A Season of Gratitude, Hope, and New Beginnings

Siblings in Christ,

This is an exciting time in the life of our congregation! As the calendar turns to September, there is a palpable sense of expectation and enthusiasm around the church. We find ourselves standing at a meaningful threshold—looking back with deep gratitude for where God has led us and looking forward with eager anticipation for the future God is preparing for us here in the heart of Naples.

On Sunday, August 16, we shared a warm farewell with Rev. Dr. Scott Kenefake as he concluded nearly fifteen months of faithful interim ministry among us.

Scott capped off his time in our pulpit with his thoughtful four-week sermon series, Gathered by Grace, reminding us that God's grace stands at the very center of who we are as a community of faith. We give thanks to God for Scott and Gail, and we send them into their next interim call with our prayers and well wishes.

Now, a vibrant new chapter in the story of First Presbyterian Church officially begins!

On September 1, Rev. Dr. Aaron Janklow officially starts his role as our Senior Pastor and Head of Staff. We are grateful to God for leading Aaron to us and for the faithful, diligent work of the Pastor Nominating Committee. Accepting a call to serve a new church is a big change in the life of any pastor and their family. It means moving to a new place, settling into a new community, meeting new people, and adjusting to new schools. It is an exciting but overwhelming time for them. Please join me in keeping Aaron, his wife Laurel, and their children in your prayers as they unpack, explore Naples, and begin to put down roots in SWFL.

Also, be sure to mark your calendars for Sunday, September 13, when we anticipate welcoming Aaron to the pulpit for his first sermon as our installed Senior Pastor. It promises to be a memorable morning of worship, praise, and fellowship as we gather to celebrate this milestone together.

As you read through this September issue of The Outreach, you will see that our church family is stepping into this new season with energy and purpose. There have been several facilities projects that are happening around our campus. We are working on landscaping in our parking lot, replacing air conditioning units to keep us cool, and we have upgraded our internet service to ensure a better and more consistent livestreaming experience for worship and other special events.

I'm grateful to serve such a vibrant church full of faithful disciples who are welcoming, caring, and generous people. Times of transition can be hard, but they remind us that while seasons change, God's faithfulness remains constant. I am eager to live into the future God has planned for us, and I look forward to worshipping alongside you as we walk side-by-side into this new season of life for our church.

Peace,

Rex Childs

Fall Financial Update

As always, thank you for your continued financial support of the First Presbyterian Church of Naples and our mission over the summer months! We've had so many planned and unplanned projects this summer, so your support means even more during these low-attendance months as we finalize our work and prepare for a full house this season!

Fall is right around the corner, and we are feverishly working to finish up our summer projects. Expect to feel refreshed as our new AC units cool the sanctuary and Spencer Hall kitchen! We've also done roof repairs and a few bee removals. Apparently the bees love our church as well! When parking, you will notice more room, as we removed the hedges along the west end of the parking lot and re-lined it to use the space more efficiently. Be sure to check out the Memorial Garden beautification updates we have made as well. Our new Preschool Director, Delia, and her staff have started the new school year off with a wonderful and energetic group of God's precious children. Last but not least, we welcomed our new Senior Pastor and Head of Staff, Rev. Dr. Aaron Janklow, and his beautiful family to our church family. We have much to be grateful for and are so excited for our next chapter!

We have a YTD shortfall of $183k through the end of July. YTD Offerings are unfavorable compared to the same time last year by $70k. YTD offerings are unfavorable to budget by $253k, which we straight-line. Total Revenue is unfavorable by $30k vs YTD 2025. This is mostly driven by a decrease in Offerings of $70k, partially offset by favorability of $30k in Preschool revenue and $9k favorability in Other Revenue. YTD expenses are favorable to budget by $166k due to tight expense control and the straight-line expense budget. YTD Expenses are basically neck-and-neck with YTD 2025.

Please continue to live stream our services, leave comments, and stay in touch with us. If you are out of town and have an expected return date, let us know! We truly do enjoy your comments, feedback, and updates.

As always, please reach out to Debbie Savage, Executive Director, or Joan Congine, Finance Administrator, if you have any questions.

