Life. Love. Legacy.™

Dear Legacy Family,
As we step into a brand-new year together, my heart is full. The holiday season brought so much joy to our community, the laughter of families visiting, the beautiful choirs filling our halls, the special activities and Christmas celebrations that made our building feel even more like home. Seeing so many joyful faces was truly one of the greatest gifts of the year.

Yet, I know as the hustle and bustle fades and the decorations come down, this season can also feel a little quiet, even lonely at times. We go from singing carols and gathering in celebration to settling into winter's stillness. Sometimes that contrast can be difficult and tug at the heart. But just like the rhythms of nature, this quieter season has its purpose too. Winter may look calm on the surface, but beneath the ground, important things are happening, roots strengthen, new life prepares, and creation quietly gets ready for what's next. In many ways, our hearts do the same.

Scripture reminds us of this beautiful truth: "The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases; His mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning." (Lamentations 3:22-23) And, "For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven." (Ecclesiastes 3:1)

As we leave the celebrations of last year behind and enter this season of renewal, we can take comfort in knowing that God's faithfulness hasn't changed. His presence is just as close in the quiet as it is in the joyful noise.

And just as winter always gives way to spring, we, too, can look forward with hope. Spring will bring new life, new joy, and even more beautiful blooms than the year before. This new year is another chapter, one we get to write together. A chapter filled with purpose, connection, growth, and the blessings God has already prepared for us.

Thank you for the light you bring to our community, not only during the holidays but throughout every season. I am grateful for each one of you and honored to walk alongside you. May this new year bring peace, renewed strength, and abundant joy. Happy New Year, and may God bless you richly as we journey into this season of renewal.

With heartfelt gratitude,

Sierra Cannon

RESOLUTION SOLUTION Haven't quite settled on a New Year's resolution yet? No worries...You can use one of ours!

- PRACTICE SAYING, "WHEN I WAS YOUR AGE," WITH DRAMATIC PAUSES AND MYSTERIOUS WINKS.
- REFER TO MY WALKER AS MY "CHARIOT" AND INSIST UPON DRAMATIC ENTRANCES.
- START A NEW RUMOR EVERY MONTH ABOUT HIDDEN SECRET PASSAGES IN THE BUILDING.
- DEVELOP A SIGNATURE PHRASE FOR WHEN I FORGET SOMEONE'S NAME: "OH, THERE YOU ARE!"
- CALL MY MORNING WALK "A ROYAL PROCESSION" AND EXPECT THE NEIGHBORS TO SALUTE.
- LET MY FAMILY TEACH ME HOW TO USE A SMARTPHONE. PRETEND TO FORGET EVERYTHING NEXT WEEK.

Celebrating a Life of Compassion, Family, and Rich Heritage: The Story of Nancy Erwin

Nancy Erwin grew up in a house that never felt empty. With three brothers, two sisters, and parents who set the bar for kindness and generosity, life was full—of noise, of laughter, and of lessons that stuck. Thanks to Gene and Grace Webb, Nancy learned early that togetherness was the heart of everything worth having.

Adventure was a way of life. Nancy and her siblings spent hours riding bikes along wooded trails, their laughter echoing through the trees. There were evenings at ball games with her father, summer road trips crammed into the family car, and stories swapped on the porch as the sun went down. Some of Nancy’s favorite memories, though, come from watching her mother in quieter moments—especially around Christmas, when Grace would find ways to help families who needed a little extra. Nancy grew up absorbing that example: giving quietly, and often, without expecting anything in return.

Teenage years brought a love of theater at Englewood High School, and there was never a shortage of cousins or stories at the sprawling family reunions that filled her calendar. But everything changed on Senior Day at Tennessee Wesleyan College. There, Nancy was introduced to Bob Erwin—the young man she’d been set up to meet on a blind date. Bob had already heard she’d be there, and when he spotted her, he nodded and announced, “She’ll do.” Not too much later, those words turned into “I do,” and a lifelong partnership began.

After high school, Nancy set off to Belmont College. Even when illness brought her home—eventually diagnosed as a seizure disorder from a childhood injury—her steady relationship with Bob didn’t waver. He graduated from Tennessee Wesleyan, and the two married, ready to start their life together.

Settling in Bradley County, Nancy and Bob made a home that thrived on love, learning, and faith. Bob began teaching and soon took on new roles, rising from classroom teacher to principal and finally to School Supervisor in the Bradley County school system. His dedication to education became part of the family’s legacy. Nancy devoted herself to raising their children, Scott and Lisa, throwing herself into their interests—whether she was carting Scott’s art supplies to shows and carving events, or cheering Lisa from the bleachers at cheerleading competitions. Their home was filled with creativity, movement, and unconditional support.

When the kids grew up, Nancy found a new passion in antiques. She opened a booth at the local mall and spent weekends traveling to shows from Knoxville to Atlanta, finding treasures, sharing stories, and keeping her love for history alive. At home, she poured her energy into restoring their 200-year-old house—a labor of love that drew together her eye for design and her respect for the past.

Nancy never lost her knack for hospitality. Gardening, decorating, planning celebrations—she welcomed friends and family with open arms, making sure every gathering left people feeling like they belonged.

Today, Nancy brings that same warmth and spark to Legacy Village of Cleveland. She can often be found with a good book, at the bingo table, or holding her own in a game of cornhole, always with a smile and a spirited sense of fun. Her kindness, her stories, and the history she carries light up every room she enters.

Legacy is fortunate to count Nancy Erwin as part of the community—a neighbor who reminds everyone what a lasting difference generosity and joy can make.

