A WORD FROM THE PASTOR

The first reading for Mass this Sunday is from the third chapter of the first book of Samuel. It is the call of Samuel. The young man Samuel is ministering in the temple with Eli, his wise mentor. "Temple service" required them to sleep in the temple during the days they were on duty. The story of the call of Samuel takes place during a night while Eli and Samuel were sleeping in the temple.

We are told that the LORD called Samuel, who answered, "Here I am." Samuel ran to Eli and said, "Here I am. You called me." But Eli said: "I did not call you. Go back to sleep." After repeating this dialogue a couple more times with Samuel not understanding what was happening, Eli, a wise spiritual director, tells Samuel: "Go to sleep, and if you are called, reply, Speak, LORD, for your servant is listening." The Lord called out to Samuel again and he did as Eli had instructed him. That was the beginning of a close relationship between Samuel and the Lord.

This story which we hear this Sunday was one of the Scripture readings for my Mass of Ordination almost 47 years ago. I chose it not only because a vocation is about the Lord calling us, but also because we have to listen to the voice of the Lord in order to respond to his call. For all of these many years, my constant prayer has been: "Speak, Lord, your servant is listening."

No matter what our vocation may be (wife, husband, mother, father, teacher, nurse, technician, salesperson, and so many more), it is rooted in a call from the Lord. Even more fundamentally, our vocation as Christians finds its foundation as a response to a call. Our daily response to our vocation presupposes that we have adopted a stance of listening to the Lord.

Most of us are good at speaking to God in our prayer but not as good at listening. How do I begin to listen more in prayer? How might God speak to me? Certainly, one way that God speaks to us is through God's Word in the Bible. Praying the Scriptures means listening for God's message for me.

St. Ignatius of Loyola encourages us to look for God's presence and message in the daily events of life. He advises us to pay attention to ourselves and our relationships and to listen for God's presence in our lives so that we respond to that presence throughout our day. God can also speak to us through creation, through wise people, through the Church, and so many other ways.

The starting point and the most necessary element is to adopt a stance of listening. "Speak, Lord, your servant is listening."

In one Heart,

Fr. Ron

Un saludo de parte del Diácono Miguel

“Juan el Bautista con dos de sus discípulos, y fijando los ojos en Jesús, que pasaba, dijo, ‘Éste es el Cordero de Dios’. Los dos discípulos, al oír estas palabras, siguieron a Jesús.” (Evangelio Juan 1:35-42). Este domingo iniciamos el Tiempo Ordinario del año litúrgico. Es muy posible que todas las decoraciones de Navidad se han guardado. Hemos escuchado de la gran historia del nacimiento del Salvador del Mundo, el Mesías, Jesucristo. ¿Y ahora qué hacemos? ¿Qué podemos hacer para mantenernos alertas a las cosas de Dios en nuestras vidas diarias? Crear un espacio de silencio (un santuario), todos los días, cada mañana, en su break o en la hora de la comida, en la tarde y antes de dormir, para meditar cómo Dios se nos presentó durante el día. Dios nos busca siempre, nunca estamos solos. Dios nos habla por medio de su Palabra, también por medio de otras personas o circunstancias del día. Dios nos habla de muchas y diferentes maneras, pero el reto para nosotros es “mantenernos abiertos” para escuchar cómo nos habla. Nos encerramos porque pensamos o creemos que Dios sólo nos habla de “una manera”. Pero no hay que limitar a Dios a nuestra mente humana. A veces pensamos que no tenemos tiempo para crear ese “espacio de silencio” con Dios porque llegamos cansados del trabajo y después de cumplir con las obligaciones familiares de la tarde no nos queda tiempo. ¿Pero es cierto eso? Porque si encontramos tiempo para mirar los videos de Instagram o Facebook, o chatear con otras personas. El Señor nos habla y nos busca, porque desea de llenarnos de su amor y paz. Hermana y hermanos ¿Cómo responderemos esta semana a la voz del Señor?

Juan dijo, y los discípulos siguieron

Juan 1, 35-42

Juan el bautista tuvo una misión específica, concreta: ser el precursor de Jesús. Él lo anunció, preparó el camino para que siguieran al Señor. Juan el Bautista es un ejemplo preclaro de lo que debería ser la vida de todo cristiano: alguien que conoce y anuncia a Cristo, y él mismo queda en un segundo plano. Juan impartía catequesis pero no se predicaba a sí mismo, predicaba al Señor. Y cedía su lugar para que sus catequizandos siguieran a Jesús, algo que sucedió cuando Juan les mostró quién era el Señor. Hermosa tarea la de acercar personas al conocimiento de Cristo, preparar el camino para que muchas, muchas personas lo conozcan y lo sigan, permanezcan con Él.

Saint John Eudes on the Mass

This is how St. John Eudes spoke about our participation in the Eucharist. Writing in the 17th century, he wanted us to know that we all offer the Mass together:

"As soon as you leave the house to go to Mass, you should realize that you are going not just to attend or watch, but actually to perform the holiest and most divine, the noblest and most important actions on earth..."

"Indeed, all Christians being one with Christ, the Sovereign Priest, and sharing in his priesthood, since Holy Scripture calls them priests, are entitled not only to assist at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, but also to participate in the priest's action, that is to say, to offer with him and with Jesus himself the sacrifice which is offered to God on the altar."

