REST IN PEACE...

Remember in your prayers the soul of Robert J. Stone, Jr., loving husband, father, grandfather, brother and friend.

Remember in your prayers the soul of Elinor Bowers, pre-deceased by her husband Bernie, loving mother, grandmother and friend.

Their funeral Mass took place this past week.

Those we love don't go away,
they walk beside us every day;
unseen, unheard, but always near,
they are always in our hearts, so dear.

ST. PAUL CENTER FOR BIBLICAL THEOLOGY

The day of the Lord is coming, Paul warns in today's Epistle. What matters isn't the time or the season, but what the Lord finds us doing with the new life, the graces He has given to us.

This is at the heart of Jesus' parable in today's Gospel. Jesus is the Master. Having died, risen, and ascended into heaven, He appears to have gone away for a long time.

By our baptism, He has entrusted to each of us a portion of His "possessions," a share in His divine life (see 2 Peter 1:4). He has given us talents and responsibilities, according to the measure of our faith (see Romans 12:3, 8).

We are to be like the worthy wife in today's First Reading, and the faithful man we sing of in today's Psalm. Like them, we should walk in the "fear of the Lord" - in reverence, awe, and thanksgiving for His marvelous gifts. This is the beginning of wisdom (see Acts 9:31; Proverbs 1:7).

This is not the "fear" of the useless servant in today's parable. His is the fear of a slave cowering before a cruel master, the fear of one who refuses the relationship that God calls us to.

He has called us to be trusted servants, fellow workers (see 1 Corinthians 3:9), using our talents to serve one another and His kingdom as good stewards of His grace (see 1 Peter 4:10).

In this, we each have a different part to play.

Though the good servants in today's parable were given different numbers of talents, each "doubled" what he was given. And each earned the same reward for his faithfulness - greater responsibilities and a share of the Master's joy.

So let us resolve again in this Eucharist to make much of what we've been given, to do all for the glory of God (see 1 Corinthians 10:31). That we, too, may approach our Master with confidence and love when He comes to settle accounts.

"Does God Even Care"

Dr. Scott Hefelfinger is joined by fellow Augustine Institute graduate school Professor D. Christopher Mooney, to ask a hard question: How do we know God cares about our suffering? To access the site, go to www.formed.org

Let today be the day you give up who you've been for who you can become.

Parking Lot Issues

Due to the reduction in Mass times, parking can be a real issue. We are seeking volunteers who could help with assuring people are finding spaces and are parked between lines.

Also, it was suggested to help with our seniors, is to park farther away and allow our seniors the spaces closer to the doors of the church. Please be patient with one another.
