Advancing Cancer Research through Golf

Driving Innovation and Inspiring Hope on the Green

As Chief Golf Officer for the Cancer Informatics for Cancer Centers Society (Ci4CC), I'm thrilled to introduce Golf4Ci®, a program that unites the love of golf with the mission to cure cancer.

Announcing the Cancer Informatics Memorial!

Join us for the Cancer Informatics Memorial Golf Tournament happening this October 2025, in Miami, FL. We are excited to announce our Spring Golf4Ci event (The Cancer Informatics Classic taking place April 2026 in La Jolla CA).

About Ci4CC

Unlike cancer societies focused on bench science or clinical trials in oncology, Ci4CC is the only professional society dedicated to cancer informatics. Founded by IT and informatics leaders from premier academic and community Cancer Centers, we foster collaboration between academia, industry, patient communities, and health systems to advance cancer research through informatics.

Why Golf4Ci?

Cancer informatics has been instrumental in advancing AI, data science, and bioinformatics to improve cancer care and prevention. As a leading forum for collaboration, Ci4CC bridges the gap between industry and Cancer Centers, driving innovation in cancer research.

The Golf4Ci program offers a unique and engaging outlet for academia, cancer societies, life sciences, and IT industries to support this critical field. Every swing, putt, and cheer fuels groundbreaking discoveries and better patient outcomes.

Join us as a player, sponsor, or volunteer—together, we can transform cancer care through cutting-edge informatics. See you on the course! 🏌️
