

Results Disclaimer

- All cosmetic and skin treatments performed at That Skin Clinic are subject to individual variation. Results cannot be guaranteed and will differ between clients based on factors including skin type, condition severity, age, lifestyle, medical history, and individual biological response.
- Any images, photographs, case studies, testimonials, or examples shown on our website, social media, or in clinic are indicative only and do not represent a promise or guarantee of outcome.
- Treatment outcomes are influenced by client compliance with recommended treatment plans, session spacing, home-care routines, sun protection, and post-treatment instructions. Failure to follow professional advice may impact results and safety.
- Many treatments require a series of sessions to achieve optimal outcomes. In some cases, maintenance treatments may be recommended to sustain results over time.
- That Skin Clinic does not guarantee complete correction, removal, or resolution of any skin concern, including but not limited to pigmentation, acne scarring, ageing changes, hair reduction, or tattoo removal.
- By proceeding with treatment, clients acknowledge that they understand the cosmetic nature of treatments, the variability of results, and the importance of adherence to professional guidance.
