A. Firm Information and Background

Risk Paradigm Group, LLC (“RPg” or the “Advisor”) is an investment management firm specializing in the design, delivery, and management of tactical investment strategies that primarily use exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) for their underlying holdings. These strategies are commonly referred to as “Managed ETF Strategies” or “Tactical ETF Strategies” and are powered by policy based, quantitatively driven methodologies and/or a combination of fundamental top down quantitative bottom up analyses (the “Model Methodology[ies]” or “Model[s]”). RPg also offers the Principal Protected Investment Strategy designed to provide a stable, protected investment.

RPg primarily serves Financial Intermediaries (the “Intermediary[ies]”) and their End Client (the “End Client[s]”), as well as individuals and institutions seeking portfolios that provide exposure to a variety of different market segments, including: US equities, US fixed income, International equities, and alternative asset classes. More specifically, RPg focuses on downside protection using a repeatable investment process that is either quantitative or a blend of quantitative and a combination of fundamental top down quantitative bottom up analyses. Financial Intermediaries include: broker-dealers, registered investment advisors (“RIAs”), and other Advisory Persons serving both institutional and individual End Clients and qualified & non-qualified plans.

RPg was founded in October 2010, and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC, a privately held Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) that is organized under the laws of the State of Delaware. RPg is a registered investment advisor with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) and is organized under the laws of the State of Texas. B. Advisory Services Offered

The Advisor serves as a fiduciary to Clients, as defined under the applicable laws and regulations. As a fiduciary, the Advisor upholds a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client and seeks to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. RPg’s fiduciary commitment is further described in the Advisor’s Code of Ethics. For more information regarding the Code of Ethics, please see Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading.

Tactical Investment Strategy Products

The most prominent expression of RPg’s expertise is through Tactical Investment Strategies (“Tactical Strategy[ies]”), that are selected and/or otherwise recommended in conjunction with an Intermediary dispensing advice to an End Client.

The “RPg” Tactical Strategies use a quantitative formulaic process to select sectors and asset classes, while the “TAG” Strategies use a global macro process supported by a micro process to adjust asset allocations to our forward view of the relative risk and returns of various asset classes. Additionally, RPg offers a stable protected investment strategy (the “Products” or “Strategies”)

The Strategies currently offered by RPg include the following:

RPg ActiveParadigm Strategies

RPg Tactical U.S. Equity Strategy
RPg Tactical U.S. Equity FT Strategy
RPg Tactical Global Balanced Strategy

TAG Tactical Strategies

TAG Tactical Income
TAG Tactical Conservative
TAG Tactical Moderate
TAG Tactical Growth
TAG Tactical Equity

The Principal Protected Investment Strategy

For a detailed description of these Strategies, please see Item 8 below.

RPg does not typically have an advisory relationship with the Intermediary's End Client and does not provide tailored advice to the End Client nor assist the End Client in determining if any Product is suitable to meet their goals and objectives. The Intermediary is solely responsible for understanding and evaluating each End Client's identity, circumstances, financial condition, portfolio holdings, tax situation, regulatory status, financial needs and goals, and for making determinations as to whether a Product provided by RPg is appropriate for each potential End Client. The Intermediary is responsible for reporting and communicating with the End Clients as to the status and performance of their individual investments. At no time will RPg accept or maintain custody of an End Client's funds or securities.

The Strategies offered to Intermediaries for their End Clients are made available through individual separately managed accounts ("SMAs"), or through agreements of RPg products administered through Model Manager Accounts or Unified Managed Accounts ("MMAs" or "UMAs") Sponsored by third parties ("Sponsor Platform[s]").

Delivery through Separately Managed Accounts: Our Products are typically selected and/or otherwise recommended for End Clients through Financial Intermediaries such as broker-dealers and RIAs, and their respective Advisory Personnel. To administer the Tactical Strategies listed above, RPg will manage the selected Product through the SMA on a discretionary basis. At no time will RPg accept or maintain custody of an End Client's funds or securities. All End Client assets will be managed within their designated brokerage account[s] or pension account[s] pursuant to the RPg investment management agreement executed by the Intermediary or the Intermediary's End Client.

