Thank you for your patience during the ongoing repair work in our church. The abatement work and removal of all water damaged materials inside is now complete. Our roofing contractors are finishing the trim work outside. Once our insurance claim with Catholic Mutual is processed and awarded, our next step will be to work with the diocese on the bidding process for the reconstruction of the damaged areas inside the church.

St. Scholastica is best known for her close relationship with her twin brother, St. Benedict, who is considered the father of Western monasticism. St. Scholastica's deep commitment to the monastic life exemplifies how individuals can discover pathways and lifestyles that lead them closer to God. St. Scholastica stands as an advocate for women in the Church, proving that their spiritual contributions are equally valuable. As the founder of a Benedictine convent, she demonstrated that women could lead a life of dedication, work, and prayer within the monastic tradition.

St. Scholastica's feast day on February 10 is a time for Catholics to reflect on the virtues she embodied and to seek her intercession in their lives. Her love for God, her profound spirituality, and her dedication to the monastic life make her a beacon of inspiration for Catholics. Honoring her reminds us to cultivate our spiritual lives, deepen our relationship with God, and embrace the powerful bonds of love with our family and community.

A Note From the St. Serra Club of Tri Cities

"Jesus said to His disciples: 'You are the light of the world ... Your light must shine before others, so that they might see your deeds and glorify your heavenly Father.'" (from Matthew 5:13-16) Be the light that leads people to glorify God by becoming a priest, permanent deacon, brother, monk or nun.

That Our Wounds Might Be Quickly Healed

ANN M. GARRIDO

Some years ago, I took a crash course in chaplaincy. Chaplains are often called on to accompany people through life's gloomier seasons—be it in a hospital, in a nursing home, in prison, or following a disaster. As you might imagine, our training involved sessions on how to best alleviate the isolation and despair many people experience in these places and situations. Pray with people? Invite them outside into nature? Make sure physical discomfort is mitigated? All of these are good practices, my chaplain supervisor emphasized, but research indicates that the quickest way to lift the heaviness many feel is to get them involved in alleviating the suffering of others.

I suspect neither Isaiah nor Jesus would have been surprised by this research. In today's first reading, Isaiah says that if we feed the hungry and give shelter to the homeless, if we clothe the naked and care for our family members in need, we will know what it means to have light in the midst of darkness, and our gloom will melt away as if under the noonday sun. Similarly, Jesus describes our good deeds as being like light, meant to be shared generously with others.

In recent years, we have seen an uptick in depression and anxiety, even among the young. We can be tempted to focus more inwardly on our own lives, our own griefs and shortcomings. Self-awareness is certainly a good trait to have! But, perhaps counterintuitively, today's readings remind us that our "wounds shall quickly be healed" more readily when we focus on the needs of others. ●

Where Urgent Need Meets Mercy & Love

PREPARES is not simply a service or a charity. It is our pro-life Catholic Church showing up. Not at a distance. Not with conditions. But with real-life essential needs, compassionate accompaniment, and life-affirming mercy and love. It is our promise that no child, no mother or father in need, will walk the parenting journey alone.

“Your help means everything, especially not being judged – just loved. It’s so scary to feel alone. Thank you for helping me and for telling me that I’m a good mom. You give me and my baby hope.”

A life-affirming Promise of Support

The PREPARES Ministry is a parish-based partnership with your local Catholic Charities providing families in need, free of charge and regardless of beliefs, the following:

Dear Padre,

Are the readings at the beginning of Mass equal to the celebration of the Eucharist?

The Mass is celebrated in two major parts: the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist. These parts complement each other in a balance of word and sacrament. In his 2004 apostolic letter Mane Nobiscum Domine (Stay With Us Lord), Pope St. John Paul II described these complementary elements. Using the story of the two disciples on the road to Emmaus on the night of Easter Sunday, the Pope likened the two parts of the revised liturgy to these disciples' journey. First, Christ breaks open the word for them, preparing their hearts with an interpretation of the Scriptures. Then, they recognize Christ as they break bread.

The Liturgy of the Word, proclaimed and preached well, allows time for silence and reflection on the wisdom offered. It becomes the necessary overture for the celebration of thanks and praise and the gift of the sign and sacrament to follow. Parishes are called to take the Liturgy of the Word most seriously and to bring it to a new level of proclamation. Pope St. John Paul II admonished all involved, but especially preachers, to cherish the word and preach it so the depths of the mysteries celebrated may be recognized and received into the burning hearts of Christians. In this context, the Scripture readings are given a prominence they didn't have in the older Roman rite. ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

In a divided and troubled world, the Holy Spirit teaches us to walk together in unity. The earth will rest, justice will prevail, the poor will rejoice, and peace will return once we no longer act as predators but as pilgrims. No longer each of us for ourselves but walking alongside one another. Not greedily exploiting this world but cultivating it and protecting it.