Welcome to First Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. Aaron Janklow!

September 1 officially marks your first day as our Senior Pastor and Head of Staff. While this September edition of Outreach goes to print just ahead of your arrival in the office, enthusiasm across our congregation and staff has been building ever since that memorable Sunday in July when we were moved by your sermon, "More Than We Can Imagine," and voted unanimously to call you as our pastor. On behalf of our entire church community, welcome to First Presbyterian Church of Naples!

We are thrilled to welcome you back to your home state. Having been born in Fort Lauderdale and having served congregations in Delray Beach and Palm Beach, your extensive ministry roots across Florida make your arrival all the more meaningful. We also extend our warmest welcome to Laurel, Lyla, and Hannah. We cannot wait to see Lyla in the preschool this fall—with little Hannah set to follow in her footsteps down the road!

Pastoral transitions are sacred milestones in congregational life. Having shared our heartfelt gratitude last month with Rev. Dr. Scott Kenefake and his wife, Gail, for their steady interim leadership, we are excited to begin this new season of ministry alongside you, Rev. Rex Childs, and our entire staff.

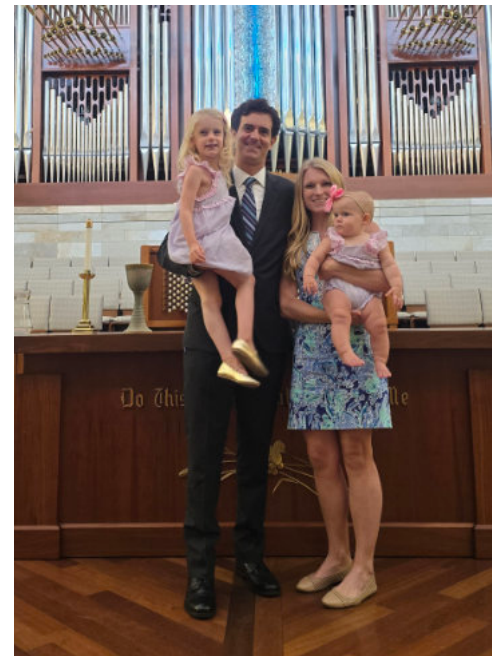

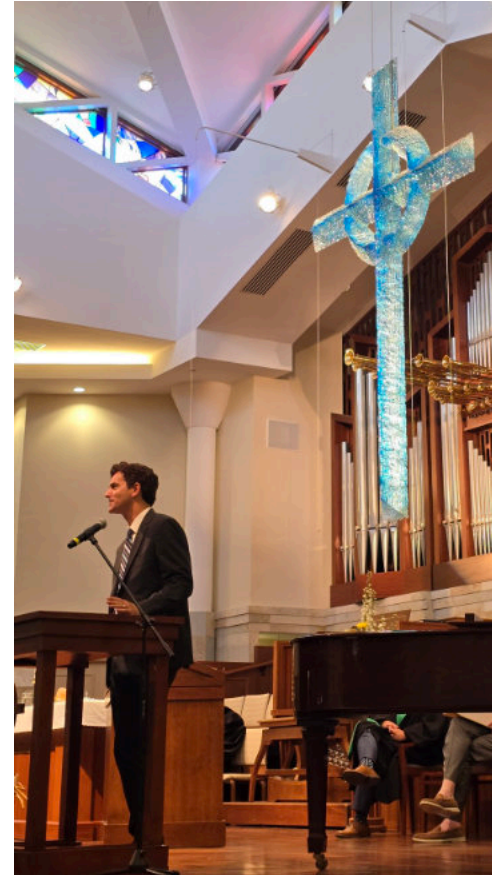

Over the next few weeks, Naples will begin to awaken as seasonal residents and friends return to Southwest Florida. You arrive at an energizing time as our halls fill back up for Wednesday night dinners, fall programs, Advent, and Christmas Eve—all leading toward the celebration of our congregation's 75th anniversary next year.

