; I know also how to live with abundance. In every circumstance and in all things I have learned the secret of being well fed and of going hungry, of living in abundance and of being in need. I can do all things in him who strengthens me. Still, it was kind of you to share in my distress. My God will fully supply whatever you need, in accord with his glorious riches in Christ Jesus. To our God and Father, glory forever and ever. Amen.

Gospel – Matthew 22:1-14

Jesus again in reply spoke to the chief priests and elders of the people in parables, saying, "The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son. He dispatched his servants to summon the invited guests to the feast, but they refused to come. A second time he sent other servants, saying, 'Tell those invited: "Behold, I have prepared my banquet, my calves and fattened cattle are killed, and everything is ready; come to the feast."' Some ignored the invitation and went away, one to his farm, another to his business. The rest laid hold of his servants, mistreated them, and killed them. The king was enraged and sent his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. Then he said to his servants, 'The feast is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy to come. Go out, therefore, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find.' The servants went out into the streets and gathered all they found, bad and good alike, and the hall was filled with guests. But when the king came in to meet the guests, he saw a man there not dressed in a wedding garment. The king said to him, 'My friend, how is it that you came in here without a wedding garment?' But he was reduced to silence. Then the king said to his attendants, 'Bind his hands and feet, and cast him into the darkness outside, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.' Many are invited, but few are chosen."

The Nicene Creed

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven: and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come.

STEWARDSHIP BLESSINGS

*“My God will fully supply whatever you need...” -
Philippians 4:19*

God really does provide for those who are grateful and generous. This is very difficult for people that don’t live a stewardship lifestyle to believe. People are skeptical and say it’s just coincidence. If you are skeptical, try living a stewardship lifestyle for just one month – be generous with your gifts of time in prayer, talent in charitable works, and treasure, then see how God provides for your needs.

STEPHEN MINISTRY

Feeling Down?

Our Stephen Ministry can help. Stephen Ministers aren’t just there for “big” crises. They’re also available for the little ones, because many times the little things can really add up. So, don’t wait until you have a really big crisis; consider Stephen Ministry if the little things have you feeling down. To find out more about our Stephen Ministry or to request a Stephen Minister, call 856-468-5536.

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.

Please consider coming out to educate yourself and others on how to identify, prevent and report potential financial elder abuse.

LIVING AS MISSIONARY DISCIPLES

Our Scripture passage for this Sunday comes from the Gospel of Matthew 22:1-14. In this passage, we read the Parable of the Wedding Feast that contains several surprises and cautions for us as disciples. Some of the elements in this parable are similar to the Parable of the Vineyard, such as the violent response of the tenants towards the Son and the response of the Master. Also, this parable shares some similarities with the Parable of the Two Sons, such as initial commitment but subsequent rejection of the invitation.

The parable ends with a surprising twist as the King encounters someone not appropriately dressed for a wedding feast and throws him out of the celebration. We need to remember that clothing in the ancient world was symbolic of the person's identity. The experience of Christian conversion was sometimes described in terms of wearing a new set of clothes. Even in our current Baptismal Rite, we place a new garment on the baptized person as a symbol of their change of life and identity. To wear a new garment, then, was a sign that the person had left behind their former way of life and that they were becoming a new creation in Christ Jesus. This imagery is developed extensively in the New Testament and is a consistent theme. This additional element of clothing and its connection to a person's identity indicates that there is more to Christian discipleship than just accepting the invitation. The need for a proper wedding garment means that a person must be living a converted life in order to remain a part of the Wedding Banquet. This is a very important message for all disciples because it challenges us to cooperate with God's grace in everyday life so that we can bear witness to the conversion that we have already experienced. It is wonderful to be invited into a personal relationship with God in Jesus Christ, but it is something else to actually conform our lives to that invitation so as to live out that relationship in everything we say and do. Our ability to remain a part of the eternal Wedding Banquet with the Lamb of God depends on our willingness to be conformed each day into the likeness of Christ. Otherwise, we are like the man in the parable who shows up without being prepared to remain one of God's chosen ones.

Think about it: How does this parable challenge me to take seriously my commitment of faith?

A NOTE FROM FR. STEVE ABOUT RELIGIOUS ITEMS

I kindly ask that parishioners do not leave religious articles in the church, the gathering space of the church or the foyer of the parish office. Many people think they are supposed to be dropped off here, but we don't have a use for them, and people don't take them. Instead, I suggest:

- Mail them back to the charity. Perhaps the charity can use them again.
- Prayerfully give them to someone else. Pray before giving them and give them in love. Some people have no holy religious articles in their home.
- Shred them. I believe that the UPS store has shredding services. Holy Cards, Mass Cards, greeting cards and prayer pamphlets can definitely be shredded.
- You can also get your name off of the charity's mailing list by going to their privacy policy on their website. There is usually a paragraph or sentence in the policy with a contact email or mailing address to request removal. I have done this with charities who have bought my name and address from another charitable organization.
- Third-class relics can be mailed back to the charity or can be prayerfully given to someone after having explained the importance of this type of relic.

Thank you for your understanding and support.