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Church returns to Ordinary Time and the color green. During this season we celebrate the life and ministry of Christ and learn the meaning of living as his disciples. This Sunday's gospel passage shows how disciples seek the company of Jesus. Jesus is referred to as Rabbi, Teacher, Messiah, Christ, Lamb of God. These titles express the mission of Christ Jesus, the Son of God. Getting to know Jesus is the first step in following him.

Reflect: What does it take to be a follower of Jesus?

Act: How can we follow Jesus as a family?

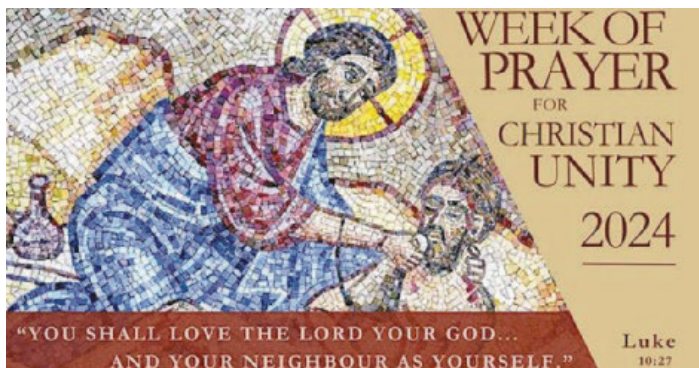

Pray: Jesus, guide our words and actions so that others may get to know you as the Christ.

Second Reading

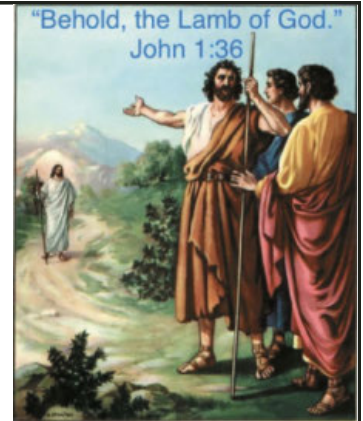

1 Corinthians 6:13c–15a,17–20

Paul reminds the Corinthians that their bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit.

Gospel Reading

John 1:35–42

John the Baptist recognizes Jesus as the Lamb of God, and Jesus receives his first followers.

Background on the Gospel Reading

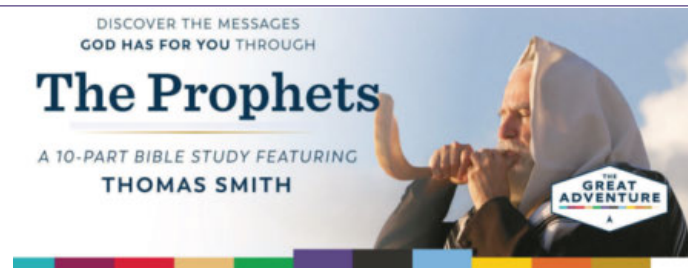

Although the liturgical season of Ordinary Time begins this week, today's reading continues with the celebration of the Baptism of the Lord, which concludes the Christmas season. Today's reading from the Gospel according to John immediately follows John the Baptist's testimony about Jesus and his identification of Jesus as the Lamb of God. Having been baptized by John, Jesus begins to gather followers. The first followers sought out Jesus because of the testimony and witness of John the Baptist.

We are familiar with the title that John the Baptist uses for Jesus—the Lamb of God. We hear it weekly at the fraction rite during Mass. For those who heard John the Baptist, however, this title recalled key themes from the Old Testament. It alludes to the paschal lamb offered as a sacrifice when God freed the Israelites from slavery in Egypt, the event that is commemorated by the Jewish Passover celebration. The designation also recalls the prophet Isaiah's description of the suffering servant of Israel. In using this name for Jesus, John the Baptist predicts Jesus' passion and death and the new interpretation of Passover that will begin with Jesus' Last Supper.

We learn in today's reading how Jesus' first followers were gathered. The first two, Andrew and another man, were followers of John the Baptist. After hearing John's testimony, they became followers of Jesus. During their time with Jesus, the details of which are not specified, Andrew and the other follower came to believe that Jesus was the Messiah. Andrew then brings his brother, Simon, to Jesus. Immediately, Jesus gave Simon a new name, calling him Peter, which means "rock" in Greek. The renaming of Simon to Peter is reported in all four of the Gospels.

In the exchange between Andrew, the other disciple, and Jesus, we see an example of the usual pattern for first-century Jewish rabbinical schools. Jews sought out rabbis and established themselves as disciples of a particular rabbi. Jesus appears to have been unique in that he sought out individuals, inviting them to be his followers. In the passage that follows, John's Gospel tells us how Jesus took the initiative in calling Philip and Nathanael.

Jesus asks Andrew and the other disciple, "What are you looking for?" This is a telling question, and one that we might often ask of ourselves. John the Baptist testified to Jesus' identity, the Lamb of God, using the framework of the Old Testament. Andrew, Simon, and the other first disciples were looking for the Messiah, whom they also came to know as the Son of God. What do we look for and what do we find in Jesus?

Prophets: Messengers of God's Mercy "God sent prophets at critical times to call the people back to their covenant relationship. Prophets proclaimed the consequences of continued sin, called people to repentance, and declared God's faithful love. They also spoke of the future to shed light on current events and to reveal God's plans and purposes."

Ruah Adonai - Breath of God Bible Study is open to men and women. No previous bible study experience needed. Our mission is to know, to love and to serve God. We meet Wednesdays from 8:30 am to 10 am in the Parish Hall to view an engaging video presentation followed by a lively small group discussion and fellowship.
