23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Nothing is quite as exciting to a young child as being part of a big change in the family. Whether it is a new sibling on the way or picking out a new car, or planning a move or a trip, kids especially love to be involved and be successful. We want to be part of something good and it is a great thing when we can succeed with those we love.

Every family needs a plan for success. This is not a financial plan, or an educational plan or even a career plan—all of which are important. This is a family plan, the way in which the family becomes a community of faith, hope and love. Everyone needs to be involved if the family is to succeed. We help each other and, in turn, help ourselves.

Any good plan of faith includes prayer. When we pray together, we make God an integral part of our identity as a family. Praying together strengthens our efforts and focuses our goals. We can more easily overcome temptation and choose good. The practice of virtue and kindness takes on a new meaning and importance because we do it for God and for each other.
