Menu makeover: The plant-based advantage

Whether you're looking to cater to health-conscious diners, those with dairy allergies, or customers making ethical choices, these plant-based products offer a way to create menu items that delight everyone - well beyond Veganuary.

Open your menu up to a wider audience, all year round.

While Veganuary is a great time to spotlight plant-based options, keeping plant-based milks, creams, and butters available year-round ensures your menu appeals to more diners, every day.

From baking to beverages, sauces to soups, these ingredients are incredibly adaptable.

Oat milk froths beautifully for coffees, soy milk offers a neutral base for savoury sauces, and coconut milk adds a rich flavour to shakes and smoothies. Plant-based butters and creams can be used just like their dairy equivalents, making swaps seamless in any recipe.

Choosing plant-based isn't just good for your diners - it's good for the planet.

Dairy alternatives generally have a lower carbon footprint, require less water, and contribute to sustainable food practices. By incorporating these ingredients, you're not only broadening your menu but also making a tangible positive impact on the environment.

RECIPE INSPIRATION

Plant based béchamel

Ingredients

50g Flora Plant Butter
50g plain flour
600ml Zilk Soya
1 bay leaf
Pinch of ground nutmeg

How to

Melt the plant butter in a large saucepan over medium heat. Once bubbling, whisk in the flour and cook for 1-2 minutes, stirring, until smooth and golden.

Gradually stir in the milk, add the bay leaf, then bring to a gentle simmer for 10 minutes, until the sauce has thickened. Season to taste with salt, pepper, and nutmeg.

TIP: If you want to make it cheesy whilst keeping it plant-based, add a tablespoon or two of nutritional yeast to the flour.