Delivery through Platform Agreements in Model Manager Accounts, including Unified Managed Accounts: For Intermediaries who utilize MMAs and UMAs, RPg provides its Tactical Strategies to RIA firms via Turnkey Asset Management Programs (commonly referred to as "TAMPs") and UMA Platform Sponsors ("Sponsor[s]") through platform level licensing agreements ("Platform Agreements").

Customized Investment Management Services

RPg may provide customized investment management services ("Customized Strategies") to individuals, institutions such as endowments or foundations, and qualified & non-qualified plans through separately managed accounts ("SMAs") or through Platform Agreements as described above. With respect to any Customized Strategy managed by RPg, the investment guidelines will be administered in accordance with a documented investment mandate provided by the End Client's Intermediary or Platform Sponsor and delivered to RPg. At no time will RPg accept or maintain custody of an End Client's funds or securities, except for the authorized deduction of RPg's investment management fees. All End Client assets will be managed within their designated brokerage account[s] or pension account[s] pursuant to the RPg investment management agreement, executed by the End Client. Please see Item 5 below for more details.

Sub-Advisory Relationships

RPg does not engage a sub-advisor. RPg reserves the right to enter into sub-advisory relationships in the future.

C. Client Account Management

Pursuant to the delivery of investment management services associated with RPg's Products, the Methodologies and Tactical Strategies generally are not administered to the specific needs or circumstances of an Intermediary or their End Client. RPg does not typically have the direct advisory relationship with the End Client, but may at times. RPg does not typically tailor its investment services for the Intermediary's End Client, or for determining if any RPg Product is appropriate for the End Client. The Intermediary is solely responsible for understanding and evaluating each End Client's identity, circumstances, financial condition, portfolio holdings, tax situation, regulatory status, financial needs and goals, and for making determinations as to whether a Product provided by RPg is appropriate for each potential End Client. The Intermediary is responsible for reporting and communicating with the End Clients as to the status and performance of their individual investments.

At no time will RPg accept or maintain custody of a Client's funds or securities, except for the limited authority as outlined in Item 15 – Custody. All Client assets will be managed within the designated account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the terms of the advisory agreement. Please see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

RPg does not manage or place Client assets into a wrap fee program. Investment management services are provided directly by RPg.

E. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2022, RPg manages $62,060,325 in Client assets, all of which are managed on a discretionary basis. Clients may request more current information at any time by contacting the Advisor.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

General Account Characteristics

The investment management agreement executed between RPg and the End Client or the sub-advisory agreement executed between RPg and the intermediary shall define the pricing, terms and conditions of the investment advisory service and the responsibilities of the End Client, Financial Intermediary and RPg as Investment Manager.

Payment of Fees

In general, for Products, RPg will charge a management fee of up to 0.70% per annum based upon the assets under management in each End Client account. Fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the prior calendar quarter. Investment management fees in the first quarter of service are prorated from the inception date of the account to the end of the first quarter. Fees do not cover any execution-related expenses, commissions and margin interest, if any, securities exchange fees, or other fees required by law or charged by the broker-dealer with custody of the End Client accounts.

Assets will be held in custody and administered by a third-party custodian (examples include Schwab and Fidelity). The custodian will also be responsible for valuing securities in the End Client accounts. Both our investment management agreement and the custodial/clearing agreement may authorize the End Client's custodian to debit the End Client's account[s] for the amount of our investment management fee and to directly remit that investment management fee to RPg in compliance with regulatory procedures. End Clients will be provided with a statement from the account custodian at least quarterly, reflecting deduction of RPg's investment management fee.

Fees for RPg Tactical Strategies offered by Model Manager and Unified Managed Account platform sponsors are determined by the Platform Sponsor.

For Tactical Strategies, RPg generally requires a minimum account size of $100,000. Account minimums may be reduced at RPg's sole discretion.

Client may be able to obtain similar services from other service providers for a lower fee.

Additional Information Concerning Fees

In certain circumstances, investment management fees may be negotiable based upon specific requirements. The fees charged are calculated as described above. All fees paid to RPg for investment management services are separate from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus.