To kick off the month, Rev. Dr. Randy Moody will join us as guest preacher on Sunday, September 6, for Labor Day weekend and Holy Communion. Then, on Sunday, September 13, we eagerly anticipate you stepping into the pulpit for the first time to lead Sunday worship. We are calling on our entire congregation—whether worshipping in the Sanctuary or joining online via livestream from across the country—to gather with open hearts and give you and your family a joyful First Pres welcome!

We know everyone is looking forward to your personal introductory article in the October edition of Outreach. In the meantime, please know that our prayers surround you, Laurel, Lyla, and Hannah as you unpack, get settled, and begin your ministry among us.

With joyful anticipation,

Mission Update: Power & Hope in Matanzas, Cuba

First Presbyterian Church of Naples continues its mission work with our partner church in Matanzas, Cuba, and Pastor Adriana. The last few weeks have been especially productive with a shipment of medications, the arrival of solar panels, and the delivery of an electric motor scooter.

The shipment of medications represents the second time we have successfully sent an air freight shipment from Naples to Matanzas and included important vitamins, antibiotics, and blood pressure medications.

Pastor Darren Utey from First Presbyterian Church of Racine, Wisconsin, was already traveling to Cuba and offered to deliver cash from First Presbyterian of Naples to Pastor Adriana in Matanzas, Cuba, so that she could purchase an electric motor scooter that will be charged with the new solar panels. This will greatly increase the effectiveness of Pastor Adriana and the church in a country where public transportation has become non-existent due to gasoline shortages.

The long-awaited solar panels and energy generators for the church arrived in mid-August, and their installation began the next day. In less than a week, with workers installing on weekends and nights, the solar system was up and running, providing electrical service to the church and the renovated second-floor apartment for the pastor. The church will now have constant electrical service, allowing for electrical outlets that function 24/7, air conditioning in portions of the church, and refrigeration for the expansion of food programs.

In pastor Adriana's words, "What a joy to receive the solar panels and energy generators. Our gratitude to everyone who has made it possible with donations and is now working on their installation. Thank you, thank you, thank you." "Thank you for not abandoning us and walking with us and always extending your friendly hand. We continue building the Kingdom of God together. Thank you for all the love with our church."

In early October, Tim and Gay Stover will travel to Cuba to again reinforce our commitment with Central Presbyterian and to work with Pastor Adriana. Tim will also be attending a Cuban Partnership Network meeting held at the seminary in Matanzas, which will help to further coordinate our efforts with other churches.

With deliveries of medications, the solar panels, and the electric scooter, the generosity and commitment of members here at First Presbyterian Church of Naples continues to produce tangible results with our partner church in Cuba; a country that needs so much and asks for so little.

With blessings,

Scott Jacobs

Back to School Blessings and New Beginnings

As we launch a new school year, we are grateful for the many ways our church families have gathered in faith, fellowship, and prayer.

Following our Back-to-School Blessing on August 9, 47 participants joined us for an Open House. It was wonderful to welcome families, members of our congregation, and friends as we prepared for the year ahead. Together, we wrote prayers for the upcoming school year and created origami prayer butterflies. All the children and youth also decorated water bottles for the school year!

We were also delighted to be present for the Preschool Open House on August 9. We also hosted two “Boo-Hoo/Yahoo” Bagels and Coffee gatherings for preschool parents and children on their first day of school. Approximately 40 parents joined us, and together we also created more beautiful origami prayer-butterfly art. The butterflies are now featured in the preschool in a prayer art installation and serve as a reminder of our collective blessing for our children and families.

We are looking forward to September, when we will launch our youth group, young adult group, preschool coffee hour, and preschool chapel! We are also excited to share that our church has been selected as one of 20 congregations across the country to participate in the Raising Faithful Kids Initiative, made possible through a Lilly Grant to Vibrant Faith Ministries. This work focuses on bringing faith-at-home practices into our shared worship experience. Stay tuned as we begin introducing these ideas in our GenWE services, which begin in October.

Finally, we are seeking participants for "TRIOs: A Presence Project (another facet of our grant work). Trios will meet either online or in person for four 30-minute weekly sessions. While we often talk about worship, we do not always share our own worship experiences with one another or explore what it means to worship together. The Presence Project is designed to help us engage one another's stories and pray together in Jesus-dependent ways. Please reach out if you would like to learn more about The Presence Project or would like to be part of a trio.

