MONTHLY INSPIRATION

Bradley Burke truly loves the outdoors. When he first enrolled into the CareerSource Pasco Hernando Youth Program, Bradley expressed a deep interest in one day attaining employment that would allow him to work in a more agricultural setting. Even though traditional high school did not end with a diploma, Bradley knew that attaining a high school diploma would lay the foundation needed for his future.

Career Coach Kelly Durante, along with Workforce Development Specialist Dominic Johnson, worked with Bradley to meet both his educational needs through the Penn Foster High School Diploma Program, as well as placing him into a paid internship with a local extension of Florida A&M University. Right from the beginning Bradley knew this was the environment he wanted. Each day is a mixture of the care and maintenance of local lands, livestock, and agricultural farming. This opportunity has afforded Bradley the chance to learn more about the agricultural industry, as well as create a foundation of employability and soft skills needed for his future in the workforce.

On December 15th 2022, Bradley joined his fellow classmates in walking across the stage to receive his high school diploma as part of the last graduating class of 2022 under the CareerSource Pasco Hernando Youth Program!

We are so proud of your success Bradley, and we can't wait to see what you will accomplish next!
