UPDATE: Our roofing company's work is continuing and should be completed soon, as long as they don't uncover any unexpected issues. What will take much longer to remedy is the water damage affecting our church's interior. The restoration company we are working with does not do repair work; just the necessary demolition of the damaged areas. Once that has been completed, repair work will begin.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Our Refreshment Ministry is an important ministry to parishioners and visitors alike. Sharing refreshments after every weekend Mass encourages fellowship and is yet another visible sign that our parish is welcoming of all guests. Volunteers in this ministry set up coffee, cookies and lemonade before Mass, and serve and clean up after Mass. It is a fun ministry which doesn't involve meetings or evening commitments. There are openings for helpers, especially after the 4:00 p.m. Mass on Saturdays and the 5:00 p.m. Mass on Sundays. Please call Judy Urrutia at 509-628 -2361 to volunteer.

Today we take up the collection for the Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC). Your support helps CCC fulfill its mission of sharing the Gospel's message of hope with people in the United States using the internet, television, radio, and print media. Half the funds we collect remain here in the Diocese of Yakima to support local efforts. The other half support the communication activities of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops and other projects across the United States and abroad. Be part of this campaign to spread the gospel message. Support the collection today! Donation envelopes are attached to the enclosed bulletin insert. Learn more at www.usccb.org/cc.

A Note From the St. Serra Club of Tri Cities

"To you who have consecrated in Christ Jesus and called to be a holy people." (from First Corinthians 1:1-3) Could it be that you or someone in your family is being called to be a priest, permanent deacon, brother, monk or nun?

Behold the Lamb of God!

ANN M. GARRIDO

Of the many names Scripture provides to help us ponder the mystery of Jesus, one of the most intriguing is the name that John the Baptist offers at the opening of today's gospel: "Behold the Lamb of God!" (John 1:29).

Scripture scholars debate what John means here. Is he alluding to the Passover lamb—that unblemished lamb whose blood the enslaved Israelites were to post over their doorways? The angel of death knew to "pass over" these homes. Perhaps John was saying that by Jesus' blood, the people would be freed from death.

Or was John thinking about the guilt offerings mentioned in the Hebrew Scriptures when priests offered animal sacrifices to God as a way of seeking the removal of their sins? Leviticus mentions use of a scapegoat who would carry the sins of the people away into the desert. (See Leviticus 20–28.) Could John have understood that Jesus would bear the sins of the world?

Or did John have in mind the great constellation Aries, the ram, considered the prince of the stars of the sky, the center from whom all the other constellations were mapped in ancient times? Perhaps John was pointing out that Jesus was the center around whom heaven and earth revolve, like the ruling lamb mentioned in the Book of Revelation.

Today at Mass, when the host is elevated and you hear John's words again—"Behold the Lamb of God!"—take a moment to savor these words anew. ●

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Soon, our diocese will take up a collection for the Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC) on the weekend of January 17 and 18. Please prayerfully consider supporting the collection this year. Half of the collected funds stay right here in the Diocese of Yakima, and the other half supports the communication activities of the US Conference of Catholic Bishops and some projects across the United States and abroad.

Let me share just one example of the impact of your generosity. Social media has revolutionized how Catholics present the timeless and hopeful message of the Gospel—not only the means and style of communication, but also the type of content that best reaches the public and creates lasting impressions. When people feel lonely or isolated, they seek personal connections, authenticity, and stories of hope that show how the Gospel is a living and transformative message.

Using support received through CCC, the USCCB's Office of Public Affairs creates personal, informal videos in which bishops describe both their pastoral work and their daily lives as pastoral leaders. These short videos, produced specifically for social media, introduce the bishops and invite them to reflect on their favorite saints, the significance of liturgical seasons, and personal moments in their lives, such as their vocation stories and experiences of receiving the news that they were named a bishop.

These videos are an example of how CCC enables the bishops of the United States to bring their message of hope to the public in relatable ways that resonate and foster connection with the faithful. The CCC also supports the Daily Readings page on the USCCB website, which helps users follow along with the biblical texts proclaimed at Mass and aids their prayer and meditation on Sacred Scripture.

When you participate in your diocese's collection for CCC, half of your gift supports these national efforts, and the other half stays in your own diocese to support local communication programs that bring the Gospel to you and your neighbors. For more information about the collection and the projects it supports, visit www.usccb.org/ccc. Please support the collection and connect with Christ.

With every best wish and blessing,

Most Reverend Joseph J. Tyson
Bishop of Yakima

THANK YOU!

Communication is not only the transmission of information, but it is also the creation of a culture, of human and digital environments that become spaces for dialogue and discussion. In looking at how technology is developing, this mission becomes ever more necessary.

—Pope Leo XIV, Address to the Representatives of the Media, May 12, 2025

The 2025 Jubilee Year of Hope reminded us that the Gospel is a message of hope that we are called to share with the world. The Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC) presents a unique opportunity to participate in that mission of love by supporting media efforts to share the Gospel with your neighbors as well as people across the country. When you contribute to this collection, half of your donation supports the national communications programs of the bishops of the United States, while the other half stays in your diocese to support local communications initiatives.

Each day, hundreds of thousands of users visit the website of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) for an easy and convenient way to enrich their devotional lives with the Word of God. Taken from the Lectionary readings for each day's Mass, the Daily Readings page helps users follow along with the biblical texts proclaimed at Mass and aids their prayer and meditation on Sacred Scripture.

Funding from CCC allows this popular and valuable resource to be made available to users free of charge rather than through paid subscriptions or user fees. When you participate in the annual collection for CCC, you support the national communications efforts of the USCCB, including the free availability of the online daily readings. And your support is not limited to those national efforts. When you give to your diocese's collection at Mass, half of your contribution stays within your own diocese to support local communication efforts that help bring the hope of the Gospel to your family, friends, and neighbors!

Dear Padre,

I thought only priests and bishops should distribute Holy Communion at Mass. In my parish, the priest allows laypeople to help him, and I thought laypeople couldn't because our hands are not consecrated.

You're not the only person with this concern, so thank you for taking the time to write. The distribution of holy Communion has nothing to do with "consecrated hands." Ordinary ministers of Communion include bishops and priests, as you rightly identify, but also deacons and installed acolytes. Of the four ordinary ministers, only the hands of bishops and priests are consecrated. Laypeople are extraordinary ministers and are installed to help the priest so that everyone can receive holy Communion without long lines or wearying the (sometimes elderly) priest. Most extraordinary ministers of Communion approach this ministry very prayerfully.

Your question brings up the subject of the full participation of the laity in the Mass, which is part of a highly contentious theological discussion on social media. There is an unfortunate conflict between so-called "traditional Catholics" and "Vatican II Catholics" or, as they are often misrepresented, "Novus Ordo" Catholics. Some Catholics are led to believe that the "new Mass" is not authentic, even though it has been the ordinary form of the Mass for well over fifty years—that is, since the authoritative Second Vatican Council. Many good and faithful people suffer with doubt and anxiety as a result of this confusion. ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

Ours is a time marked by a growing search for spirituality, particularly evident in young people, who are longing for authentic relationships and guides in life. Hence, it is important that the Christian community be farsighted in discerning the challenges of today's world and in nurturing the desire for faith present in the heart of every man and woman.
