ARIZONA'S TOMBSTONE MONUMENT RANCH RIDE

An easy 1.5 hour drive from Tucson and you are instantly whisked away to the early 1800s. Days are spent exploring the high desert landscape surrounding Tombstone, Arizona.

OK, we have to say upfront that in her younger years, Stacey was a HUGE Val Kilmer fan. But even with that, this ride is literally like being in the movie. Really, it's like walking on set – complete with a saloon, a bordello, a hotel and the requisite “main street” with ample hitching posts! And, all situated with the incredible Dragoon Mountains as your back drop – every way you turn is stunning.

The ranch is located just outside the town of Tombstone but don't worry, you have ample opportunity to walk the main street of Tombstone during your stay! The ranch offers varied daily riding, including specialty rides like the Beer and Cheetos and local history ride; plus there are daily fast rides where trotting and loping are incorporated so no need to worry it will all be “Ho Hum walking.” When not riding, continue your wild west experience with shooting, archery or hiking to see the petroglyphs or mines that gave this town its first settlers.

And no week is complete without riding into Tombstone proper, tying up your horse and exploring the museums and stopping for a drink at Big Nose Kate's (the girlfriend of Doc Holliday). Open year round – it's a perfect place no matter when you can travel!

Weekly SCHEDULE

Daily Riding Catering To All Ability Levels

Riding in and around the ranch offers a fun and varied time - through the scrub, up into the mountains and even into the real life town of Tombstone. Varied daily riding is offered in the morning and afternoon, and as a working cattle ranch, there are also chances to join in with cattle work in the arena.

When not riding, there are plenty of other things to do including archery, shooting, hiking, and exploring the historic area to find ancient petroglyphs and abandoned mining claims.

Terrain:

The dramatic landscape surrounding the ranch was and in many ways still is the real wild west and our rides will transport you there. Ride by ancient Indian Petroglyphs, abandoned railroad grades and trestles, forgotten mines and old prospector's monuments, all in the spectacular high desert landscape of the Sonoran Desert. We offer riding daily with a set weekly schedule. New guests will take a slow walking ride first, and then can move onto more advanced rides with trotting and loping if you demonstrate you can safely control your horse during our fast ride test.

Be sure to sign up for activities at the front desk.