Thank you for your continued prayers, encouragement, and support as we begin this new academic and faith-filled year. We look forward with hope and gratitude to all that God has in store for our children, families, and entire church community.

Blessings, peace, and every good

Reflections from a Stephen Ministry Care Receiver

This month I want to share some thoughts expressed online by a care receiver who lives in Delta, British Columbia, Canada. He felt a need to write about his experience with a Stephen Minister from his church in an effort to encourage others to consider seeking a Christian relationship with a Stephen Minister to help them when they walk through particularly difficult times in their lives.

I encourage our members to contact me at dpwitman@hotmail.com if they, or someone in their family, might benefit from the Christian care that a Stephen Minister could bring into their lives during times of struggle. The blog submission below is short and sweet, but it does capture some of the essence of the relationship between a Stephen Minister and a care receiver. Please consider this:

Reflections from a Stephen Ministry Care Receiver

Originally published by South Delta Baptist Church. The original article can be viewed at southdelta.org/our-blog/reflections-from-a-stephen-ministry-care-receiver.

Gratitude. Profound gratitude for the gracious support I've received through SDBC's Stephen Ministry.

The situation: I found myself in an impossible situation—one I was unequipped to navigate. Though I am committed to Jesus and anchored in the Scriptures and his promises, I needed a safe, godly person to help me process the challenges I was facing.

Enter a Stephen Minister—a faithful, caring, trained believer who met with me one hour a week. The Stephen Minister came equipped not only with wisdom from the Word and a life of walking with Christ, but also with prayerful discernment, deep compassion, and attentiveness. I was offered understanding, patience, encouragement, and hope.

The setting: Adaptable. Sometimes we sat, other times we walked. But always, I was given the space to speak freely, to be listened to intently, and to pray.

The experience: Focused, prayerful listening. Gentle but clarifying questions. Thoughtful observations. Many affirmations. And shared prayer—during our visits (and ongoing throughout the week, as I was faithfully lifted up to the Father.)

The benefits (cognitive): A renewed perspective. Reflective insights. Gentle reminders of progress ("It's been __ days and only 3–4 incidents — can you give yourself grace?"). Clarifying questions: "You've taken this step—what would you hope the response will be?" We explored my view of self, others, and circumstances—past, present, and future.

The result (emotional and spiritual): Encouragement. Strength. And real hope.

In a UBC lecture, psychologist Dr. Larry Crabb once said something to the effect of: "If the Church fulfilled its mandate—following Jesus' teachings and the instructions in the epistles—psychologists would be unnecessary."

I agree.

Tears well up in me as I give thanks—to God, to SDBC, and to the Stephen Minister who journeys with me through a very difficult season of life.

If you would like to learn more about Stephen Ministry and what it can do for you, please take the first step and contact the church. You won't be disappointed.

CHURCH TOUR

The Deacons invite you to a "Behind the Scenes" church tour on Sunday, September 13 following the service.

We will assemble at the front of the Sanctuary for a 30 minute tour of the campus.

Sign up in Spencer Hall or contact Sarah Nichols at sarahsnichols@gmail.com.

Save the Date! Fall Festival will be on Friday, October 16th! More details and family fun coming soon.

Discover First Presbyterian, a Name Change and a Wider Welcome!

The membership committee has carefully considered and unanimously agreed to rename our new members' class from Seekers and Joiners to Discover First Presbyterian.

So, when you encounter the name "Discover First Presbyterian," know that it is still an intentional invitation to welcome all to learn more about FPC Naples and to find a deeper meaning in being Presbyterian, of who we are at First, of what we believe, and of how we hope to carry our message of love and service to each other and to the community around us.

Our next "Discover First Presbyterian" gathering will be held on Sunday, September 20 in our parlor following worship. There, you will have the opportunity to meet our ministers and get your questions answered.

Light fare is served, so grab a cup of coffee or punch, join us, and discover the possibilities of church membership and more.

For more information, please contact Susan Pratt, or call the church office at 239.262.1311 to let us know you will be attending.

Blessings on this new season!