Termination of Contracts

Upon written notice, either party may terminate the investment management agreement at any time. The End Client may also terminate the investment management agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's agreement at no cost to the Client. For fees paid in advance, fees will be prorated to the date of termination and any unearned portion of the fee will be refunded to the End Client generally within ninety (90) days. The Custodian will deliver securities and funds held at custodian as instructed by the End Client, unless the End Client requests that the securities and funds be liquidated. Termination of an investment management agreement will not affect the liabilities or obligations of the parties arising out of any transaction initiated prior to termination. An investment management agreement will not terminate in the event of your death, disability, or incompetence. However, in the event of the End Client's death, disability, or incompetence, the End Client's executor, guardian, attorney-in fact or other authorized representative may terminate an investment management agreement by providing written notice to RPg with such termination being effective upon our receipt of such notice.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

RPg does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by RPg are as described in Item 5 above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any End Client.

RPg does not typically offer any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) to Financial Intermediaries or their End Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

RPg is an investment management firm that mainly manages Tactical Investment Strategies. We primarily serve Financial Intermediaries who select and/or otherwise recommend our Strategies for the benefit of their End Clients, although some strategies may be offered directly to End Clients. Financial Intermediaries include: broker-dealers, registered investment advisors ("RIAs"), and other Advisory Persons serving both institutional and individual End Clients and qualified & non-qualified plans.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

All methodologies used to provide investment advisory services and to manage RPg Investment Strategies are policy based and quantitatively and qualitatively driven. The intellectual property deployed in the Strategies is proprietary (all research and development is conducted internally by RPg's Investment Committee).

As previously referenced in Item 4 above, the RPg Investment Strategies are as follows:

The RPg Strategies below use a proprietary quantitative algorithm that is momentum and volatility based and is run on a weekly basis to determine which sectors and/or which ETFs within each Sleeve are forecasted for positive trends and which sectors are forecasted to lose money. All sectors allocated within the portfolio are equal weighted at the time of the rebalance with a maximum exposure limit for any individual sector ETF at that time. Once maximum exposure limits are reached, the portfolio then begins to build a cash position using cash equivalents. The strategies seek to achieve their investment objectives while using our proprietary quantitative Model Methodology, ActiveParadigm, to adhere to explicit risk controls that allow the portfolios to move to cash equivalents during periods of extreme market drawdown.

RPg Tactical U.S. Equity Strategy (TUS): TUS has an investment objective of long-term capital appreciation that strives to approximate upside market performance of the S&P 500® Index with reduced downside market participation. TUS invests in the major sectors of the US equity markets through domestic sector ETFs.

RPg Tactical U.S. Equity FT Strategy (TUSFT): TUSFT has an investment objective of long-term capital appreciation that strives to approximate upside market performance of the S&P 500® Index with reduced downside market participation. TUSFT invests in the major sectors of the US equity markets primarily through the First Trust AlphaDEX® domestic sector ETFs.

RPg Tactical Global Balanced Strategy (TGB): TGB has an investment objective of long-term capital appreciation that strives to approximate and enhance upside global market performance encompassed by four broad asset classes (“Sleeves”) of: U.S. Equity, International Equity, Fixed Income, and Alternatives (including Gold, Real Estate, and MLP ETFs) with reduced downside market participation. TGB seeks to achieve its investment objective by allocating across ETFs within the four Sleeves.

The TAG Strategies below use tactical asset allocation, a dynamic investment management style, adjusting asset allocations to our forward view of the relative risk and returns of various asset classes. The portfolios utilize a “fund of funds” strategy, investing exclusively with asset class specific ETFs and ETNs versus investing directly in individual stocks and bonds. We construct our core portfolios using the following five integrated levels of risk management: Target Allocation - seeking to establish Equity Risk; Wide Diversification - seeking to protect Allocation Risk; Position Limits - seeking to reduce Concentration Risk; Passive Indexes - seeking to minimize Security Risk; and Tactical Overlay - seeking to manage Economic Risk. We implement this process globally across multiple asset classes.

TAG Tactical Income (TI): TI is a global, unconstrained income portfolio. With a proactive investment style across a broad global asset class universe, it can seek the best income opportunities in any economic and interest rate environment. As such, it has the potential to earn high income while still providing prudent risk management.

TAG Tactical Conservative (TC): TC is designed around a targeted time horizon between 1-3 years, and a risk tolerance targeted to be 20% equity and 80% fixed income. This is delivered by investing in ETF’s representing various asset classes globally versus the more traditional use of stocks and bonds.

