

Hanging Lights?

CHECK YOUR HOME WHILE YOU'RE UP THERE!

FOUR SEASONS ROOFING

As you decorate your home this season, it's the perfect time to give your roof, gutters, and siding a quick check-up!

A few minutes of attention now can help you catch small issues before they turn into expensive repairs — and keep your home shining bright all winter long.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR WHEN DECORATING

While you're putting up lights or climbing the ladder, keep an eye out for these telltale signs:

GUTTERS

Look for sagging, clogs, rust, or areas pulling away from the house.

ROOF

Missing or curled shingles, soft spots, or dark streaks can signal trouble.

SIDING

Cracks, warping, or peeling paint may point to water or weather damage.

If you notice anything concerning, take a photo and give Four Seasons Roofing a call — we'll take a look before the next storm rolls in.

DO'S AND DON'T'S OF HANGING LIGHTS

- Always make sure to use outdoor-rated extension cords and light strands.
- Use plastic clips or insulated hooks — they're safe for shingles and gutters.
- Keep extension cords off the ground and away from water or snow.

- Never overload a single outlet or power strip.
- Don't use nails, screws, or staples to hang lights — they can puncture your roof or siding.
- Don't walk directly on your roof unless it's safe and dry.

If you notice leaks, loose gutters, or signs of roof wear while decorating, it's best to have a professional inspection before winter weather sets in.

Our team at Four Seasons Roofing can help you spot issues early and keep your home in top shape for the season ahead.
