

"Warrior Goddess..."

I see you. Mighty little creature. Sister of my heart.
Such grace and inner strength.
Small but oh so fierce. Silently swirling with power. Whispering within.
Slumbering potential, ready to awaken.

I have come to guide you back to your innate gifts. To help you remember. Restoring connections to our ancestors.
Weaving a new, stronger web. Returning all Wisdom, of all times.

The firmament is your great lake my lady. Air, like water, holds knowledge. Here for you to tab into. Serving us all.
And while the tall trees protecting you, serving as a bridge between the Earth and the Skies, you are free to soar on good fortune and prosperity. You are.

Wild woman. Queen of light. Glowing like the sun.
Healing and rebirthing the Tribe of Humanity.

How ever messy the nest you came from, remember that you are not alone. In a way you never were.

Though life has been tough on you, perhaps even more so that to others, you have and will overcome all challenges.

Remember to always trust your own inner compass. It is that background and experience that has sharpened your intuition. Has given you an enchanted vision. The eyes of a mage if you will. Equipped with a laserlike focus, ever sensing truth.

So look at me. See me. See you.
These wings are yours, as well as mine.

Fly with me and embark on this journey to rediscover yourself. Liberate yourself.
Let the deeply cleansing breath of life in. Purge all the hurt and pain. Release fear and fill this newly opened up emptiness with the Love and knowledge from your foremothers and fathers.
Receive.

Tap into your essence, the spirit of the warrior.

Determent.
Strong.
Resilient.

FREE...