Do you see this community?

Maybe it's a bit like your neighbourhood. Or mine. A place where people live, work, play, care, grumble and help each other. Where people run into one another and there's always something going on.
So take a closer look and discover what's happening.

First, meet a few people:

Find their story
There sits Toon with Anne. Since becoming a widower, he often feels lonely. Still, he tries to get out of the house regularly. Who does he meet? Who does he talk to? And where can a small conversation like that lead?

And search for Claudia and Henk. They're fed up with the litter lying around the neighbourhood. An idea takes shape. Who joins in? And what does that set in motion?

And don't forget Polek. He sees what's happening and discovers new opportunities for his students and his football team.

Follow them through the community. Who meets whom? And what comes out of it along the way?

Now zoom out.
Look at the whole community again. What do you see now that you didn't see before? Where does your eye linger? What catches your attention? And why there?

Not done looking yet?
There's still more to discover. See if you can find the following people:

- The person talking to a motorcyclist.
- The four blind men who each draw a different conclusion about what the elephant is.
- Four friends enjoying a picnic.
- Two women in sarongs.
- The neighbour putting out the wheelie bin.
- A bunch of teenagers hanging around.
- The man with the wheelbarrow.
- The father shouting
