

VISION, MISSION, VALUES AND PILLARS

VISION

Through excellence in contemporary professional education and research there is a highly talented and effective nursing and midwifery workforce equipped to provide safe, person-centred and evidence - informed health care to meet the current and future needs of Australian and New Zealand communities.

MISSION

- CDNM develops and nurtures leadership in nursing and midwifery education.
- CDNM advocates for the nursing and midwifery professions by shaping education, research and innovation for professional effectiveness in Australia and New Zealand.
- CDNM represents providers of higher education for nurses and midwives to develop, sustain and advance both professions.
- CDNM leads collaboration and consultation on behalf of the nursing and midwifery professions to ensure the best conditions for nursing and midwifery education, research, regulation, and future workforce needs.

VALUES

As the leading voice for education, research and innovation in nursing and midwifery in Australia and New Zealand, CDNM values:

EXCELLENCE

We are committed to ensuring the highest standards of nursing and midwifery education, research and practice.

INFLUENTIAL LEADERSHIP

We lead engagement with internal and external stakeholders that supports our members and inspires nursing and midwifery professions.

EQUITY AND INCLUSIVITY

We foster positive and respectful relationships across our diverse membership.
We are committed to sustained actions in conjunction with peak bodies to improve Aboriginal, Torres Strait islander, Māori and Pacific people's health.

INNOVATION

We are at the forefront of nursing and midwifery education and research that informs policy and practice to improve health.

INTEGRITY

We are ethical in all our practices. We promote honest and open communication and engagement across the nursing and midwifery professions.

PILLARS

To achieve our purpose CDNM will:

CONTRIBUTE TO IMPROVING FIRST PEOPLES' HEALTH

Through a commitment to a sustained plan of action in partnership with First Peoples' and other bodies to improve Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, Māori and Pacific peoples' health.

INFLUENCE, INFORM AND ENGAGE

By representing nursing and midwifery higher education sector expertise to advocate on education, policy, research, and practice development nationally and internationally.

INFLUENCE AND INFORM RESEARCH POLICY AND PRACTICE

Identify priorities for nursing and midwifery research, build the research capacity of and to nurture future leaders in nursing and midwifery research.

INSPIRE NURSING AND MIDWIFERY CAREERS

Through promoting the development of a contemporary image and profile of the diverse nursing and midwifery careers and by fostering quality standards of university education for nurses and midwives.

ENSURE SUSTAINABLE GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT OF THE COUNCIL

To enable the long-term viability and relevance of the Council for its members.