PREGNANCY TESTS

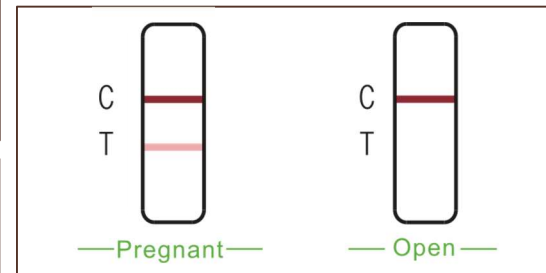

New!

AUKER

Early Pregnancy Rapid Test

The Auker Ruminant Early Pregnancy Rapid Test provides 99.5% diagnostic accuracy for dairy cattle and other ruminants as early as 28 days post-insemination and 85 days postpartum. Engineered for immediate on-farm diagnostic management without requiring a centrifuge, this lateral flow cassette detects pregnancy-associated proteins directly from whole blood, serum, or plasma. Testing protocol involves dispensing two drops of biological sample followed by two drops of sample diluent into the cassette well, producing clear visual results in 15-20 minutes.

Each kit includes 6 single-use cassettes, 6 transfer pipettes, and 6 blood collection sets. To ensure diagnostic integrity, testing must occur at ambient temperatures between 59-95° F, and foil pouches should be opened only immediately prior to use to prevent moisture damage. A faint test line could signal potential embryonic loss or false-positive, requiring follow-up retesting after 7 to 10 days. Rapidly identifying open cows enables immediate re-synchronization and re-breeding, shortening calving intervals and protecting overall herd profitability.

Double Milking Sleeves

Udder Tech's Double Milking Sleeves are connected behind the neck to offer enhanced shoulder protection and stay securely in place with minimal adjustment. Features integrated thumb holes, a comfortable cross-back strap, and durable, waterproof blue fabric. Great for keeping you clean when you're rubbing up against cows in a tie-stall barn.

Milking Sleeves

Single Milking Sleeves offer less protection than the double milking sleeve, but then you might only want one anyhow. They still feature the thumb hole but instead of being held by the back strap, they have an adjustable elastic arm band.

Half Apron with Towel Pouches

Black water resistant nylon covers just the waist down and features two large towel pouches (holding about 20-25 towels each) and a dip cup pocket. Also available for order without the dip cup pocket.

Each$25.65

Full Towel Pouch Apron

Black waterproof nylon apron featuring two large cloth towel pouches to hold lots of microfiber or terrycloth towels (about 20-25 in each pouch) and two utility pockets located on the chest, perfect for medicine and syringes. Crisscrossed shoulder straps help to reduce neck strain during the parlor shift by distributing the weight evenly.

MASTOFLUSH™

New!

MastoFlush™

OMRI Listed Organic Approved. MastoFlush is an all-natural, non-antibiotic udder-flushing solution formulated for use at the earliest signs of elevated somatic cell counts or mild mastitis symptoms. Once bacteria have a chance to multiply and become established in the mammary gland tissue, the cow's innate immune response may be inadequate without intervention. MastoFlush's primary mode of action is to reduce the adhesion of bacteria to udder surfaces and assist in flushing bacteria from the capillary network of the udder, thus expelling harmful microbes before they take hold. MastoFlush leaves behind a hydrophobic, tissue protective, barrier and provides the best chance for the cow's innate immune system to take care of the rest. No milk withhold and no risk of losing a tank of milk for antibiotics.

Hawk® Bait Chunx

Hawk® delivers dependable single-feed lethal control against Norway rats, roof rats, and house mice. Formulated with Bromadiolone, an effective second-generation anticoagulant, this palatable bait eliminates targeted rodents within days of consumption. Each block features extruded multi-edge contours to satisfy natural rodent gnawing instincts alongside ingredients that maximize acceptance. Superior moisture and mold resistance ensures long-lasting stability in damp settings. Use Bait Chunx in Rat Bait Stations to prevent non-target animal exposure.

Jaguar® Bait Chunx

Jaguar® Bait Chunx is Motomco's most powerful anticoagulant formula, engineered to clear out severe, persistent infestations and anticoagulant-resistant rodent populations. Containing Brodifacoum, the strongest single-feed active ingredient available, a single dose controls Norway rats, roof rats, and house mice. Its high palatability and multi-edge shape ensures high consumption. Superior moisture and mold resistance ensures long-lasting stability in damp settings. Use Bait Chunx in Rat Bait Stations to prevent non-target animal exposure.

Tomcat® with Bromethalin Bait Chunx

Tomcat® with Bromethalin Bait Chunx provides faster rodent knockdown than traditional anticoagulants like Hawk® or Jaguar®. Powered by Bromethalin, an acute ATP inhibitor that halts cellular energy production, it kills rats and mice within two days. Its stop-feed action causes rodents to cease feeding after consuming a lethal dose, significantly reducing overall bait consumption. Superior moisture and mold resistance ensures long-lasting stability in damp settings. Use Bait Chunx in Rat Bait Stations to prevent non-target animal exposure.

Do not open Place Pacs
Your "guests" will chew their way in!

Hawk® Place Pacs

Utilizing the same single-feed Bromadiolone anticoagulant formula as Hawk® Bait Chunx, Hawk® Place Pacs deliver lethal rodent control in protective sachets. Do not open or tear the pacs prior to application; rats and mice easily gnaw through the specialized packaging to consume the fresh bait inside. This sealed design protects the high-potency pelleted bait from moisture, dust, and environmental contamination, maintaining peak freshness and palatability in narrow voids.

CALF PROBIOTIC

Gener K™

Gener K™ is a highly nutritious powdered calf milk additive for pre-ruminant calves to support digestive health, early immune system development, and optimal growth and weight gain. Formulated with targeted direct-fed microbials, essential vitamins, trace minerals, and nutrient-rich kelp, Gener K™ stabilizes intestinal microflora during critical milk-feeding and stress transitions. Easily mixed into whole milk, or milk replacer, it enhances nutrient absorption, reduces opportunistic pathogen colonization, and mitigates metabolic stress. By promoting digestive efficiency and active natural defenses, Gener K™ minimizes expensive health interventions and shortens recovery periods to maximize total herd profitability.
