WATER TREATMENT

Peracetic Acid Livestock Water Injection System

This system slowly injects a peracetic acid blend into the water stream. Peracetic acid has been shown to be very effective against a broad range of pathogens. Low levels of peracetic acid are needed for effective treatment of livestock drinking water, resulting in clean water without a "swimming pool" chlorine flavor that might reduce water intake. The MixRite 569PVDF can treat up to 11 gallons of water per minute—larger models are available. 4-6 ppm PAA recommended.
