May, 2026

Yá'át'ééh,

Boy, has April flown by, and we are preparing for the business of the summer. There is much excitement about what is going on right now. We have just completed our annual church survey and looked at so many things. First and greatest, we are thanking God not for the number of people we have in attendance, but for the percentage of people we have engaging in FBF, Family Bible Fellowship. This is similar to traditional Sunday school or small groups. At Journey Church we have over 80% of our church family attendance in both FBF and worship. Praise the Lord! That is so cool. It has always been our passion to not just reach people with the Good news of the Gospel, but to also disciple people to be fully-devoted followers of Jesus. The story sets that we use for discipling and teaching are really meeting the need, and we look forward to another year of telling the Creator's story.

Next, we are thanking God for mission teams. Wow, it is so exciting to see what God has in store for us this summer! We have a team scheduled for the first week of May. That team will make some much needed repairs to give Journey Church a face lift. (new coat of paint, etc) One of the men from Church Rock is known as "the best drywaller in the county". He has been working for two days getting the place ready for the team to come and paint. Then, when June gets here, it will be a 7-week marathon of mission teams and ministry. Please remember these teams in prayer.

I want to thank you for supplying all the gear for the Search and Rescue. I passed my pack inspection and was called out already. That gear really came in handy, and I appreciated the supplies. Michele and I are both almost fully supplied. Not only did I have an opportunity to help a person get out of a jam, but I also got to pray with this person. I also learned that I am not as young as I used to be. I want to thank you for praying for Michele's issue with her foot. She is beginning to recover and is getting around much better. We are looking forward to doing this ministry together.

For the rest of the year I would like you all to pray about “who is your ONE”. For many of us who have been a part of Southern Baptist Life, this references the ONE whom you know needs to hear about Jesus. I would like to spin off this concept “who is your ONE”. Who is your ONE that you think would like to come alongside BTG ministries to bring the good news of the Gospel to First Nations people? Even as society, the economy, and ministry partners change, the needs of this ministry also continue to grow and change. There are so many ways to partner with us. We are always in need of new prayer partners: people we can call for prayer 24hrs a day, 7days a week, as we face the attacks of the evil one. We are also always in need of those who will come alongside us here with boots on the ground, both long-term and short-term, and can get in the trenches with us. And finally, we always need financial partners who can come alongside us financially and help meet the growing needs of this ministry. We employ a principle to “Ask God and tell his People”. We got this inspiration from Mike Brennan. So, who is your ONE with whom you would like to share this ministry? If you have that One, I will send you information and material, and we will see what we can get arranged.