TAG Tactical Moderate (TM): TM is designed around a targeted time horizon between 4-9 years, and a risk tolerance targeted to be 60% equity and 40% fixed income. This is delivered by investing in ETF’s representing various asset classes globally versus the more traditional use of stocks and bonds.

TAG Tactical Growth (TG): TG is designed around a targeted time horizon of 10 plus years, and a risk tolerance targeted to be 80% equity and 20% fixed income. This is delivered by investing in ETF’s representing various asset classes globally versus the more traditional use of stocks and bonds.

TAG Tactical Equity (TE): TE is a global, unconstrained equity portfolio. With a proactive investment style across a broad global asset class universe, it can seek the best equity opportunities in any economic environment, while still providing prudent risk management.

RPg also offers the Principal Protected Investment Strategy (PIF): PIF is designed to provide a stable, protected investment. The Strategy consists of a portfolio comprised of unit investment trusts (“UITs”); and government-backed money market funds and bills (“Cash”), to manage cash needs. The fund targets a maximum portfolio allocation of 3% Cash, with the remaining 97+% invested in UITs.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Investors should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. There is no guarantee that an Investor will meet their investment goals.

While the methods of analysis help the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in these methods of analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments for tactical allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor’s review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts.

Following are some of the risks associated with the Advisor’s investment approach:

Market Risks

The value of a Client's holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks

The performance of an ETF is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs have a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of a mutual fund is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Unit Investment Trust ("UIT") Risks

UITs generally inherit the risks of the underlying securities in the trust, and are not appropriate for investors with the goal of capital preservation. UITs are not managed actively and are not sold to take advantage of market conditions. The risks associated with UITs may vary between trusts, depending on the underlying products. Client's should have a complete understanding of the products composing the trust prior to investing. Generally, complex UITs will have a number of risks including higher volatility and a greater potential for loss. UITs may not be suitable for all Clients. The strategies and risks of each UIT are fully outlined in the trust's prospectus.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

RPg values the trust Clients place in the Advisor. The Advisor encourages Clients to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider that the Client engages. On August 25, 2016, RPg Asset Management entered into a settlement with the SEC regarding an administrative proceeding involving the use of performance in advertisements, resulting from the Advisor's reliance on information provided by their sub-advisor. RPg no longer has a relationship with that sub-advisor and has taken measures internally to prevent such an issue in the future. The backgrounds of the Advisor and its Advisory Persons are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with the Advisor's firm name or CRD #155870.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC

RPg is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC ("RPg Holdings"), a Delaware limited liability holding company. Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC is a privately held partnership consisting of eight partners, one of whom actively participates in the business. Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC is also the parent to RPg Family Wealth Advisory, LLC (CRD# 158528), an affiliated registered investment advisor that provides comprehensive investment advisory and wealth management services, and RPg Insurance Solutions, LLC, offering insurance solutions which include Life, Group Health, Long-Term Care and Disability Benefits. Certain Advisory Persons of RPg are Advisory Persons of RPg Family Wealth Advisory, LLC (herein "FWA") as well as being representatives of RPg Insurance Solutions.

The affiliation between Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, RPg, RPg Insurance Solutions and FWA presents certain conflicts of interest and financial risks in that the revenues and expenses of the firms are comingled in addition to having shared clients.

RPg Family Wealth Advisory, LLC

RPg provides its strategies to an affiliated registered investment advisor, RPg Family Wealth Advisory, LLC (referred to as “FWA”). In this relationship, RPg typically provides these investment management services in a sub-advisory capacity, or at the recommendation of FWA.. At no time will RPg accept or maintain custody of an FWA Client’s funds or securities. All End Client assets will be managed within their designated brokerage account[s] or pension account[s], pursuant to the investment management agreement executed by the End Client. Please note that RPg manages assets for many End Clients of its affiliated registered investment advisor, FWA. These clients pay separate fees to RPg and FWA for the management and advisory services provided by each firm respectively. Certain Advisory Persons of RPgAM are also Advisory Persons of FWA.

RPg Insurance Solutions

RPg Insurance Solutions helps individuals, families and businesses find all lines of insurance solutions including Life, Group Health, Long-Term Care and Disability Benefits. The recommendation that a Client purchase an insurance product presents a conflict of interest, as the receipt of commissions may provide an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions to be received, rather than based on a particular Client’s need. Advisory Persons will receive separate fees from RPg Insurance Solutions. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by the Advisory Persons or the Advisor and are reminded that they remain free to purchase insurance products through other insurance agencies. Certain Advisory Persons of RPg are also representatives of RPg Insurance Solutions.

