Supporting the life and ministries of our parish involves many ongoing costs. We invite parishioners and friends to consider sponsoring one of the following needs:

Feast Day Flowers for the Altar

Sponsoring flowers for special feast days is a beautiful way to enhance our worship space and honor significant celebrations in the Catholic calendar. These offerings remind us of the joy we share on days dedicated to Our Lord, Jesus Christ, and the Blessed Virgin Mary. Upcoming dates include All Souls Day and the Immaculate Conception.

People have asked me if it is “Okay” to pray for a happy death. I think so since the only other option is to avoid the subject altogether. But dying is very much a part of living, and a happy death seems consistent with a life well lived.

The epistle this weekend is the conclusion of Saint Paul’s second letter to his friend and collaborator, Timothy. Saint Paul reflects on his impending martyrdom from that perspective: I’ve lived my life well, though I’ve made some big mistakes along the way, and my death is happy one in service to the Lord Jesus Christ.

“My life is being poured out like a libation,” he says, indicating that his martyrdom will amount to an act of worship as his blood will be poured out in sacrifice. “I have competed well; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith.” These words of Saint Paul speak of a life well lived, indeed, because he testifies to accomplishment of a mission which Christ himself revealed to Paul at his conversion (cf., Acts 9, 16). Jesus showed Paul what he would have to suffer for the Name of Jesus, and Saint Paul recognizes that when he needed the help of others in the mission, some failed him by deserting him. But Jesus did not abandon Paul. Note that Paul is not angry about their desertion. Instead, he prays for them just as Jesus prayed for those who abandoned him in his hour of need. And so, the happy death following a life well lived is not so much the loneliness of abandonment and the suffering of martyrdom, but the accomplishment of the mission worked by Christ through him.

If we pray for a happy death, like Saint Paul, it may not mean a painless death. Rather, our death can be happy if we can confidently testify to the accomplishment of a life well lived in service to Jesus.

Querida familia de nuestra comunidad, que peregrina, siguiendo los pasos del Buen Pastor. No olvidemos, que hemos venido haciendo el proceso de las dos solicitudes, que se le hicieron al Señor Jesús. (Enseñanos a Orar y Aumentamos la fe).

Ya recordarán ustedes como el Domingo Pasado, nos enseñaron que hay que estar en torno de los que oran, ayudándolos, como le ayudaron a Moisés, cuando se acababan las fuerzas físicas, y le tenían que sostener sus brazos. Pero también el Señor Jesucristo nos decía, que hay que tener tenacidad y perseverancia para mantenernos orando, y que la oración debe de ser, como la de la viuda ante el juez malvado. No una oración ocasional, sino intensa.

El día de hoy, el Señor viene de nuevo, a que realmente hagamos una oración, pero con humildad. Podemos ya decir, esa es la palabra clave: HUMILDAD. Porque no pareciera, ese es el antídoto, que nos salvará a que no nos destruya y deforme nuestra oración, o servicio aún dentro de la comunidad eclesial. Hay muchas personas que, por llenarse de orgullo, soberbia, celos u cualquier otro tipo de pecado, su trabajo o servicio es estéril. Pues triste decirlo, pero vivimos siempre actos, pensamientos o criterios racistas, como lo vemos en el evangelio de este Domingo.

Por eso pone Jesús el dedo sobre el fariseo, ya que El, está manifestando que El, es el bueno en todo, honrado, trabajador, gran orador, gran penitente y por eso no reconoce lo que Dios hace, es al revés, le llega a recordar a Dios que él, es el que hace y por lo tanto se merece el reconocimiento de Dios. Todo lo contrario, a lo que enseña la virgen María en el Magnifica: Proclama su alma la grandeza de Dios, porque ha hecho en ella grandes cosas. No es ella, y lo reafirma en la boda de cana de Galilea, hagan lo que El, les diga. Orar con humildad, me ayuda a encontrar mis miserias, como también la posibilidad de servir, todo lo que Dios me ha dado. La humildad purifica mi pensamiento, mi corazón, me aparta de la esclavitud del pecado y de las idolatrías del mundo y que no idolatre a ninguna persona. Me hace ser libre y en disposición para Dios. La humildad es como el HUMUS DE LA TIERRA, QUE LA HACE FÉRTIL, la humildad me hace ser fecundo para Dios, para los hombres y para mí mismo. Ser humilde no es declararse inútil, sino agradable a Dios, y con un corazón sano y una mente sensata y sin ninguna duda o atadura. ALABADO SEA JESUCRISTO EL SEÑOR.