Live Until You Don't

Chaplain David Riggs

Mark Twain once said, "The two most important days of your life are the day you were born and the day you find out why." This quote touches on two important concepts as we step into a new year: existence and purpose.

Now, the existence part of that statement is out of our control. But I'd like to remind you what the Bible says about our existence: "You knit me together in my mother's womb. I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made" (Psalm 139:13-14). Regardless of the circumstances surrounding your birth, you are no accident. God wanted you here.

My parents had decided after six kids that they didn't want any more. They planned, after the sixth, to have a surgical procedure that would prevent further children. My dad was on the road on December 13, 1947 when my brother was born and didn't make it home in time to sign the necessary paperwork. One year and eleven months later, on November 2, 1949, David Allen Riggs was born. God wanted me here. God wants you here!

So now that our existence is settled, that leaves purpose. Purpose felt easier when I was younger.

The milestones of school, family, marriage, and career kept me moving steadily into the future. But now, what is my purpose? Did I use it all up in my youth, with none left for my old age?

I read an interesting story this year about a man named Fauja Singh, who died at the age of 114. He was a retired Indian farmer who lived in Canada. The fact that he lived to be 114 was amazing in itself; however, that wasn't the most intriguing thing about this man, known worldwide as the "Turbined Tornado." Mr. Singh was the oldest man ever to run and finish a full marathon, at the age of 100. He started running at 89 to deal with his grief and depression after the death of his son.

Purpose can reveal itself in so many ways as we grow older. Somewhere between running a marathon and drifting along with a feeling of purposelessness is a whole host of possibilities. A smile given, a word of encouragement spoken, or a simple thank you at the right time can change a life.

I believe I'd like to stick around and see what God can do with my life if I give Him the chance. I'm here at this stage of life because God wants me here. I am eternal until God is finished with me.

Guided by Service, Grounded in Family:
Meet Robert Bryant Wilson, III

For Robert Bryant Wilson, III, every chapter of his life feels stitched into the land and community of Bradley County. Born in Speck Hospital in downtown Cleveland, Tennessee, Robert holds the proud distinction of being the oldest of three children raised by Robert and Patsy Wilson. The Wilson family marked their days on a dairy farm in Walker Valley. From his earliest years, Robert pitched in alongside his father and grandfather, learning both the daily lessons of farming and the deep bonds of family. School brought its own achievements. Robert was an honor graduate at every step: first at Charleston High School, then Cleveland State Community College, and Tennessee Wesleyan College, before earning his law degree from the University of Tennessee School of Law. Even then, the family’s ethic of hard work traveled with him.

His legal career began with William K. Fillauer, and over the years, their partnership (Fillauer & Wilson, later Wilson Law) became an institution in Southeast Tennessee. Robert’s practice spanned thirty-eight years before being joined by his son, Tim, in 2015. With the firm now named Wilson Law, the family legacy grew even stronger. By the time Robert retired from private practice in January 2020, he had faithfully served the region for forty-three years. He especially cherished the friendships and conversations he shared with the many clients who came through his door—those connections were the heart of his work.

Outside of his private practice, Robert answered the call of public service. In 1978, he was appointed Charleston’s City Judge, a post he would hold with distinction for forty-six years until his retirement in 2024. He loved serving the Charleston community, whether presiding over municipal matters or representing the city at state and national judicial trainings, including time at the National Judicial College in Reno, Nevada. Early in his legal career, he also served as County Attorney for Polk County Government and its School Board.

It was during those years Robert’s personal life took a wonderful turn—an introduction to Sherry, the daughter of Polk County’s Superintendent of Schools, Margaret Smiley. Three months after they met, Robert and Sherry married, beginning a shared journey that brought them two sons, Rob (married to Angela) and Tim (married to Mari Beth). Their family grew to include four grandsons: Bryant, Carter, Wyatt, and Wesley. Robert finds endless joy in the company of his sons, daughters-in-law, and grandsons, relishing every chance to spend time together.

In 1987, Robert and Sherry purchased his grandmother’s farm—a living piece of family heritage. Robert found both work and delight there: riding his red tractor across the fields, maintaining the River House and barns, or shaping wood from the land’s own oak and walnut trees into beautiful furniture. On quiet afternoons, he could often be found with a fishing rod in hand, sharing the lake with his sons and grandsons. The farm has become a beloved gathering place for friends and family alike.

His passion for fishing sometimes called him further—from spontaneous road trips to the Florida panhandle to days spent deep sea fishing on a charter boat after closing up his law office. But no matter how far Robert’s travels took him, there was never any place he’d rather return to than Bradley County and the rhythm of life on the River Farm.

Robert’s faith is rooted just as deeply. Since childhood, he’s attended Charleston Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Like his great-grandfather, William Moore, he has served as an Elder—and today, his Aunt Mary Tim Burgin and his son Rob serve as Elders as well.

A lifelong resident of Bradley County, Robert has welcomed the world’s breadth but always finds his greatest contentment in coming home. In every facet of his life—son, brother, husband, father, attorney, city judge, craftsman, and elder—he has built a legacy of service, kindness, and quiet strength that still shapes the community he loves.

JANUARY’S NONSENSICAL NONSENSE

In January’s land of snow socks and stew,
A hat rode a sled and the sled hollered “moo!”
The broom led a dance with a spoon full of beans,
And a mitten sang opera (whatever that means).
By midnight, the doorknob was snuggled in bed,
While the teacup and lamp wore their scarves on their head.
No one could explain it—not even the chairs—
But January nonsense was loose in the air!