Additional Lending Relationships

RPg Holdings has received capitalization through equity investments made by partners, friends and a Client of RPg, as well as capitalization from retail lenders.

Neither RPg nor its Supervised Persons are registered (except as stated above), or have an application pending to register as a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant, commodity trading advisor (“CTA”) or an associated person (or registered representative) of the foregoing entities.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

RPg has implemented a Code of Ethics (the “Code”) that defines the Advisor’s fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with RPg (“Supervised Persons”). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding the Advisor’s duties to the Client. RPg and its personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of RPg Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that address ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of the Code, please contact the Advisor at (866) 726-5150 or via email at compliance@riskparadigmgroup.com.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

RPg allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. RPg does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. RPg does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

RPg allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that are recommended (purchase or sell) to Clients presents a conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, must be disclosed to Clients and mitigated through policies and procedures. As noted above, the Advisor has adopted, consistent with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers

Act of 1940, a Code of Ethics, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons of RPg have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by RPg requiring personal securities trades by its employees to be reviewed by the Chief Compliance Officer (“CCO”). The Advisor also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While RPg allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterward. At no time will RPg, or any Supervised Person of RPg, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

RPg does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for accounts. All assets must be maintained in an account at a “qualified custodian,” generally a broker-dealer or a custodian bank (the “Custodian”). The Intermediary and/or the End Client will typically select the Custodian for safekeeping of the accounts.

Where RPg does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend the Custodian to Intermediaries and/or End Clients for trade execution and/or custody services. End Clients are not obligated to use the Custodian recommended by the Advisor and will not incur any extra fees or costs associated with a Custodian not recommended by RPg. However, the Advisor may be limited in the services it can provide and the End Client may incur additional costs, such as trade-away fees and other transaction costs.

RPg will execute securities transactions within the designated account[s] at the Custodian, unless the End Client has established prime brokerage capabilities for the account[s] to authorize RPg to direct trading to other broker-dealers.

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with a broker-dealer/custodian in exchange for research and other services. RPg does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer-custodian. However, RPg does receive certain benefits in connection with its institutional relationships with the Custodians. Please see Item 14 below.

2. Brokerage Referrals - RPg does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing an account.

3. Brokerage Transactions - RPg will direct and place all orders for the execution of transactions through a qualified independent broker/dealer or the Client’s Custodian. RPg will arrange for the execution of securities transactions for the Strategy and End Client Account through a broker-dealer/custodian that RPg reasonably believes will provide best execution. In seeking best execution, RPg may consider, among other things, the execution capabilities of the broker-dealer/custodian, its reputation and its access to the markets for the securities being traded. The End Client shall be responsible for such brokerage expense as billed directly by the Custodian and/or any broker-dealer.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

RPg may or may not aggregate security trades with other accounts managed by RPg. RPg is authorized in its discretion to aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and other transactions in the same or similar securities or instruments of the same issuer or counterparty for other Strategies and End Client accounts of RPg or with affiliates of RPg. When transactions are so aggregated, the actual prices applicable to the aggregated transactions will be averaged, and the accounts will be deemed to have purchased or sold its proportionate share of the instruments involved at the average price so obtained.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

As part of adherence to the fiduciary standard described in Item 11 of this Disclosure Brochure, RPg may conduct periodic account reviews to ensure consistent and accurate reporting by the custodian. Furthermore, the firm's Investment Committee provides ongoing monitoring and oversight of the Strategies being managed within the End Client accounts. Suitability for Client accounts established through financial intermediaries are the responsibility of the respective financial intermediary.

RPg may provide additional information to Intermediaries for their End Clients upon request.

