

"Auroara Alba..."

So here we are my love. Finally, the time has come.
Time to verily step into your truest power. Your real strength. Within.
Please come now. Emerge.
Follow through and reclaim your space. Your actual place in this world.

For far too long we have stood by and had to watch you suffer.
Dear one, that kind of hurt is not why you have come.
Yes there might have been lessons to learn. And yes, it is hard at times. Although you will never stop to be life's student, the moment has come to step into your mastery.

Glorious sovereign being. Embodiment of raw feminine grace. Descendant of the white sun.
Savage child.
Your energy and vitality being of a rare kind. The sound of your colours radiant. Pivotal.

Devine feline. Mother of the pride. Leader and teacher by heart.
How ever wounded you are you have come to be a healer.

It is your souls purpose to help shift the world. Here to guide and protect others. To nurture and support your pack. Your soulfamily, your tribe.
Strong bonds. Sisterhood.
It is in your nature.

Honor and cherish your innate ease of being in stillness and silence. For all the keys to your roadmap can be found there. In tranquillity.
Meditate. Stare into the nothingness. Just be. Breathe.
Surrender in gratitude.
Celebrate.

The wisdom and knowledge of your foremothers have always been at arms length. Accessing has never before been so facile. Gain all the empowering guidance you need. Just ask.
Come and find us in nature.
In the trees, the water.
In all creatures.
Seek us in the stars, the moon.
Hear us in the wind.
Find us in your core. The source.
Call upon us and miracles will start to occur.

If only.

Kind, passionate soul. Daughter. Our heir.
How humble your courage. How forceful, strong. You are so gentle, loving. Brave.
It would be a bliss to see you overcome your fears. Expressing yourself. All of you.

So rise now sweet child and roar.
Spread those glorious wings.
Jump. Fly. Soar.

See from up there how worthy you truly are.

Now can you at last allow all of your marvellous spirit in?
