CONDITIONS OF ENTRY:

ENTRIES AND EXHIBITORS

1. All birds must be the bona fide property of the exhibitor named on the entry form. Any attempt to misrepresent will result in disqualification and forfeiture of awards, at the discretion of the judges or show committee.
2. Birds must be clean and in good health. Exhibitors are responsible for the condition of their birds while penned. Any bird considered to be carrying parasites or showing signs of contagious disease will be rejected and removed immediately at the owner's risk. Judges are directed not to handle suspect birds but to report them to the committee.
3. No person may pen or enter an exhibit on behalf of a disqualified exhibitor. No entries will be accepted from persons under disqualification by any poultry club or kindred body.
4. Birds may only be entered in one class. Exhibits within a classification will be penned in adjoining or nearby pens where possible. Birds entered in the wrong class will become non-competitive once judging commences.
5. The committee reserves the right to refuse entries or restrict numbers in accordance with available penning space.
6. All penned birds are under committee control for the duration of the show. Birds may not be handled by anyone other than judges or stewards. Judging sticks may only be used by official judges. Permission for photography or other valid reasons may be granted by a committee member.
7. Any unauthorised person found removing birds or eggs from pens will be dealt with at the committee's discretion. Eggs laid during the show will be collected for disposal unless previously claimed by the owner.
8. Submission of a completed entry form and payment is deemed acceptance of these rules and an acknowledgment that the exhibitor indemnifies the Canowindra P.A. & H. Association, its officials, and stewards from all liability for loss, damage, or injury. The committee will exercise due care but accepts no responsibility for loss, damage, or injury of any kind. Penning and unpenning must be supervised by appointed stewards.

JUNIORS

Junior exhibitors must pen their own entries. Juniors are requested to be present at the time of judging of the junior section to receive feedback and encouragement.

Judging Rules

1. Judging will be open unless otherwise stipulated. Any person causing distraction or behaving inappropriately will be required to leave the judging area immediately.
2. Judges must act responsibly and impartially, free from personal bias or outside influence.
3. Judging decisions must be based solely on the recognised Standard of Perfection for the relevant breeds/varieties (generally the current edition of the Australian Standard of Poultry Perfection).
4. Judges must not consider for awards any bird they have owned or cared for within the past four months. Exhibitors are also expected not to enter such birds.
5. Awards are at the discretion of the judges and are relative to the merits of the birds presented. Birds considered markedly inferior in type, colour, or condition may be downgraded or passed, regardless of class competition.

All judges' decisions are final.