With respect to the management and delivery of RPg Strategies through Model Management and UMA platforms, the Models and the recommendations implicit in the Models, generally are not administered to the specific needs or circumstances of the Intermediary's End Clients. RPg does not typically have the advisory relationship with the End Client. As between RPg and the Intermediary, RPg is not responsible for making investment decisions for the End Client, or for determining if adherence to any RPg Tactical Strategy is appropriate for the individual End Client. RPg does not conduct account reviews specifically on behalf of the End Client when RPg does not have the advisory relationship with the End Client and the account is established through a financial intermediary.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Risk Paradigm Holdings, LLC

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

The Advisor has established an institutional relationship with Fidelity to assist the Advisor in managing Client account[s]. Access to Fidelity's Institutional platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The Advisor receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, the Advisor may receive the following benefits from Fidelity: receipt of duplicate Client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for Client order entry and account information.

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform - Schwab

RPg has established an institutional relationship with Schwab through its “Schwab Advisor Services” unit, a division of Schwab dedicated to serving independent advisory firms like RPg. As a registered investment advisor participating on the Schwab Advisor Services platform, RPg receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Schwab. Services provided by Schwab Advisor Services benefit the Advisor and many, but not all services provided by Schwab will benefit Clients. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Services that Benefit the Client – Schwab’s institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of Client’s funds and securities. Through Schwab, the Advisor may be able to access certain investments and asset classes that the Client would not be able to obtain directly or through other sources. Further, the Advisor may be able to invest in certain mutual funds and other investments without having to adhere to investment minimums that might be required if the Client were to directly access the investments.

Services that May Indirectly Benefit the Client – Schwab provides participating advisors with access to technology, research, discounts and other services. In addition, the Advisor receives duplicate statements for Client accounts, the ability to deduct advisory fees, trading tools, and back office support services as part of its relationship with Schwab. These services are intended to assist the Advisor in effectively managing accounts for its Clients, but may not directly benefit all Clients.

Services that May Only Benefit the Advisor – Schwab also offers other services to RPg that may not benefit the Client, including: educational conferences and events, financial start-up support, consulting services and discounts for various service providers. Access to these services creates a financial incentive for the Advisor to recommend Schwab, which results in a potential conflict of interest. RPg believes, however, that the selection of Schwab as Custodian is in the best interests of its Clients.

Compensation for Client Referrals

Certain Clients may be referred to the Advisor by either an affiliated or unaffiliated party (herein “Promoter”) and receive, directly or indirectly, compensation for the Client referral. In such instances, the Advisor will compensate the Promoter a fee in accordance with Rule 206(4)-1 of the Advisers Act and any corresponding state securities requirements. Any such compensation shall be paid solely from the investment advisory fees earned by the Advisor, and shall not result in any additional charge to the Client.

Item 15 – Custody

RPg does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of the Advisor’s fees. All Clients must place their assets with a “qualified custodian”. Clients are required to engage the Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct RPg to utilize that Custodian for the Client’s security transactions. Clients should review statements provided by the Custodian and compare to any reports provided by RPg to ensure accuracy, as the Custodian does not perform this review. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

RPg typically has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold on behalf of End Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the End Client. The granting of discretionary authority will typically be evidenced by the End Client's execution of an investment management agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority or the financial intermediary's execution of a sub-advisory agreement. All discretionary trades made by RPg will be in accordance with each Strategy’s written investment guidelines, objectives and goals.

RPg manages End Client portfolios on a discretionary basis based on the RPg strategies described herein. We will experience limitations placed on us by the specific investment policies and mandates as defined in the documentation of each specific strategy even though we do not have limitations placed on us regarding security selection, amount, instrument used, which broker dealer and/or custodian chosen to manage the investment strategies.

For the delivery of RPg Strategies in Model Manager Accounts, including Unified Managed Accounts, RPg does not make any investment decisions or exercise investment discretion. In these situations, RPg provides Model Methodology data, Strategy allocation changes, and/or recommendations to the Sponsor platform, where the Sponsors have the responsibility for implementing these recommendations.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

RPg does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Item 18 – Financial Information

As noted in Section 4.A Firm Information and Item 10 – Other Financial Activities and Affiliations, RPg is a wholly owned subsidiary of Risk Paradigm Group Holdings, LLC (“RPg Holdings”). RPg Holdings also owns RPg Family Wealth Advisory, LLC (“FWA”). RPg Holdings has received capitalization through equity investments made by partners, friends and a Client of RPg, as well as capitalization from retail lenders.

RPg is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the Advisor does not require prepayment of fees for services to be performed six months or more in advance. Neither RPg, nor any of its Advisory Persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy.
