Communication/Website- (Amanda Mudd) – Please sign up for Reach Alert on the website it is the best way to receive updated notifications.

Sidewalks/Festivities- (Emily Rademaker) – The overlay committee has paused on pursuing new ordinances regarding the historic district. Unless an issue arises, the committee will not continue to meet monthly. The city engineer is addressing issues and putting a plan together regarding the sidewalk on Maple, one tree has been removed. Shakespeare in the Park will be April 23rd.

Town Hall - (Norman Schippert) – No report.

Waste Management/Central Park- (Allen Ford) – Republic has had difficulty on some roads picking up due to the weather, residents will have to wait until the next regularly scheduled pick up date. We would love to have new people join our historical society.

Roads & Drainage/Environmental Board- (Bob Rogers) – It has been a trying time with the snow, and the city is looking into adding new equipment and outsourcing certain areas. The mayor thanked Glenn Rowland for taking great care of the roads during the snow and Chris Hosler for clearing the town square of snow.

New Business – LaGrange Mayor John Black introduced himself and asked for support from the council and residents in his election for office of county judge executive. He reiterated his love for the county, his mayoral experience and work with specific contacts like the department of transportation, his dealings with Frankfort, and the ability to listen to residents regarding concerns for their specific areas of the county.

OC planning commission employee William Douglas introduced himself and asked for support as he is running for District 5 magistrate. He talked about his experience as stormwater chairman and in law enforcement, starting as a LaGrange officer, then with the drug enforcement administration. He moved into public service and was appointed to the planning commission. He is an advocate of public safety, smart economic growth and good stewardship of taxpayer money.

JD Sparks introduced himself and stated that he is running for Magistrate. He worked as division director in the energy and environment cabinet and worked in Ky Emergency Management. He is a Marine veteran and reiterated his love of community work and asks for support.

Council member Emily Rademaker proposed hiring a company to develop a master plan for the city, this would plan would assess and survey the community for their vision of the city and conceptualize it. Emily reiterated the charm of our city and how we keep it, so people continually desire to live here. She encouraged the council and residents to look at the Crestwood master plan (on their city website), so you have an idea of what a master plan looks like.

Open Comments –

Mary Lowry thanked the council for passing the ordinance updating the lot size to 1.5 acres. She offered her help with the development of a master plan for the city and thanked the mayor for the help during the snow and addressing the need for newer equipment and additional manpower if needed.

Michael Logsdon urged council members and residents to pay attention to the dealings in Frankfort because they mandate what cities and counties do but do not fund these projects. Please contact David Osbourne and especially Jason Nemes if you have any concerns. Michael thanked the mayor and Glenn for helping with the roads and can help with bids for outsourcing, salt, etc...
