

"Matriarch..."

Deeply rooted. Silently moving. Majestically roaming the lands.
Keeper of earthly elements.
Together, connected, tied in love.

How grant this wisdom, this ancient knowingness. Conscious being. Now.
Deeply connected to past, present and future generations. Eternally here. Never there.

Always a teacher, ever a leader.
Here to share knowledge, wisdom and experience. Guiding and inspiring. Carrying you as I should.
For I am the earth and she is me.

Now grow my love. Do not fear this thick skin. It will protect you, gentle but strong. Feeding your body, nurturing the soul. Fertile and naturally living an abundant life. Resourceful and creative.
Making the most of these blessings.

When the moment is here we shall move between worlds, dive into other realms.
But for now dive inside, feel and devour it all. Carry your greatest fears with grace.
Always.
It shall be of profound assistance in this great transformation we are all going through.
You shall never be alone, support just a heartbeat away.

Devoted to the herd, our tribe. Knowing not all family is bound by blood.
Gathering in circles, honouring the divine feminine. Sacred sisterhood.
Bonding beyond time and space. Moving together, growing through experience. Exploring this life with devotion, confidence and compassion.

Whether maiden, mother or crone there will be no judgement. As there can be not one without the other.
All are equal in circle. All contributing in our own unique ways.
We will rise together.

And I, I will accompany you on your path.
Humble and noble.
Here I am. Awaiting.
If only you would grasp my tail and let me be your guide...
