FROM BRAKE PADS TO BREAKTHROUGHS

This is real progress.

Cleveland Clinic's preventive breast cancer vaccine research has moved from the laboratory into human clinical trials. Phase 1a, 1b and 1c are complete, and Phase 2 is scheduled to open in 2027.

How Brakes for Breasts works:

Every October, participating independent repair shops offer qualifying customers free brake pads. Customers pay for labor and other needed parts, and the shop donates 10% of the brake service to the Cleveland Clinic Breast Cancer Vaccine Research Fund.
