Prayer for Religious Vocations

Priest:	Let us pray for vocations.
All:	O God, we earnestly beseech you to bless the Church with many priests, deacons, seminarians and religious who will love you with their whole strength, be faithful to their vocation and gladly spend their entire lives to teach your truths, serve your Church and make you known and loved.
Priest:	Bless our families, bless our children.
All:	Choose from our homes those who are needed for your work.
Priest:	O Mary, Queen of the clergy,
All:	Pray for us. Pray for our priests, deacons, seminarians and religious. Obtain for us many more. Amen.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise You. We bless You. We adore you. We glorify You. We give You thanks for Your great glory. Lord God, heavenly King, O God almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only-begotten Son. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father: you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us. You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, You alone are the Lord, You alone, are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

First Reading – Wisdom 6:12-16

Resplendent and unfading is wisdom, and she is readily perceived by those who love her, and found by those who seek her. She hastens to make herself known in anticipation of their desire; Whoever watches for her at dawn shall not be disappointed, for he shall find her sitting by his gate. For taking thought of wisdom is the perfection of prudence, and whoever for her sake keeps vigil shall quickly be free from care; because she makes her own rounds, seeking those worthy of her, and graciously appears to them in the ways, and meets them with all solicitude.

Responsorial Psalm – Psalm 63:2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8

My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

Second Reading – 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18

We do not want you to be unaware, brothers and sisters, about those who have fallen asleep, so that you may not grieve like the rest, who have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose, so too will God, through Jesus, bring with him those who have fallen asleep. Indeed, we tell you this, on the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will surely not precede those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord himself, with a word of command, with the voice of an archangel and with the trumpet of God, will come down from heaven, and the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. Thus we shall always be with the Lord. Therefore, console one another with these words.

Gospel – Matthew 25:1-13

Jesus told his disciples this parable: "The kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five were wise. The foolish ones, when taking their lamps, brought no oil with them, but the wise brought flasks of oil with their lamps. Since the bridegroom was long delayed, they all became drowsy and fell asleep. At midnight, there was a cry, 'Behold, the bridegroom! Come out to meet him!' Then all those virgins got up and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' But the wise ones replied, 'No, for there may not be enough for us and you. Go instead to the merchants and buy some for yourselves. 'While they went off to buy it, the bridegroom came and those who were ready went into the wedding feast with him. Then the door was locked. Afterwards the other virgins came and said, 'Lord, Lord, open the door for us!' But he said in reply, 'Amen, I say to you, I do not know you.' Therefore, stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour."

The Nicene Creed

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven: and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come

STEWARDS ALERT

"Therefore, stay awake,
for you know neither the day nor the hour."
- Matthew 25:13

Many of us have put off doing something because we think we are too busy. We've all said, "I'll do it later when I have time." Unfortunately, too many of us apply this attitude to our Faith. Jesus' call to stewardship is urgent, in the here and now, in your current circumstances. How is God calling you to use your gifts today? Don't delay. None of us is guaranteed tomorrow.

LIVING AS MISSIONARY DISCIPLES

Our Scripture passage for this Sunday comes from the Gospel of Matthew 25:1-13. In this text we read the story of the ten maidens who await the return of the bridegroom with varying degrees of preparedness. The response of the bridegroom may seem strange and even harsh. Our Lord told this parable so as to encourage disciples to use wisely and timely the opportunities for faithful preparation while they are available. This passage offers us important reflections to guide our own spiritual preparation to meet the Lord as well. One of the important keys needed to unlock the meaning of this passage is to understand the symbol of oil. The reference to oil most likely indicated olive oil, which had many uses in the ancient world and was a prized commodity because of its usefulness and endurance. It was used as fuel in lamps to give light, in cooking to enhance flavor, placed on the skin for medicinal use, and so forth. Oil was so highly regarded in the ancient world that Jewish tradition equated it with "good works" and even with the Torah (Law). The implied connection between the importance of oil as a symbol for good works is reinforced by the connection between this parable and the subsequent text of Matthew 23:31-46 in which individual good works form the basis of divine judgment. We need to also remember that oil in this parable served to provide light. The image of light as a symbol for a life of faith that bears good works was previously used in Matthew 5:16 when Jesus said, "Your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father." This interpretation of oil helps us understand why it could not be shared. It is not a matter of the wise maidens' lack of generosity but of the inability for someone else to claim for themselves the manifest good deeds, living faith, and Christian decisions of another person's life. Our oil is that gift of divine life within us and expressions of our faith that prepare us to meet God. With this understanding we can properly appreciate how important it is to possess and treasure that gift.

Think about it: How do I know whether I have enough "oil" or not? What spiritual practices, good works of charity, or personal study manifest and nurture the flame of faith and keep it burning brightly in my life?
