

"Peafox..."

It all starts with silence.

Seek it in solitude, observe, and find that quietness. Within.
Know that silence is not the absence of sound per se. It is tranquillity, a stillness, a balance.
Inside.
A place where you can feel the ripples of your soul and where spirit connections are made.

Be persistent, practice with patience, sit still, quietly. And listen...

Whisperings of your being, telling you that the solution to a problem is near. Acknowledge your own clear and deep knowingness and trust. Trust it... Trust yourself.
You are a master manifestor and when heart centred and third eye connected there is only determination.
Victory and joy on the other side.

Start playing again, learn how to. Reconnect with the child within.
Surrender and jump. Once your feet are off the ground you will fly.

It is safe, you are protected. Guided.

Do notice your energetic fringes. Where does your energy ends and other beings' energies begin? Not all you feel is your own.
With spiritual growth, senses may become more and more delicate, subtle, fluid.
Keep anchoring into our own serenity and life will become less overwhelming.
Just stay present and keep tuning in.

You are both the sun and the moon. The powerful masculine and divine feminine. Your vitality and spirit immortal.
Display your truest nature. You do not have to show off to be seen. Yet do not hide. Take of that mask. Get real, the time playing roles has past. Discern verity.

Real beauty lies within. Gorgeous imperfections. Character.
Embrace all that is you. Self love and confidence will grow. Personal wealth, prosperity, luck, bliss and light. Golden abundance.

Share your gifts with your community. Be proud of all you are and are able to do. Spread that loving energy. You are vivacious, full of life. A mystical fountain of delight, the creator.

So dive in, deep.
Return to silence
and start creating...
