1. CLMA AGM - THURSDAY NOVEMBER 30

The CLMA will be holding its AGM at Centre Ag Services (and Via ZOOM) 9am.

All welcome to attend.

Current members will be sent the ZOOM connection closer to the day. If you are not a financial member, but wish to attend via ZOOM, please let me know.

2. CARBON EDGE WORKSHOP- AZRI, 28-29 NOVEMBER

With so much confusion and complexity around the carbon space, the workshop provides information in practical terms (i.e. what does it all mean, what is relevant to me and what can I do within my business?). The purpose of the pilot workshops is to seek feedback from different regions. For this reason, the workshop will be offered at a sponsored price of $275pp for producers.

For registrations and further information, please see the attached PDF.

Make sure you take advantage of the Early Bird offer!

3. FUNDING OPPORTUNITY FOR SOCIAL NETWORKING PROJECTS

The FRRR has opened a round of funding from the Aust Government's Future Drought Fund to develop and deliver one-off events or initiatives to strengthen community networks and capabilities that build drought preparedness. Note- these are not environmental grants but for social activities.

If you have any ideas for social projects that you would like to see the CLMA / Desert Poppies in town or based at your own local club (think Kulgera, Hart Range etc), please let me know this week. Applications close Nov 14.

LANDCARE NT NOTICE OF AGM.

Some testimonials from our Regenerative Agriculture Workshop held in September.

It is important to showcase many forms of land use and managements styles to producers so that they are equipped with tools to then choose the best for their own situation.

Fantastic insight into how to improve land & pasture condition with livestock we have already on the property.

This workshop was highly engaging and thought provoking. It demonstrated how big a change to a production system can be achieved in a short time.

Great workshop for anyone passionate about running a sustainable grazing business.

This course covered key, crucial components for any Ag related business. It was a comfortable friendly learning environment. A casual but effective learning approach spread over a good duration.

A holistic view of land management that embraces nature, rather than works against it. An important workshop to engage new management perspectives and possibilities.

This was a worthwhile workshop which effectively communicated the importance of pastoral management across arid-semi arid environments.
