Sunday, November 15
Thirty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Matthew 25:14-30

Jesus narrates the parable of the talents – in the story, the silver pieces given to the three men. Two of the men invest their coins and double their worth, but the third buries his coins in the ground and earns no return. The message of Jesus is that we must use to the fullest the talents we have received.

Prayer for Religious Vocations

Priest: Let us pray for vocations.
All: O God, we earnestly beseech you to bless the Church with many priests, deacons, seminarians and religious who will love you with their whole strength, be faithful to their vocation and gladly spend their entire lives to teach your truths, serve your Church and make you known and loved.
Priest: Bless our families, bless our children.
All: Choose from our homes those who are needed for your work.
Priest: O Mary, Queen of the clergy,
All: Pray for us. Pray for our priests, deacons, seminarians and religious. Obtain for us many more. Amen.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise You. We bless You. We adore you. We glorify You. We give You thanks for Your great glory. Lord God, heavenly King, O God almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only-begotten Son. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father: you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us. You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, You alone are the Lord, You alone, are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

First Reading – Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31
When one finds a worthy wife, her value is far beyond pearls. Her husband, entrusting his heart to her, has an unfailing prize. She brings him good, and not evil, all the days of her life. She obtains wool and flax and works with loving hands. She puts her hands to the distaff, and her fingers ply the spindle. She reaches out her hands to the poor, and extends her arms to the needy. Charm is deceptive and beauty fleeting; the woman who fears the LORD is to be praised. Give her a reward for her labors, and let her works praise her at the city gates.

Responsorial Psalm – Psalm 128:1-2, 3, 4-5 Blessed are those who fear the Lord.

Second Reading – 1 Thessalonians 5:1-6
Concerning times and seasons, brothers and sisters, you have no need for anything to be written to you. For you yourselves know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief at night. When people are saying, "Peace and security, " then sudden disaster comes upon them, like labor pains upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. But you, brothers and sisters, are not in darkness, for that day to overtake you like a thief. For all of you are children of the light and children of the day. We are not of the night or of darkness. Therefore, let us not sleep as the rest do, but let us stay alert and sober.

Gospel – Matthew 25:14-30
Jesus told his disciples this parable: "A man going on a journey called in his servants and entrusted his possessions to them. To one he gave five talents; to another, two; to a third, one--to each according to his ability. Then he went away. Immediately the one who received five talents went and traded with them, and made another five. Likewise, the one who received two made another two. But the man who received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and buried his master's money. "After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the additional five. He said, 'Master, you gave me five talents. See, I have made five more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities. Come, share your master's joy.' Then the one who had received two talents also came forward and said, 'Master, you gave me two talents. See, I have made two more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities. Come, share your master's joy.' Then the one who had received the one talent came forward and said, 'Master, I knew you were a demanding person, harvesting where you did not plant and gathering where you did not scatter; so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground. Here it is back.' His master said to him in reply, 'You wicked, lazy servant! So you knew that I harvest where I did not plant and gather where I did not scatter? Should you not then have put my money in the bank so that I could have got it back with interest on my return? Now then! Take the talent from him and give it to the one with ten. For to everyone who has, more will be given and he will grow rich; but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. And throw this useless servant into the darkness outside, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.'"

The Nicene Creed
I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven: and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come

FAITHFUL STEWARDSHIP

"Well done, my good and faithful servant.
Since you have been faithful in small matters,
I will give you great responsibilities."
- Matthew 25:21

God calls us through stewardship to nurture and develop the gifts He has given us and then generously return a portion with increase. He doesn't want us to waste or hoard the gifts He has given us. He expects us to grow our gifts, to use them wisely, and to be generous with them. Unfortunately, many of us are not generous in proportion to all that God has given us. God asks us to be generous with all our gifts, especially the one that means the most to you.

Stewardship Report

Nov. 3 through Nov. 9: $20.739.28

LIVING AS MISSIONARY DISCIPLES

Our Scripture passage for this Sunday comes from the Gospel of Matthew 25:14-30. This teaching is commonly known as the Parable of the Talents. In this parable we hear of a master who entrusted a large sum of money (five talents was worth fifteen years' wages) to each of his three servants and of how each servant responded to such responsibility while they awaited the master's return. While this passage is often used to encourage the development of human skills or to praise industrious efforts, Scripture scholars agree that the real commission to which Jesus is referring is that of multiplying the gift of Christian faith itself. This teaching has much to offer us as disciples and challenges us to reflect on how well we have multiplied the gift of faith and the message of the Gospel we have received.

The Parable of the Talents indicates that there were two reasons why the master entrusted his funds to the servants. The first reason was so that the master could find out which servants were capable of taking on even greater responsibilities. Of interesting note, it is because of this parable that the English word "talent" has come to mean "capability". Sometimes we do not discover our capabilities until we are faced with a challenge. After gaining self-confidence with smaller responsibilities, we are ready and willing to take on greater ones. One message for discipleship, then, is that we should be courageous in accepting challenges that take us beyond our comfort zone when it comes to witnessing our faith and sharing the message of the Gospel with others. In doing so, we will multiply the gift of faith we ourselves have received.

The second reason why the master entrusted his funds to his servants was to find out which ones would share his joy. This, too, is a challenging message for discipleship. God created us to know Him, love Him, and serve Him in this life and to be with Him forever in eternal life. Those servants in the parable who knew the master and served him worked diligently to multiply the treasure they received so as to return it with manifold increase. Such responsiveness allowed them to share in the master's lasting joy. When we share our faith and communicate the message of the Gospel to others, we are expressing our knowledge, love, and service of God as well. In doing so, we are also demonstrating our desire to share in the Master's eternal joy. God does not present us with opportunities to witness and share our faith in an effort to burden our lives but as an invitation to be His faithful co-worker in the world and His eternal companion in the next. When we see such opportunities as a blessed invitation of faithful servant-hood, we will respond with eagerness, creativity, gratitude, and industriousness.

Think about it: When am I comfortable sharing my faith? When am I uncomfortable sharing my faith?
